Interclass Relay January 25

In preparation for the coming interclass relay races, about twenty men have been reporting daily at 4.30 o'clock on the Old Campus for practice. The work, which is primarily to get the men in condition, consists of practice in starting and taking the corners after which the men are sent several laps around the track. The interclass meet will be held Saturday, January 25, at 2 o'clock on the board track. 1913 will compete against 1914 and the sophomores will oppose the freshmen. Each member of the two winning teams will receive numerals.

Prof. Clarke to Lecture

Prof. S. F. Clarke will deliver an address

tomorrow evening at 8.15 o'clock in the Thompson Biological Laboratory on "Some of the Forest Trees of California." The lecture is to be given before the Botanical Section of the Lyceum of Natural History. The entire class in Biology 5 will attend as the lecture has replaced a required hour in the course, but the meeting will also be open to all those interested.

Final Lecture on "Japan"

Prof. Droppers gave the last of his series of mission study talks on "Japan" last night at 7.30 in 17 Jesup Hall. In his lecture, Prof. Droppers covered the period extending from 1600 to the coming of Commodore Perry in 1853.

Dr. Garfield to Be Away

President Garfield returned today from Northampton where he gave an address last evening before the Men's Club of the Congregational Church on the subject, "A Question of National Good Faith". He expects to be in Cleveland for business purposes over the week-end, and will probably return next Tuesday.

Boston Alumni to Banquet

The forty-sixth annual dinner and reunion of the Williams Alumni Association of Boston will be held at the Exchange Club, Thursday evening, February 6, at 6.30 o'clock. President Garfield '85 will speak and Prof. Bliss Perry '81 will be toastmaster.

SPRINGFIELD TO MEET VARSITY SEVEN TODAY

VISITORS LACK PRACTICE

Williams Forwards Show Weakness In Team Work In Recent Scrimmages

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Weston Field rink, the varsity hockey team will meet the team representing the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College in the third game of the 1912-1913 season. For the visitors, this will be the first contest of the season and, as their practice in common with that of most other institutions has been handicapped by lack of ice, no estimate can be made of their strength. It is expected, however, that Coach G. B. Allcock with four veterans as a nucleus will turn out a team similar in strength to the one of last year.

Varsity Holds Practices on Ice

The cold weather during the past few days enabled the varsity to hold scrimmages Thursday on Leake's Pond and yesterday on the Weston Field Rink. In the practice Thursday afternoon, which was hindered by the roughness of the ice, the varsity lacked teamwork and the wings especially proved poor in accurate passing. C. F. Cutler '15 and H. H. Cutler '16 showed up particularly well in the series, and scored three goals each.

The Weston Field Rink was in excellent condition for yesterday's practice. After the usual preliminary work, the varsity was put through a long hard scrimmage, in which it opposed successively a freshman and a scrub team. In the first half, neither seven was able to score, owing to the lack of teamwork at critical moments; but in the period in which the varsity opposed the scrubs, the first team improved materially and won 4-3. Captain Michael and Gillette were the strongest players for the first team, and the two Cutlers for the scrubs.

Twenty-five Men to Compete

Twenty-five freshmen have entered the competition for the 1916 editorial positions on the Record board, which started yesterday and will close on March 12. Others who desire to compete are requested to hand in their names before 10:00 o'clock this evening. Following is the list of competitors: Auguey, Camp, Conway, Faunce, Geddes, Griffin, Haight, Hawkins, Holt, Hurd, H. E. Jones, Jr., Kennedy, Kepner, King, Miller, Newborg, Oakley, Pattou, H. H. Russell, J. J. Russell, Salmon, Shattuck, Wells, R. W. Williams, Wood.

Alumni Cup for Freshman

Mr. Seeley wishes to call the attention of the members of the class of 1916 to the competition for the Philadelphia Alumni Cup. This is annually awarded to that member of the freshman class who, in the opinion of a committee has shown the greatest progress in the various branches of athletics. Only those men are eligible who have at least an average grade of C in their studies and whose attendance in Physical Training has been regular. All freshmen competing will be examined by Mr. Seeley shortly before the Easter recess.

TO RACE WESLEYAN

Many Entries in B.A.A. Games—1913 Season Opens Feb. 8

At the twenty-fourth annual indoor invitation handicap meet to be held under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association on Saturday night, February 8, in Mechanics Hall, Boston, Williams will open the 1913 indoor track season by entering the varsity relay team against Wesleyan. In last year's race, the Purple team composed of Simson '12, Flanders, Lyman '13 and Brodie '15 was never headed on the 1560-yard course.

Although no very definite arrangements have as yet been made regarding the entries by the managers of the B. A. A., Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Fordham, Harvard, Holy Cross, University of Maine, Tufts, University of Vermont, and Yale have signified their intentions of competing in the games. Several well-known athletes including Thorpe of Carlisle are booked to appear in the individual events, but the Williams representatives have not been decided upon.

Weekly Rehearsals Held

Rehearsals are being held on Monday evening of each week in the Congregational Church for the concert to be given by the Mendelssohn Choir in Grace Hall on Friday, February 14. The Swan and the Skylark by A. Goring Thomas and A Choral Fantasia on Lohengrin arranged by Wagner are to be given at this time. The choir will be assisted by the following well-known soloists: soprano, Miss Marie Stoddard of New York City; contralto, Mrs. Amyel Baker of Bennington; tenor, Mr. William Wheeler of New York City; baritone, Mr. Arthur H. Turner of Springfield. Miss Stoddard who sang with the Mendelssohn Choir in their presentation of The Creation on April 11, 1911 is experienced in oratorio singing, and stands well in New York musical circles as a soloist of the highest order. Mr. Wheeler is also well known as a talented singer, and Mr. Turner has become prominent in Springfield as an organist and baritone singer. The choir will probably be assisted by the Mendelssohn Orchestra.

Dr. Paul Van Dyke In Pulpit

Rev. Paul Van Dyke, of Princeton University, will occupy the college pulpit tomorrow morning. Dr. Van Dyke received the degrees of A. B. and M. A. from Princeton University in 1881 and 1884 respectively, and the degree of D. D. from Williams in 1898. In 1887 he was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry and has since held pastorates at Geneva, N. Y., and Northampton, Mass. He was made professor of modern European history at Princeton University in 1898 and holds that position at the present time. He is the author of two books, The Age of Renaissance and Renaissance Portraits.

Dr. Van Dyke will address the regular meeting of the Williams Christian Association tomorrow evening on the subject, "I am the Living Bread."

G. G. C. Makes Plans

Chairmen of the various committees of the Good Government Club met yesterday afternoon in 17 Jesup Hall to discuss the work of the society up to date and to attempt to map out plans for work from now until Easter. New lines of activities are to be taken up and the chairmanships of several committees will change hands. Everything discussed by the chairmen of the committees will be laid before the whole club at a meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall in order that definite action may be taken. The club will probably have a speaker to address a meeting next Thursday evening.

PLAYERS CHOSEN FOR ALL-INTERCLASS TEAM

FOUR CLASSES REPRESENTED

R. V. Lewis and Hay Preferred for Guard Positions—Dempsey Picked as Captain

In selecting an "All-Interclass" basketball team, the Record has attempted to pick men on the basis of their contribution to team play as well as for individual brilliancy. No consideration has been given to a contestant who did not participate in at least half the games.

The team follows: Dempsey '15 (capt.), Lefferts '14, forwards; Schreiber '16, center; R. V. Lewis '13, Hay '15, guards. Slight difficulty was experienced in choosing two forwards, for Lefferts and Dempsey who won places on last season's picked five displayed consistent ability throughout the series. Each scored the same number of baskets; but Dempsey, despite his light weight, excelled in defensive play. Langford '15 and Thompson '13 deserve rank in the second class.

On the other hand the selection of a center proved less easy. Patterson '15 put up a strong game in the early part of the series but did not play in the final games. Failure to play in half the games disqualified Swain '15 from consideration, although he showed to advantage at the close of the series. Narten '13, one of the most experienced of the class team players, and Schreiber '16 were considered the two strongest candidates for the position and the place was finally awarded to the latter, who showed marked improvement as the series progressed.

The most difficult task was the selection of the guards, for there was little room for choice between R. V. Lewis '13, Deely and Hay '15. Lewis, with the remarkable record of seven baskets to his opponents' two, was finally awarded first choice. On account of superior team play and scoring ability, in which latter respect he led the class team players, Hay was preferred to Deely for the other guard position, although the latter put up an excellent defensive game and figured materially in his team's scoring.

Dempsey '15 was chosen captain of the "All-Interclass" team, for his contribution to team play was more marked than that of any other class team player. His individual playing was good, he consistently furthered the team work of the sophomore five, and his qualities as a leader appeared no inconsiderable factor in the success of his team.

Cercle Francais Hears Mr. Cru

An informal meeting of the Cercle Francais was held at the Chi Psi Lodge Thursday evening. Mr. J. N. Cru gave an interesting and instructive talk on "The Election of the Next French President", in which he mentioned the three principal candidates. Following an informal discussion of the several platforms, refreshments were served.

VARSITY IMPROVES

Basketball Team Displays Form In Game with Scrubs

Varsity basketball practice during the past week has shown a marked improvement in every department of the game. The guarding has been closer and the men have become more accurate in shooting baskets. Training table which commenced Wednesday at the Cosmo, consists of the following men: Captain Freeman, Page, Victor '13, and K. H. Hodge '15.

Yesterday afternoon the work consisted of a long scrimmage between the varsity and the scrubs in which the first team men scored twenty-one points to sixteen for the seconds. Hodge, who had been unable to play all week on account of an injury to his ankle, displayed splendid form in shooting and during the scrimmage succeeded in making five tallies from the floor. The team work manifested by the varsity in the latter half of the game was good and several times, baskets were shot immediately after the ball had been tossed up at center. Although the guarding of the first team was at first weak and the scrubs secured an early lead, the varsity soon braced and clearly outplayed the second team for the remainder of the period. Following is the line-up of the two teams: Varsity—r. f., Captain Freeman, l. f. Hodge, e., Victor, r. g., Hay, Narten, l. g., Page; Scrubs—r. f., Brown, l. f., Dempsey, e., Garfield, r. g., Deely, l. g., Lefferts.

Instructive Lecture on Trees

Using as his topic "Some Trees of California", Prof. S. F. Clarke, in an illustrated lecture before the Lyceum of Natural History last evening in the Biology lecture room, discussed the character and environment of the redwoods of the Pacific Coast. These trees, he said, ranging from 400 to 800 years old, are the tallest on the American continent, rising to a height of 250 feet and averaging from 15 to 20 feet in diameter. In four respects the redwood tree is better protected than the ordinary species. It is strongly rooted to the earth and is practically never affected by the severest storms; it is infected by few or no insect pests; it does not offer favorable conditions for fungus growth; and its thick bark forms an almost impenetrable guard against fire.

Announcement was made of the election of Edwards '13 to the presidency of the organization, and notice was also made of the fact that the Lyceum, now in its eighty-seventh year, is the oldest society of its kind in existence.

Coming Concert for Clubs

On Monday evening, the Combined Musical Clubs will render their fourth concert of the 1912-1913 season at 8:00 p. m. in the Pittsfield Y. M. C. A. The men will leave Williamstown by special car at 5:00 o'clock. Dinner will be served at the Wendell Hotel before the concert, and the clubs will leave for Williamstown at 11 o'clock. The program differs slightly from that offered at previous performances.

Manager Swift is also trying to arrange for a trip during the Easter recess, on which four concerts will be given and which will end with a performance in New York City. Besides this, plans are under way for a concert to be given at the Hotel Kimball in Springfield at the time of the New England Interscholar track meet. Nothing is definite as yet in either of these cases.

Mrs. Wahl In Charge of Tea

Mrs. G. M. Wahl was in charge of the third freshman tea which was held Thursday afternoon in the Common Room. The patronesses were Mrs. Garfield, Mrs. Maxey, Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. Ferry, and Mrs. Galbraith.

INDEX OF CATULLUS OF VALUE TO SCHOLARS

BOOK BY PROF. WETMORE

Work Characterized by Critic as Complete and Accurate—Fills Long Felt Want

Professor Wetmore's Index Verborum Catullianus (Yale University Press, 1912) fills a long felt want. Before this we have had no index to Catullus that was absolutely complete and accurate, and an index, to be of the greatest service, must have both these qualities.

This Index to Catullus, besides other uses, is of the greatest value to scholars who are working on this author, for by its help the worker can trace a particular word in all its uses and meanings, and is enabled, also, through a series of indices, to trace the flavor and connotation of whatever word he wishes. This opportunity is of the greatest importance to the scholar who is busied with literature.

To the makers of dictionaries, who are striving to trace the growth and development of the meaning and use of words, such an Index furnishes material without which they cannot do their work with the fulness and accuracy that such work demands.

Does Virgil use epithets of color in preference to epithets of sound? How in this respect does Virgil compare with Catullus, with Horace? These questions, and many others, perhaps of more importance to critics and to students, can be definitely solved only with an accurate Index, or else at the expense of labor, which this Index largely lightens.

With the help of two Indices, those of the Doering-Naudet edition of Catullus (Paris, 1826), and of the Delphin edition (Paris, 1685), I have carefully tested Mr. Wetmore's Index, and find it absolutely accurate—a fact that was assured by the name and reputation of the maker.

Of the helpfulness of the Index for text criticism and for other uses I shall—as Cicero says—"make no mention!" One suggestion I offer. When the works of an author are brief enough to permit, would it not be well to add a word or two of context? This addition—which for instance we find in the Doering Index to Catullus—would keep the Index within bounds in the case of an author of no great length, and would add much to the convenience of the user.

We are, however, fortunate to have a Teacher and a Press to do such a labor of love which can bring financial reward to neither. All praise be to Professor Wetmore for his long-continued, painstaking, and extremely useful work, both in Virgil and in Catullus, for the service of Latin Literature.

Democracy vs. Convenience

When the Commons was established in the fall of 1909, the administration decided to employ professional waiters for the primary purpose of putting the dining hall on a self-supporting basis. The following quotation is taken from these columns under date of September 27, 1909:

"Student waiters were not considered for the Commons because of experience with them in both the Harvard and Yale Commons dining halls. As a matter of pure business it was found that better food and better service could be given for less money to their patrons by hiring servants whose service and responsibility did not end with the serving of the meal. In both of those places it was found that the dining hall was never self-supporting when student waiters were used. As the Commons dining hall was started for the benefit of the students alone and was meant merely to be self-supporting, the administration wished to take advantage of the experience of the other college commons dining halls to put in on this basis from the start."

At the time it seemed to many undergraduates that this policy on the part of the administration, although based on economical principles, was unfortunate because it decreased the opportunities for the Williams student to earn his way through college. In answer to this criticism, "President Garfield has authorized the statement that he will see personally that any student thrown out of a position as waiter owing to this new dining hall shall receive employment so that his college career will be in no way endangered by a lack of finances". This statement answered current criticism satisfactorily. This is the early history of the student waiter proposition.

The status of this question has changed considerably since the fall of 1909. The original purpose of instituting professional waiters has not been accomplished,—the Commons has netted a loss of over $1,000 annually. President Garfield's statement was only of temporary application and the original objection to professional waiters remains unanswered. It is the opinion of the present manager of the Commons that the system of student waiters is fully as economical as that of professional service and he prefers the former system. This opinion is based upon actual experience at Dartmouth and has caused Dr. Garfield to look with more favor upon the non-professional plan. The President has therefore expressed his willingness to allow this question of student waiters to be settled by the Commons Club, and the club at a recent meeting decided against the general proposition. Two main reasons apparently accounted for this action: in the first place, the men at the Commons believed that the institution of the new system would cause inefficiency and inconvenience in the service; secondly, that this first reason would cause a falling off in attendance at the Commons and that it would prevent the fostering of a true spirit of fellowship there.

As far as the general proposition is concerned, we cannot feel otherwise than that it is absolutely sound; in fact the matter affects the democracy of the college to such an important extent that we trust the Commons Club will hasten to reconsider their previous decision. The proposition affects the democracy of the college because it concerns the opportunities offered for students to earn their way through college. Williams in many places is termed a rich man's college, this we all know. Some may claim that this statement is not true; others may support it; but the fact remains that the outlook for the freshman who attempts to find work in Williamstown is none too bright and it is the opinion of many that his opportunities are decreasing rather than increasing. This situation is recognized by at least some of the college authorities and without doubt certain men are deterred annually from coming to Williams because of this situation.

No undergraduate wants Williams to be considered a rich man's college in any sense of the word. The opportunity at the Commons for the man who is earning his way is of considerable importance and it should not be denied for purely selfish reasons. It is difficult to show that student waiters have caused undue inconvenience at other colleges and it is certainly true that the opportunities for work in Williamstown are much fewer than in many other college towns. Every effort should be made by the Commons Club to foster a spirit of true fellowship and to insure efficient service but it should not in any sense be self-centered. It should be the most democratic and broad minded social organization in college.

On the face of the entire proposition, it would seem that the members of the Commons Club should disregard the possibility of slight inconvenience in their service for the sake of inducing a larger enrollment in the college, of actually decreasing the grounds on which Williams may be called a rich man's institution, and of providing more opportunities for the scholarship student who is attempting to earn his way.

Busy Year for Infirmary

Statistics taken from the report of the Infirmary for the last college year show a record of 219 patients with an average number of five in the house per day and an average stay of four days. 17 was the maximum number of invalids housed at one time. Outside of recesses, there have been but two days when the building was free from patients. January proved the rush month with 67 admissions, and September found the students in the best condition with only two entries in the Infirmary register. Ten contagious cases were treated, 14 X-ray treatments were given, and two major and ten minor operations were performed, of which two were on the Faculty, four on outside patients, and six on students. One death was recorded during the year. 40 patients were from the class of 1912, 47 from 1913, 69 from 1914, and 48 from 1915.

Swimmers Show Improvement

Swimming practice has been held regularly during the past week and the candidates have shown decided improvement under the direction of Doan '12 and Captain Eyre. The next practice will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the gym.

FINAL TALK ON PERSIA*Cochran '14 Discusses Religious Life in Illustrated Lecture

Cochran '14 concluded his series of four mission study lectures on Persia Thursday evening in the Jesup Hall auditorium. His subject, "Where West Meets East", was exceedingly well presented and the audience, although small, was enthusiastic. The talk was illustrated by stereopticon views, many of which portrayed personal experiences of the speaker. Mohammedanism, he said, the ruling religion of Persia, brings sorrow, unhappy homes, and inure lives to its followers. Their ideas of heaven and hell would appear ludicrous to us, were we not acquainted with the terrible anguish which these miserable people suffer in their acts of devotion and penitence to their god.

Medical work in Persia is responsible for some of the most wonderful results of any form of missionary effort. Urumia Hospital, with which the speaker's father was for many years intimately associated, has done much toward bringing the Christian life and religion closer to the natives. In this connection also, the work of the mission press bears an important part. The printers are Nestorians who have been trained in the work by the missionaries. A Christian newspaper, school books, and many other volumes for the use of the people are published.

NO. 70

S.T.S. VICTORIOUS OVER VARSITY SEVEN PURPLE DEFEATED, 2-0

Game Characterized by Loose Playing—Both Teams at Disadvantage on Poor Ice

In a hard fought game, characterized by a total absence of team work, the hockey team of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College on Saturday afternoon defeated the Williams seven on the Weston Field Rink by the score of 2 to 0. The warm weather prevented a representative exhibition of hockey, for during the greater part of the game, the condition of the ice was such as to make accurate play impossible. In the first half, the advantage was clearly with the visitors, and a higher score was prevented only by the consistent work of the Williams goal-keeper. The Purple team, however, braced in the second period and kept the puck almost continually in the visitors' territory, although they were unable, for the most part, to force it within striking distance of their opponents' goal because of a stubborn defense. The coating of slush that accumulated on the ice after a few minutes of play rendered any consistent team work impossible. On the offense, Bowers of S. T. S., was the best player, although Swain and Rogers showed up well for Williams. On the defense, Captain Cochrane of S. T. S. played a steady game, and Captain Michael broke up many attacks directed at the Williams goal.

During the first five minutes of the game, play centered in the middle of the rink, neither team having any apparent advantage. For the rest of the half, however, the visitors forced the puck into Williams' territory and on several occasions the Purple goal was saved by the accurate parries of Rogers. Clark, of S.T.S., scored the first goal of the afternoon by a quick pass from scrimmage after ten minutes of play. No further scoring occurred until fifteen seconds before the end of the period, when Bowers of S. T. S. tallied on a glancing shot from behind the net.

At the beginning of the second half, Rogers replaced Curtis at right wing and H. C. Cole went in at goal. The Williams team during this period offered a more concentrated attack but their goal shooting was weak and ineffectual. After twelve minutes of rough scrimmage, Gillette made a shot that barely missed the cage. The remaining three minutes of the game were marked by random shooting which resulted in no score for either team.

The line-up and summary:—

Six Houseparties Planned

During the week-end following the mid-year examinations, six fraternities will hold houseparties. Of these, Sigma Phi, Delta Upsilon, Delta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta will entertain from Friday, February 14 to Monday, February 17; and the party at the Kappa Alpha Lodge will begin on Saturday, lasting through Monday. The plans of the Delta Delta Fraternity for a house-party are as yet indefinite.

1915 BASKETBALL TEAM—INTERCLASS CHAMPIONS

FIRST NUMBER THURSDAY

Talented Artists In Opening Recital of Thompson Course

The Thompson Course will open Thursday evening at 8.15 o'clock in Grace Hall with a song and harp recital by Mrs. Edith Chapman Gould, soprano, and Madame Annie Louise David, harp. Mrs. Edith Chapman Gould is a singer who has already established herself as a favorite in Williamstown from her two appearances with the Mendelssohn Choir in the performance of Handel's Messiah and the celebration of the Mendelssohn Centennial in February 1909. She has appeared with many of the most important choral organizations of the country, such as; the Handel and Haydn Society of Boston, the Worcester Festival, and the Apollo Club of Chicago. Enthusiastic press comments declare Madame Annie Louise David a thorough musician and a skillful harpist who should be ranked among the virtuosos. Coupled with an executive proficiency that enables her to dispose easily of formidable difficulties, are a musical instinct and a graceful style that enhance the charm her playing exerts.

Warm Weather Favors Relay

Practice for the class and varsity relay teams is progressing rapidly with about twenty-five men reporting daily on the board track. Preliminary work in practicing starts and taking the corners is followed by from four to six hard laps for each man and, with weather conditions especially favorable for outside work, considerable progress has been made along the line of developing new men. The training table will start some time this week. All freshmen are especially urged to come out for their class team as only a few have reported thus far.

Episcopal Conference at Brown

The Annual Conference of Churchmen in New England Colleges will be held this year at Brown University, beginning with a reception at 8.00 p. m. on Friday, February 21, and lasting through the following Saturday and Sunday. All Williams Episcopalian churchmen are cordially invited to attend. As usual board and lodging will be free.

WILLIAMS CLUBS AT PITTSFIELD Y. M. C. A.

Combined Musical Organizations to Give Fourth Concert of Season Tonight

At eight o'clock this evening the Combined Musical Clubs are scheduled to make their fourth appearance of the year in the Pittsfield Y. M. C. A. As announced in the last issue, the men will take a special car from Williamstown at 5.00 o'clock this afternoon, arriving in Pittsfield in time for dinner at the Wendell Hotel, and will return directly after the concert.

The complete program for this evening's performance is given below:

COLLEGE MEETS AT 7.45

To Elect Three Cheer Leaders and Discuss Fire Brigade

A college meeting will be held at 7.45 this evening in the Jesup Hall auditorium for the purpose of electing three leaders to hold office for the remainder of the college year. These men are to be elected from the following six candidates nominated by the senior class at their meeting last Friday: Campbell, Dearborn, Hewlett, Hotchkiss, Lasell, and M. H. Smith. The reorganization of the fire brigade, which was established last year will be considered at this meeting. At the senior meeting last week, the class voted to increase the size of the smoker committee from three to five members, owing to the large amount of work involved. The following were elected to this committee: Banks, Dickinson, Heywood, M. H. Smith, and Vary.

Hockey Series Opens Friday

On Friday evening at 7.45 o'clock the first of the series of interclass hockey games will be played on the Weston Field rink, 1913 meeting 1914, and 1915 playing 1916. A postponement of the contests from Thursday was due to the Thompson course recital. The halves of the two games will alternate as in the interclass basketball series, and will be of 12 minutes duration. It has been arranged for the varsity to practice with the freshmen today and the seniors tomorrow. Wednesday and Thursday are as yet open dates.

Prof. Wild in Lecture Tomorrow

Prof. Wild will deliver a lecture on "Wanderings Near Rome" in the Jesup Hall auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Classical Society. The lecture, which was before announced as scheduled for the Thompson Biological Laboratory, will be illustrated by lantern slides from photographs taken by Prof. Wild while abroad last year.

Basketball Seats on Sale

Reserved seats for the Rhode Island State basketball game next Saturday will be on sale in the managers' office, Jesup Hall, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings from 7.30 until 8.30 o'clock.

FAVORABLE COMMENT ON WELLS PRIZE ESSAY ABLE ECONOMIC RESEARCH

Work of W. S. McClellan 1908 Throws Light on Smuggling in Colonial Times

Smuggling at the Outbreak of the Revolution.
David A. Wells Prize Essay. Department of Political Science of Williams College. Moffat, Yard and Co., New York.

It is an old observation and yet one that needs reiteration that the vices and virtues of men of any historical epoch must be interpreted in the light of the beliefs and standards of the times. The purpose of this book is to give the proper setting to the practice of smuggling carried on extensively by some of the most worthy leaders of the American Revolution. No one can read the evidence as here set forth without coming to the conclusion that the men of the Revolutionary epoch were right in holding that smuggling was far more justifiable in the colonies than were the laws that forbade it. More than that, the author shows that had the colonists obeyed literally the laws passed by Parliament to control the trade of the colonies, the result would have been disastrous not only to some of the colonies but to the mother country herself. This was the view dispassionately held and afterward stated by Franklin, John Adams, and other Americans who took part in the Revolutionary struggle.

A casual reading of certain histories may give to the lay reader a far different impression. For instance, David A. Wells in a footnote to one of his chapters in "Recent Economic Changes" says:

"The colonists were a nation of law-breakers; nine-tenths of the colonial merchants were smugglers. One quarter of the whole number of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were bred to the contraband trade. John Hancock was the prince of contraband traders, and with John Adams as his counsel, was on trial before the Admiralty Court in Boston at the exact hour of the shedding of blood at Lexington, to answer for half a million dollars' penalties alleged to have been by him incurred as a smuggler."

This statement standing by itself is entirely misleading and Mr. McClellan's book, describing the conditions and course of smuggling, in the colonial period has contributed to a better understanding of the subject.

Mr. McClellan rightly lays the greatest stress on the Molasses Act of 1733 which imposed heavy and practically prohibitive duties on rum, spirits, sugar, and molasses when imported into the colonies from a foreign (non-English) port. The Act was probably instigated by the wealthy absentee owners of Jamaica plantations who wished to secure a monopoly for their products. Living as they did in London, they could readily secure a hearing for their own interests from the ruling politicians of England. This Act was intended to exclude the products of the Spanish, Dutch, French and Danish West Indies from entering colonial ports—an impossible restriction on the trade of the colonies, as it then existed. Probably not a Governor of any Province, nor a customs officer on the entire seacoast recognized the binding character of this law. It was so easily and frankly evaded that the officers of those days imagined it was never intended to be enforced.

"It is a question," says Mr. McClellan, "whether the term 'smuggling' is a proper one to apply to the evasions of the Molasses Act that occurred previous to that time, inasmuch as with the exception of a brief period of activity about 1760 custom houses ignored or winked at the importations from the West Indies."

When after the Seven Years War the English government suddenly took meas-

Fire Brigade Again

By the appointment of the night watchman one of whose most important duties is to give an early alarm in case of fire, the college authorities have undertaken to give to the community a greater feeling of security during the nocturnal hours. For years attempts have been made to inaugurate a method of organizing the students into an efficient brigade which could insure protection in case a fire really got under way on or near the campus. This movement made considerable headway during the last college year. In the fall of 1911 Mr. Stetson offered to provide apparatus for such an organization if undergraduate sentiment truly backed the movement. A committee appointed by President Shous reported favorably upon the sentiment backing the project and after a delay of six months another committee was named to formulate plans for the organization of such a brigade. Plans were duly made and were approved by President Garfield but no permanent organization was effected and nothing has been done in this connection during the present college year. Mr. Stetson stands ready to provide the equipment today on his original terms. We believe that undergraduate inefficiency alone is responsible for the present unknown status of the project. Before proceeding anew with the matter, however, college sentiment will be tested again and we trust that a favorable action by the undergraduates at the college meeting tonight will be followed by efficient committee work which will actually bring the brigade into existence.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unaltered if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

Unwarrantable Interference
To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:

In reference to your editorial entitled "Democracy vs. Convenience" it seems to me that the proposition in question was one for the Commons Club to dispose of and was its affair alone. The Commons Club represents a decided minority here and it seems to me that there is no reason why it should sacrifice its convenience for the sake of what I think at the least a questionable "democracy". In no other student bodies here are sacrifices made for the sole reason of aiding others. Nor is the name of a "rich man's college" necessarily an ill byword, or the policy of increasing the number of students registered the best for the college. To give an education to those who are registered would be a fitter one.

But whatever may be said for or against student waiters it seems to me that it is unfair that a body like the Commons Club which heretofore as a body has received such slight consideration should suddenly be brought into prominence by being chid for dealing with its private affairs in its own way.

Very truly,
Wolfram Day

New Light on Democracy

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:

Pending location to your editorial entitled "Democracy vs. Convenience" may I venture to advance the opinion that when democracy ceases to be convenient a more comfortable substitution might be made in aristocracy, communism, or anarchy? The chief raison d'être of democracy has always seemed to me to be its boasted furtherance of the convenience social, governmental and economic, of the masses. The Commons Club in quashing the proposal for student waiters has confessed its intention of furthering its own convenience. It has also intimated that its action was further democratic in its refusal to degrade socially any of their number to the position of servants. Obviously, a more apt title and a more legitimate subject for your editorial, Mr. Editor, would have been "Convenience versus Mr. Garfield's Proposal".

Pray, cannot the Commons Club manage its own affairs?

If the ends of democracy were to be furthered by the employment of student waiters, there seems to me no reason why the Fraternities as well as the Commons should not be appealed to that they might employ the confessedly inefficient service of student waiters. The practice and propaganda of democracy need not be the function solely of the Commons Club and the Williams Record. But inconvenience stands in the way? Well then, why all this 'pother'?

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, we would say that many mothers, and those chiefly resident in the Middle West, send their sons to Williams largely because it has the reputation of being a rich man's college.

Yours, etc.,
John S. Edwards

[To any who are still pondering the proposition of student waiters, we would recommend a thoughtful perusal of Mr. Edwards' communication as it unintentionally but inherently advances the strongest argument in favor of the proposition which it aims to attack. If many other undergraduates in Williams College feel that a student who waits upon them at table is socially their inferior, we admit our absolute inability to diagnose popular opinion.]

In connection with the argument that the Commons Club is urged to take a step from which others recoil, it is interesting to note that student waiters have been and are employed by fraternities and other boarding houses. In the position of the largest student boarding house in Williamstown, the only dining hall officially conducted by the college, and therefore the social organization which should be the most democratic and broad-minded, the Commons must recognize that its affairs, in so far as they affect general democracy, are matters of public concern.

Sons of rich men should always be welcomed at Williams but not to the exclusion of the sons of poorer men, —mothers in the Middle West to the contrary notwithstanding. So long as wealth is not a requisite for admission, Williams will never justly be termed a "rich man's college". As Mr. Day points out, quality rather than quantity should be the aim of our institution in the disposing of its educational wares, but he has perhaps neglected to consider the present state of our finances, and the existence of fifty vacant rooms in the dormitories.]

Favorable Comment on Wells Prize Essay

ures to enforce this Act and the rest of the Navigation Acts, there was immediate and bitter opposition finally leading to revolution and independence.

Mr. McClellan has brought out the point of view of the colonists and its justification with great clearness. His essay shows a good knowledge of secondary authorities, it is well constructed and most readable. It would, however, have added to the popular interest in Mr. McClellan's essay had he made his narrative somewhat more concrete. A descriptive account of a single case of contraband trade including the investment and risks, together with all the human factors entering into the venture would have done much to give a more vivid quality to his story. Such an illustration could unquestionably have been found in the abundant literature on this subject.

One or two criticisms may be made. For instance, on page 45 he says:

"This method of comparing colonial values [viz. commodities like sugar, not produced in England, as against colonial goods, like fish, which competed with English production] was in vogue at the time of the passage of the Molasses Act and continued until about 1763 when England began to esteem her manufacturing interests more highly."

This statement is certainly open to doubt. The colonial system always regarded the colonies as a market for manufactures as well as the source of certain raw products. It was simply a question of emphasizing a particular product at a time, much as under our own protective system sometimes cotton, sometimes woolens, sometimes iron and steel has the ear of the public. Had Mr. McClellan put the date twenty years later, say 1783, there might have been more ground for his statement, but by that time the war was over.

In the introduction, not written by Mr. McClellan, an attempt is made to connect the colonial legislation with other modern efforts to increase the powers and authority of the State. But this effort is based on a false analogy. Much of the legislation of the colonial era was legislation in the interest of a privileged class. Notably was this true of the Molasses Act and the colonists believed it to be true of the Stamp Act and the other attempts of the British Parliament to enforce taxation upon the colonies. Such legislation always ought to fail and we trust always will fail. The State is the property of no man or class. It is an instrument of the common welfare. Hence the moral indignation of the colonists against the Acts of the mother country and hence the modern cry for publicity in government affairs. To connect the old mercantile legislation of the 18th century, or at least most of it, with the social legislation of modern times conceived in the interest of those who would otherwise be a burden to the community is to miss the point entirely. We should not be victims of a vain doctrinaire on these large questions of social justice. "One swallow does not make a summer" and the opinion of one German professor, who is quoted, in opposition, does not offset what may fairly be regarded as a great movement of civilization observable not only in Germany but in every civilized country including our own.

Varsity Defeats Drury Five

During the past three days the varsity basketball team has steadily improved both in team work and shooting. On Monday and Tuesday practice consisted mainly in shooting and passing, after which the varsity lined up against the scrubs in practice games, in which the varsity proved superior in guarding and shooting. Hodge '15 and Freeman '13 made the most consistent shots for the varsity while Garfield '16 showed up well for the scrubs.

On Wednesday afternoon the varsity played the Drury High School five of North Adams in a practice game. No difficulty was experienced in overcoming the High School team although it put a hard consistent game. Accurate shooting and close guarding featured the work of the varsity. The scrubs were put in in the second half and in a few minutes gained an advantage over the High School five. The score in the first half was Varsity 34, Drury 10, in the second half Scrubs 24, Drury 10.

Younger Boston Alumni Dine

Dr. Henry Lefavour and Prof. Edward H. Lewis '96 spoke on the general topic of "Williams' Needs" at a dinner held under the auspices of the younger Boston alumni in Louis' Cafe last evening. The younger men in the Boston Alumni Association hold these dinners monthly as a means of discussing the problems and policies of the college, and extend an invitation to all Williams alumni in or about Boston to attend.

CHEER LEADERS CHOSEN

College Votes to Establish Student Fire Brigade

At the college meeting held Monday evening in Jesup Hall, Campbell, Hotchkiss, and Smith '13 were chosen college cheer leaders for the present season from the list of six men nominated by the senior class last week. Nightingale '13 made the motion that, "Beginning with September 1913, the six men nominated by the senior class be required to lead cheers at one game before being voted upon by the college". It was voted to lay this motion on the table until the next college meeting.

During the balloting, President Schauffler read the rules drawn up last Spring by the fire brigade committee and explained the purpose and necessity of the organization. He also announced that the offer of Francis Lynde Stetson '67 to provide the necessary fire house and apparatus was still open. The college voted its approval of the establishment of the brigade, after which Schauffler '13 appointed the following seniors to act as an executive committee: Bower, Heywood, Prindle, Smith, Young, and the President of the senior class ex officio. These men will meet this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall to elect a chief from their number and appoint men from the various fraternity houses and dormitories to serve on the brigade.

PROF. SMITH BEGINS CIVIL WAR SERIES

Explains Reasons for Failure of Union to Conquer South in Three Years of War

Under the general subject "Some Aspects of the Civil War", Prof. T. C. Smith in his lecture on Tuesday afternoon in the Common Room, discussed why the North was not successful against the South in the first three years of the Civil War. At the opening of the struggle, the speaker said, the advantage would seem to lie almost entirely with the North. In population, in wealth, in industrial development, in military organization, in administration, the United States far exceeded the Confederacy. Yet with the close of the third year of the war, no serious impression had been made on the Confederate States as they were organized in 1861. The causes of the failure on the part of the Union to coerce the seceded States were four. In the first place, the southern States were well protected by the nature of their country, by bad roads, and by the ignorance of the invaders concerning the country. Secondly, the Northerners lacked the training, the reckless daring, the courage to face death, and the sense of obedience with which the poor whites of the South were imbued. The third and most important reason for the failure of the North was the inefficiency of President Lincoln and of Congress in the administration of military affairs, in contrast to the remarkable ability and judgment of Jefferson Davis. And lastly, the general policy of the Federal campaigns lacked strategy. The lecture was brought to a close with a few striking instances of the inefficiency of the Northern administration.

Prof. Smith will give his second lecture on "Some Aspects of the Civil War" in the Common Room next Tuesday afternoon at the usual time. He will explain the reasons for the ultimate success of the North.

Increase of Army Discussed

On Monday evening at 7.20 a well attended meeting of the "Logian"-Technician Congress was held in 17 Jesup Hall. A bill introduced by Keller '15 to increase the United States Army was lost in both Houses of the Congress after a general discussion. The meeting closed at 7.45 on account of the college meeting.

TWO GAMES TO OPEN CLASS HOCKEY SERIES

CONTESTS TO BEGIN AT 7.45

1913 to Meet 1914 and 1915 to Play 1916 on Weston Field Rink Tomorrow Evening

Tomorrow evening at 7.45 o'clock 1913 will meet 1914 and 1915 will play 1916 on the Weston Field hockey rink in the first games of the interclass series. As previously announced the halves of the two games will alternate as in the interclass basketball series, and will be of 12 minutes' duration. Captain Michael has appointed captains for the different teams as follows; Banks for the seniors, Moody for the juniors, Michler for the sophomores, and Cutler for the freshmen, and under these men practice has been held regularly during the past week with the varsity. Banks '13, Garfield '14, King '15, and Cutler and Reynolds '16 have all played especially good hockey. The seniors will meet the varsity in a final scrimmage this afternoon. As yet no definite line-up for the games can be given but the teams will probably start off as follows: 1913: R. V. Lewis, r. w., S. Phillips, l. w., Babson, c., Banks, r., Hubbell, c. p., Hewat, p., and Dearborn g.; 1914: Potter, r. w., Headley, l. w., Moody, c., Bartram, r., S. F. Smith, c. p., Hummewell, p., and Davis, g.; 1915: Remer, r. w., Hubbell, l. w., Cannon, c., King, r., Eells, c. p., Conklin, p., and Michler, g.; 1916: Leake, r. w., Hurd, l. w., Cutler, c., Coleman, r., Reynolds, c. p., Payson, p., and Stickney, g. Captain Michael will referee all games.

Varsity Plays Class Teams

Varsity hockey practice has been held for the past three days on the rink, the ice being in fair condition. Twenty-minute scrimmages against the class teams resulted in well contested contests. On Tuesday a team composed of freshmen and sophomores, by consistent team-work scored three goals to the varsity's two, but in the other scrimmages the latter had little trouble in maintaining a safe lead. The team work was slightly better than that shown in previous practices, but the passing was for the most part inaccurate. The chief fault lay in the failure of the forwards to follow back after shots, but the skating and shooting was much improved.

No Skating Before Practice

The hockey management requests that there be no skating on the rink previous to varsity practice in the afternoon, and that the class teams arrange for their times of practice with either Jones '13 or Captain Michael. This arrangement is necessitated by the absolute need of smooth ice for varsity practice.

CLUBS WELL RECEIVED

Varied Program Pleases Large Audience at Pittsfield

Before a large and appreciative audience the combined Musical Clubs rendered an effective program of eleven numbers last Monday evening in the Pittsfield Y. M. C. A. Although all three clubs acquitted themselves creditably, the glee club was most appreciated in its rendition of "The Tragic Story". The mandolin club played the "United Nation March" with accuracy and dash, and the banjo club did particularly well in the "Alabama Shuffle". Both of the vaudeville artists accompanying the clubs, Austrian '14 and Porter '15, deserve especial mention. The former in his role of a monologist was repeatedly encored while the latter as a colored singer and dancer proved very entertaining to the audience. Illness prevented Garfield '14 from singing the bass solo called for by the program.

Starting from Williamstown at 5.00 o'clock the clubs made the trip to Pittsfield by special electric car and, leaving Pittsfield at 11.00 o'clock, returned by the same means. Dinner was served before the concert at the Wendell Hotel.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE GIVEN BY PROF. WILD

Talk, "Wanderings Near Rome" Proves Both Interesting and Instructive

Before a large and appreciative audience, Prof. Wild gave an illustrated lecture on "Wanderings Near Rome" in Jesup Hall Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Classical Society.

After an introduction by Hart '13, the president of the society, Prof. Wild explained why he had chosen to speak about places near Rome. Rome is the center, the fusing point of things both past and present, and often to escape this turmoil he had gone to the Campagna. There he found quiet and a chance to get a more correct perspective.

In the first part of the lecture, the speaker led his audience out through the city proper, showing important scenes along the Appian Way to the southeast. Views of Tombs, massive columns, and many scenes characteristic of ancient Rome and the Etruscans illustrated the places explained. From the Alban Hills and Montecavo, circling southward, he proceeded to where the historic town of Alba Longa stood upon its rock-walled lake. Such wonders of beauty as the Alban Lake and the Lago de Nemi, a mirrorlike sheet of water nestling in what was formerly a volcanic crater and in which there was found the historic state barges of Tiberius and Caligula were among the number of pictures shown by the lecturer.

Turning back towards the north east, Prof. Wild next led the audience to Tusculum and further northwards to far-famed Tivoli, a city noted throughout the world for its beauty and picturesqueness. Scenes of Horace's life such as the supposed "Fons Bandusia" and that author's historic Sabine farm enhanced the charm of the country through their personal note.

From here another jump was taken and the scenes dealt with that predecessor of Rome, Veii. Old buildings and fortifications stood witness of that city's former power. One more skip to Ostia, lying at the mouth of the Tiber, a town remarkable for excavations now being carried on there, almost completed the circling of Rome.

But Prof. Wild then led the way northwards to Civita Castellana and Mount Saepta, views of which concluded the lecture.

Fourth Tea Today

The fourth freshman tea under the auspices of the W. C. A. will be held in the Common Room, Carrier Hall, this afternoon from 4.30 to 6 o'clock. A number of faculty ladies will be in attendance.

TWO VETERAN FIVES DANGEROUS RIVALS

WESLEYAN 1913 FAVORITE

Dartmouth Likely to Push Varsity Hard for Season's Basketball Honors

Prospects point to a close race between Dartmouth, Wesleyan and Williams for the supremacy of the New England colleges in the 1913 basketball season. From present indications, all of Williams' opponents should have strong lives that will push the varsity to the limit, but Dartmouth and Wesleyan seem by far the most dangerous rivals. Below are outlined the prospects of the seven teams on the Williams schedule.

Rhode Island State—18 men, including Captain Tully, Lennox and Aspinwall of the 1912 five, reported to coaches Cobb of M. A. C., Maynard of Wesleyan, and Wessels of the Michigan Athletic Club for the first practice on November 25. Victories over Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and Pratt Institute by the scores of 27 to 11 and 35 to 31, respectively, were followed by a decisive defeat by Wesleyan, 56-23. Yesterday the five met New Hampshire State College at Kingston.

Union—D. Beaver, J. Beaver, and Houghton of last year's team are the only veterans of a squad of 20 which began practice December 2 under the direction of Coach Dawson of Princeton. Rochester beat the home team in the opening game of the season last Friday by the close score of 26 to 25. The five will meet Colgate tomorrow and play a return game with Rochester on Saturday.

Colgate—Five veterans—Captain Hammond, Johnson, Launi, Rich and Swartout—are on the squad of fifteen which has been under the direction of Dr. E. C. Huntington, the head coach since December 1. Before the first Williams game, contests are scheduled with University of Toronto, Rochester and Union.

New Hampshire State—Victories over St. Anselm's College, M. I. T., and Dean Academy comprise the record of the New Hampshire State five to date. Coach Eberle found four veterans—Captain Jones, Cane, Sanborn, and Thompson—in the squad of 25 which reported for first practice December 2.

Dartmouth—At the opening of the season, Coach Mullen declared, "Although the team starts the season with five veterans, there are few men sure of their positions." The team defeated Princeton on December 19 by the score of 27 to 22. Since that date Captain Gibson has been unable to practice with the five, which was defeated by Pennsylvania last Saturday, 20 to 17, and by Cornell Monday, 30 to 17. Fouling was largely responsible for the latter defeat.

Wesleyan—With all five regulars of last year's championship team back, Wesleyan seems the most dangerous rival of the Purple for 1913 honors. Two victories out of three practice games on a Christmas trip, and decisive defeats administered to Yale and R. I. S. by the respective scores of 29 to 17 and 56 to 23 show the Middletown five to be rounding into form.

N. Y. U.—Captain C. McLaughlin, Dutcher and D. McLaughlin are the only veterans on the New York University squad. The team has defeated Pratt Institute 28-21 and lost to Toronto 38-25, to Annapolis 74-18, and to Georgetown 23-4. Before meeting the varsity, N. Y. U. will play Wesleyan, Columbia, Rochester, West Point, and Union.

Cercle Francais at 4.30

Prof. Taylor will read a number of "Pearly Legends" at a meeting of the Cercle Francais to be held at the Kappa Alpha Lodge this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. All those interested in French, whether they are taking courses in that subject or not, are invited to be present.

Athletic Activity Increased

It is a pleasure to note the increased interest this winter in general athletics. Arrangements for interclass hockey and intramural basketball evidence a desire on the part of a larger number of undergraduates for physical exercise. Every extension of intramural athletics should be heartily encouraged. General participation in this department of education has formerly been confined to the spring, except for the freshmen. Physical development has been neglected more during the winter months than at any other time in the college year. Hitherto the demand for opportunity to take part in organized athletics during this season has been dormant, but it has apparently asserted itself and received recognition. It is unfortunate that we do not possess a large supply of basketball floors and hockey rinks; but it is most encouraging to see every advantage taken of the equipment at our disposal. Every effort in this direction should also result beneficially for the varsity teams. This should be particularly important in the case of hockey, for the mid-winter interclass series should prove advantageous for the next year's team and also provide stronger practice contests for the varsity during the interclass season. If this series is to prove a practical success, it would seem that some reward should be given to the members of the winning team; but it is possible that sufficient interest should be evidenced to make the first season a criterion of success for future years before the series should be recognized as on a par with established interclass events.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,—
Sir:

In view of the fact that Leake's pond is used so extensively by children, I would request students skating there not to play hockey.

H. S. Leake

12 January, 1913.

To the Editor of the Record,

Sir:
Is the recent establishment of interclass hockey a device to afford more men an opportunity for making use of the rink, or is it a serious endeavor to promote the welfare of hockey at Williams, with the ultimate view of turning out better hockey teams? If the latter is the case, why not take it seriously, give numerals to the championship team, and give the experiment a fair chance to prosper from the start? I appreciate the fact that class numerals are rather common to-day; but the awarding of numerals would be emphatically a step in the right direction.

It would give a needed incentive to the development of this sport, and would only anticipate a condition that must inevitably result in the future. Why not start this new interclass sport off right and give the teams something to work for?

"How Japan Was Opened"

Prof. Droppers lectured last evening in 17 Jesup Hall on "How Japan was Opened". Commodore Perry by opening up a few ports brought about the first action in favor of a friendly foreign policy. Immediately there followed a civil war between the anti-foreign and pro-foreign parties, which resulted in the success of the latter. The Shogun, who had usurped the power of the emperor, was overthrown and the emperor reinstated. From that time on, Japan has advanced in civilization and is now among the foremost nations of the world. The subject of his next lecture will be "Missionaries in Japan."

Contest Open to College Men

Two prizes of $50 each are announced by the National Municipal League of Philadelphia for the best essays on the topic, "The Best Sources of City Revenue." The prizes are to be competed for by undergraduates in any college in the United States registered in regular courses in municipal government. The prize is called the William H. Baldwin prize and is awarded annually. Essays on the topic for the current prize must be handed in before March 15, and must not contain more than 10,000 words. Further particulars may be obtained from the secretary of the league, Clinton R. Woodruff of Philadelphia.

Phil. Union Changes Policy

A meeting of the Philosophical Union will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Common Room, Currier Hall.
Whittlesey '13 will read a paper upon,
"Some Arguments of Pessimism". At the last meeting it was voted to turn over the management of the organization to the students. In accordance with this plan the following officers were elected:
Pitcher '13 president, Swift '13 vice-president, Whittlesey '13 secretary and treasurer, Prof. Russell faculty advisor. All students interested in philosophical discussion are invited to join the society.

VARSITY FENCING

Three Bouts Planned for Team—Class Squads Practice

Members of the class fencing squads have been practicing three times a week in the fencing room in Williams Hall in preparation for the coming interclass bouts which will be held between the halves of the varsity basketball games. At present, the senior and freshman squads are showing up best. The sophomores are making the poorest showing of the four squads. There is, however, some very promising material among the senior and freshman candidates.

The first meet which has been planned (subject to ratification by the Athletic Council) will be held in Springfield the latter part of February between teams representing Columbia, Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, Yale, and Williams. Manager Swift hopes to arrange return dual meets with Columbia and Springfield. An expert fencing master will be engaged to coach the team before each contest.

Hereafter, the fencing room is to be reserved on Friday afternoons for practice by the varsity squad, which will be composed of the following men: Field, Hotchkiss, Swift, Ware '13, Mackay '14, Kepner, Reed, and Stetson '16.

G. G. C. Plans Work for Term

At a business meeting of the Good Government Club held last Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall, Swift '13 described the New York trip taken by eight members of the Club during the Christmas recess. Reports were also heard from the Apple Growing, Current Events, Factories and Cost of Living committees. Goding '15 read a paper upon the "Philippine Independence". Swift '13 then explained the purpose of the Club to put in practical application the knowledge gained through these investigations and Johnson '14 mentioned the work already attempted along these lines by the Railroad Management and Cost of Living committees.

I. F. Smith '13 was appointed chairman of the Apple Growing committee in place of Johnson '14 who will assist Swift '13 in the practical application work of the Club. Van Doren '14 was appointed chairman of the Railroad Management committee in place of Duryen '13, resigned.

Y., who is to speak in Jesup Hall on January 24, on the "Call of Class Consciousness to College Men."

Smith, Gray & Co. of New York, the firm which runs the well-known lounging and smoking rooms on Fifth Avenue for college men stopping in New York, were in town Monday.—Adv.

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1913

VARSITY FIVE MEETS R. I. STATE TONIGHT

FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Three Veterans Form Nucleus of Visiting Team—Varsity Practice Encouraging

In the opening game of the 1913 basketball season, Williams will face Rhode Island State College at 8 o'clock this evening in the Lasell Gymnasium. The two previous contests in this sport between the two institutions have resulted in victories for the Purple by the scores of 26 to 16 and 32 to 25 respectively. Both games were hard fought throughout and were only won by the consistent basket shooting of the home team.

With three veterans, Captain Tully, Lennox and Aspinwall, as a nucleus for this year's team, the visitors should prove strong opponents. The squad of eighteen has been working since November 25 under the direction of several well-known coaches including Cobb of M. A. C. who developed the 1912 team, and the men have been playing in good form. R. I. State will probably line up as follows: Lennox, rf; Tully, lf; Aspinwall, c; Freeman, rg; Nichols, Young, lg.

Good Practice This Week

The practice this week has been lively and all members of the team are in good condition. On Thursday afternoon the varsity practiced signals and new plays before lining up against the scrubs in the last scrimmage of the week. Although at first the regulars showed a slight falling off in the quality of their work, they soon picked up both in teamwork and shooting. The scrubs opened with a rush and in the first five minutes of play Deely netted two baskets from the floor and one from the foul line. The varsity then seemed to find its place and the remainder of the game was entirely in its favor. At the close of the afternoon the second team had only tallied one additional basket, the score standing twenty-four to seven against them. The work of the first team was fast but ragged, tending more to individual brilliancy than to steady team-play. Hay at guard presented an exceptional game, scoring four out of the twelve baskets credited to the varsity. Victor and Hodge showed up especially well by their excellent team work and all-around play. The varsity line-up, which will be used against Rhode Island tonight, was as follows: Freeman, rf; Hodge, lf; Victor, c; Hay, rg; Page, lg. For the scrubs the following men played: Langford, rf; Marchand, lf; Garfield, c; J. Jones, rg; Deely, Doane, lg.

Because of the game this evening no scrimmage was held yesterday. For three quarters of an hour the team practiced shooting and then spent the remainder of the afternoon in perfecting formations. The shooting was characterized by consistent accuracy.

Hehir of Worcester will referee the game.

"Lit." to Appear Next Week

CONTRACTS AWARDED

Plans for "Gul" Board Include
De Luxe Edition

Preliminary arrangements for the printing and make-up of the 1914 Gulchmensian are now practically complete. The printing contract, awarded to the Eagle Printing and Binding Company of Pittsfield, calls for a book bound in cloth stamped in gold and a heavy white paper with black ink. All fraternity and society crests will have special de Luxe parchment engravings. The contract for the half tones and etchings, of which there will be a greater number than usual, has been awarded to the Electric City Engraving Company of Buffalo, N. Y. Besides the regular edition, those so desiring may secure a special de Luxe edition which will be bound in full ooze sheep skin with watered silk backing and gold leaf edges. It is expected that all wishing the de Luxe edition will state their wish explicitly when signing up for the Gul.

March 10 is the date set for the submitting of all copy with the exception of a few final assignments for which the time has been extended to March 25. The book will probably appear about May 1.

Class Relay Trials Today

Trials for positions on the class relay teams will be held this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock on the Old Campus. Four men will be chosen to represent each class in the meet which will take place next Saturday afternoon. The seniors will oppose the juniors and 1915 will meet 1916. Each member of the two winning teams will receive numerals. Practice has been held daily during the past week on the board track and Coach Seeley has devoted the time to directing the men in taking corners and starting, after which they have been sent several laps around the track.

Noted German to Address Union

LEAGUE SERIES STARTS

Intramural Basketball Games
at 2.00 in Gymnasium

Twelve basketball teams will contest the first games in the intramural series which will open this afternoon in the gymnasium. Owing to the withdrawal of the Faculty five from the league, the membership of League C has been diminished to six teams and the game with Delta Delta has necessarily been cancelled. Members of the class basketball teams will act as referees of all intramural games, two of which are to be played per hour, with alternating 10 minute halves. Since six games are to be played during the afternoon, the management requests that all teams appear promptly at the scheduled hours in order to minimize the chance of delay. Today's games follow: 2 p. m. League A, Commons vs. Sigma Phi; League B, Alpha Zeta Alpha vs. Kappa Alpha; 3 p. m. League C, Alpha Delta Phi vs. Cosmo; League A, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Delta Psi; 4 p. m. League B, Phi Delta Theta vs. Chi Psi; Theta Delta Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa.

Canadian Wins $1000 Prize

For a paper on "Industrial Education", Mr. Albert H. Leake, an inspector of technical education in Ontario has been awarded the first prize of $1000 in the Hart, Schaffner & Marx essay contest; and Harry Edwin Smith, instructor in economics at Cornell University, with a paper on "The United States Federal Tax History from 1861 to 1871", won the second prize of $500. In the attainment of their purpose of arousing an interest in the collegiate world in economic questions of the day, these prizes have been remarkably successful. The awards this year were made by a committee of which Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of Columbia University was chairman.

Eight Debaters Retained

As a result of the preliminary debating trials, which were held last evening in the Thompson Biological Laboratory, the following eight men were retained for further trial: Trevor, Troy '13, Glock, Haynes, Hinkle '14, Day, Freeman, Kepner '16. The eight men selected, together with those who have previously taken part in varsity debates, will compete in the final trials next Friday evening. The judges at last evening's trials were Prof. Perry, Mr. Agard and Mr. Wright.

Berkshire County Club Active

At a meeting of the Berkshire County Club held in 15 Jesup Hall Thursday evening, the following officers were elected: president, Gordon '13; vice-president, Wyman '14; secretary, Deely '15; treasurer, MacInnis '16. Two committees were appointed as follows: Shipton, Troy '13, Wyman '14 to make application for a page in the 1914 Gul; Shipton '13, Deely, Rudnick '15 to investigate the plan of sending the Record to county high schools.

Hockey Games Cancelled

On account of the poor condition of the ice caused by the rain and unusually warm weather during the past few days, the hockey game with Trinity scheduled for this afternoon has been cancelled. The interclass contests which were to be played last night will take place Monday evening if the rink is in condition. Otherwise they will be played Tuesday night. The games scheduled for Tuesday will be contested next Saturday afternoon, and the matches on that date have been postponed to the following Monday.

Blanks Due on Monday

Question blanks for statistics for the Senior Class Book which were sent out to the members of the senior class last Friday, must be returned to the editor on or before Monday, January 20. If blanks are returned by mail, first class postage must be affixed.

RECITAL BY ARTISTS OF HIGHEST MERIT

UNDERGRADUATE CRITICISM

First Entertainment in Thompson Course Delightful to Laymen and Critics

Let it be said at the outset that this criticism is simply the opinion of an undergraduate who knows very little of the technicalities of music or the rules of musical appreciation.

The song and harp recital last Thursday evening in Grace Hall by Mrs. Edith Chapman Gould and Madame Annie Louise David seemed to be distinguished from many other entertainments of our Thompson Course by a conscious effort to please an average Williams audience. It was neither helplessly "high-brow" nor at all below the sincere appreciation of the most bigoted aesthetic. The program was splendidly balanced and selections were not excluded because they were familiar. The artists seemed to desire to establish a certain intimacy with the audience, an effort which brought an even greater appreciation of their work.

A few listeners who arrived fashionably and foolishly late missed the first group of songs and to a certain extent interfered with the enjoyment of those who were wisely on time. Mrs. Gould opened the program with two lively French songs, an English ballad, and Grieg's beautiful and familiar "Ein Traum". Her rendering of the French songs was a little more successful than that of the German, excellent as the last selection undoubtedly was.

There is always something fascinating and incomprehensible about a harp, and even when it is imperfectly played, an uninitiated listener wonders and marvels how the trick is done. How is it possible to be anything but a bungler with such a multitude of strings? But there was nothing imperfect or bungling in the performance of Madame David. It was almost uncanny to hear the beautiful effects which she produced apparently with so little effort. Both of her numbers, the "Legende" by Thomas and the "Spanish Country Dance" by Jedschi were apparently flawless. As an encore, Madame David played the well-known Welsh lullaby, "All Through the Night".

Mrs. Gould's next group showed even better than the first group her sympathetic artistic voice, so different from the coldly and technically artistic voices which we have all heard so often. This group included Madame Homer's familiar "Banjo Song", "The Will o' the Wisp" by Spross, and Mrs. Salter's beautiful song, "The Veery". All of Mrs. Gould's selections were intended not to raise us above the clouds or to pull us out over our depth, but to entertain and please us.

The second group on the harp included a spinning song by Zabel, a dignified and yet delicate "Minuet" by Hasselmann, and the odd, jerky, descriptive "Dance of the Marionettes" by Pœnitz. Madame David's encore was called a "Sixteenth Century" "Music Box", a selection which pleased the entire audience—"animal spirits" and faculty.

The four songs with harp accompaniment were all so pleasing that it is unnecessary to describe them in order. A knowledge of musical technicalities is not necessary to know that every selection was most artistic and delightful. As an encore, Mrs. Gould sang "Annie Laurie". More than one listener went home avowing that it was his favorite of the entire program.

The Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" with harp and organ accompaniment was so effective that the artists received four curtain calls and were obliged to repeat a portion of the selection. The combination of the two instruments and the voice

The Rooming Situation

For the past six months or more the question of vacant dormitory rooms has received direct attention from the college authorities. Last July a letter was sent by the Treasurer to the governing alumni bodies of the several fraternity chapters. It called attention to the rapid increase in the number of men rooming in fraternity houses and the policy of the college to develop the dormitory system in the interests of democracy. It also asked the alumni to co-operate with the college in checking the tendency on the part of the undergraduates to increase the number of men in the fraternity houses, so that it would be unnecessary to "return to the old rule" by which the cost of the rooms in the dormitories, left vacant by the students who preferred to live outside, was assessed upon those men. This old rule was adopted by the Trustees in the early struggling days at Williams but has not been put into practice for years. A month ago another letter was written from the same source, suggesting that the present situation be relieved by a rule forbidding the fraternities to house any of their members but such as are registered as upperclassmen in the Dean's office. This is the official evolution of the situation referred to in Mr. Hotchkiss' letter, which sets forth some of the practical aspects of the rooming situation. As forty men could now be accommodated in the vacant college rooms, which do not number fifty as we erroneously stated in a previous issue, this question is of considerable importance to the college authorities both from its social and financial aspects. The Alumni Review in December wisely remarks that it would be difficult "to outline any plan which will meet the situation to the satisfaction of all concerned". President Garfield believes that no definite action will be taken but that the problem will be satisfactorily solved by co-operation between the fraternities and the college authorities. This would seem to be the most advisable method to pursue rather than to promulgate any arbitrary arrangement which would probably fail to give general satisfaction.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:

There is a motion to be brought up at the next regular meeting of the Trustees, that is of considerable importance to a large body of the undergraduates. The proposition is that a rule be passed forbidding any but upper classmen from rooming in the fraternity-houses.

The general sentiment among the undergraduates for several years has entirely coincided with this view; so that at first sight such an action would seem to be a popular one although slightly unnecessary. I will pass over the fact that exceptions to this rule have in the past been of excellent service in particular instances in keeping certain men in college; and will limit the argument as much as possible to the purely financial point of view. For it would appear that the Trustees are likely to deal with it from this angle.

Not so very many years ago dormitory accommodations here at Williams, were decidedly inadequate. As a direct result of this fact, several fraternities enlarged their rooming capacities. However the erection in rapid succession of Berkshire, Currier, and Williams Halls, has almost reversed the situation. Today the college finds itself with more rooms than there are applicants to fill them. Hence the rule under consideration.

Now while it is perfectly true that the sentiment is against having underclassmen room in the fraternity-houses, yet at times this becomes necessary from a purely practical standpoint. If, for example, there are twelve rooms in the house and only ten upperclassmen to fill them, it is usually customary to prevent financial loss by having two underclassmen occupy them. Such a proceeding would seem perfectly logical and right from a practical point of view.

If then the rule now pending is put in force, it will mean that every year one or two or possibly more fraternities will stand liable to financial loss, which will in any case cause inconvenience and in some distinct hardship.

It would seem that if the College has taken the risk of erecting these new dormitories and then has found itself for the time being unable to fill them, that it would be fairer to have the College stand the financial loss rather than to saddle the burden upon the undergraduates who have had no voice in deciding upon these ventures.

Very truly yours,
Henry G. Hotchkiss, 1913

brought out to the utmost the beauty of the wonderful melody.

The last number on the program, the "Marche Solennelle" by Gounod, for harp and organ, could well have been omitted, not because it was poorly rendered—this was certainly not the case—but because the previous number would have made a more satisfactory ending.

The recital should have been better attended by the students. It was decidedly well worth while, and furnishes a decided negative answer to the question which the Class Book editors have propounded to the seniors, whether or not entertainments of a lighter type than is now the case should be introduced into the Thompson Course.

Outsiders Charged Admission

Although admission to the organ recital in Graco Hall by Mr. T. Tertius Noble of York Minster, England, on Thursday evening is to be free to members of the college community as in the case of the Thompson Course entertainments, an admission of fifty cents will be charged to outsiders. Reserved seat tickets will be placed on sale at the Music Rooms of Cluett and Sons, both in North Adams and Pittsfield. All persons who have not yet paid their subscriptions for the series are requested to settle before Wednesday evening with the men in charge of the subscription lists.

1912 a Temperate Year
The annual summary of the meteorological observations made at the Williams College station shows that the year 1912 as a whole was close to normal in both temperature and precipitation. The highest temperature during the year was 94, on July 10, and the lowest temperature was 15 below zero, on January 14. The average temperature of the year as a whole was 45.1 degrees which is extremely close to the normal, 45.3. The warmest year during the past twenty was 1900, with an average of 46.9, and the coldest year 1904 with an average of 42.5. The temperature fell to zero or below 17 times during the year, and went to 90 or above 7 times.
The total precipitation (including rain and melted snow) was 36.34 inches, which is quite a little less than the normal, 39.27 inches. The largest annual precipitation during the last twenty years was 46.45 inches in 1898. The total snowfall for 1912 was 45.2 inches, which was about normal. There were 21 thunder showers during the year and precipitation fell on 116 days.
Only two records were broken during the year. On August 31 a temperature of 38 was reached, which is the lowest temperature observed during August for 40 years. The total precipitation for June was 1.62 inches, the smallest June precipitation for 20 years.

TWO APPEALS FROM SURROGATE'S RULING

Both College and Heirs Oppose Decisions in Cases of Misses Pattison

Hon. Frank L. Young of Ossining, N. Y., who will argue the appeal in the Pattison case for the college, is one of the most prominent and trusted counsel in Westchester County, N. Y., where the will had to be offered for probate. It is doubtful whether the appeal in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court will be heard before the autumn, as much time is required in making up the case on appeal and no sessions of the court are held after June, although an effort will be made to bring the case up at that time.

Two different cases are involved one concerning the will of each sister. Miss Elizabeth's will having been rejected, the college will appeal, and Miss Sarah's will having been sustained, the contestants will appeal. The general ground of the Surrogate's decision is that where, as in these cases, wills are made in duplicate or triplicate, all of the parts must be presented, or accounted for, or, under the law of New York, it will be presumed that all the wills have been revoked. In the Pattison cases, each of the sisters made wills in triplicate, of which only one part, that in the possession of the college, was produced. The Surrogate held that Miss Sarah's will was effective, notwithstanding the failure to account for the other two parts, because of her declaration and statement to Mr. Young that her will was at Williams College. Her similar statement as to the will of her sister was disregarded by the Surrogate, upon the ground that while she could declare her own intentions she was not a competent witness as to the intentions of her sister and could not by her personal declaration overcome the legal presumption as to her sister's will. Apparently the only question to be argued on the appeal is the relevancy of the testimony as to the conversation and statements of Miss Sarah H. Pattison. The contestants have been represented by Mr. James L. Bishop and Ex-Surrogate Beckett of New York County and the firm of Geschiedt and Toomey of Westchester County.

Dr. Adriance to Lecture

R.I.S. OUTCLASSED BY WILLIAMS 51 TO 14 PURPLE'S TEAM PLAY GOOD

Hodge, Page, and Freeman Excel for Varsity—Tully Star of Visiting Five

Williams defeated Rhode Island State College by the score of 51 to 14 last Saturday evening in the opening game of the basketball season in Lasell Gymnasium. Good shooting and excellent team work were responsible for the varsity's success and promises well for the development of a fast, aggressive five. After the first few minutes of play, when the handling of passes by both teams was ragged, the Williams five displayed consistent team work and forged steadily ahead, keeping the play in their opponents' territory and scoring 33 points in the first half to the visitors' 7. In the second half the varsity slowed up, although the team work continued good, and two substitutions were made at the close of the period.

Hodge, with eight baskets from the floor, led the Purple in scoring although he was hard pressed by Freeman, who tallied five times from the floor and three times from the foul line. Page put up a sensational game at guard, shooting six baskets from the floor and holding his opponent scoreless. Victor's success in getting the tipoff and so enabling Williams to take the offensive and force the play, was a large factor in the varsity's team work. Tully starred for the visitors, as he scored four times, displayed excellent floor work, and played a hard, aggressive game throughout. Freeman scored three baskets in four tries from the foul line and Lennox of the visitors tallied on four out of seven fouls called on Williams.

At the beginning of the first half Williams scored five points on baskets by Hay and Page and a free throw by Captain Freeman, before Freeman of R. I. S. tallied from close guard, followed by Lennox's goal from foul. Accurate passing and fast teamwork soon allowed Freeman and Page to score again, and after Freeman's tally from the center of the court, Hodge threw an easy basket and Hay scored two more in quick succession. Freeman's free trial and Hodge's basket were followed by Lennox's second goal from the foul line and a tally by Victor. Freeman scored another basket from a difficult angle and Page caged his third goal on a short dribble. Good team play enabled Captain Tully to make Rhode Island's fourth tally of the half, following Hodge's basket and Freeman's free throw. The half ended with two baskets by Hodge and a goal from foul by Lennox, with Williams in the lead, 33-7.

The varsity slackened its pace during the first part of the second period but soon regained its aggressive style of play, although it was able to score only 18 points in the remainder of the game. After a few moments of play, Hay began the scoring for Williams and Freeman added two more tallies on fast plays from team formations. Tully evaded Hay and shot two easy baskets and followed with a third after Hodge had caged a goal for Williams. Dempsey went in for Hodge after the latter had scored two more baskets in succession, Narten took Hay's place at right guard, and for R. I. S. Young relieved Nichols at left guard. Page scored on a long shot from the center of the court and Lennox made Rhode Island's final tally on a goal from the foul line. Page's two successive goals from beneath the basket ended the scoring.

The lineup and summary:

WILLIAMS	RHODE ISLAND
Freeman rf	lg Nichols, Young
Hodge, Dempsey lf	rg Freeman
Victor c	o Aspinwall
Hay, Narten rg	lf Tully (capt.)

INTERCLASS HOCKEY

Series Opens Tomorrow Night —Line-up of Teams

Tomorrow evening at 7.45 o'clock if the condition of the ice permits, the interclass hockey series will open on the Weston Field rink with games between the seniors and juniors and the sophomores and freshmen. Practice for all four teams has been handicapped the past few days by the unusually warm weather and consequent lack of ice although good scrimmages were held against the varsity during the early part of last week. As previously announced, the halves of the two games will alternate as in the interclass basketball series, and will be of 12 minutes duration. The teams will probably line-up as follows: 1913: R. V. Lewis r w, Phillips l w, Babson c, Banks r, Hubbell c p, Hewat p, and Dearhorn g; 1914: Potter r w, Headley l w, Moody c, Barrtram r, P. S. Smith c p, Hunnewell p, and Davis g; 1915: Renner r w, Hubbell l w, Cannon c, King r, Eells c p, Conklin p, and Michler g; 1916: Leake r w, Hurd l w, Cutler c, Coleman r, Reynolds c p, Payson p, and Stickney g. Captain Michael will referee all games.

Rules for Fire Fighters

At the meeting of the fire-brigade executive committee held last Saturday afternoon in 22 Jesup discussions and plans were made about what was to be done in case of a fire. The following rules were passed:

(1) In case of a fire, the chief, the district chief in whose district the fire occurs and the police force shall go immediately to the fire.

(2) The other district chiefs, together with the rest of the fire-brigade shall immediately report at the fire house to take charge of the apparatus.

(3) The executive committee shall meet the first week of the college year and appoint the members of the brigade for that year.

(4) A drill shall be held during the second week of the first term and at least one in each of the following terms, the time being left to the discretion of the chief.

It was also recommended, although not passed upon, that if possible each building shall have its own individual fire alarm, and that the stand-pipes in the various dormitories be kept filled with the understanding and agreement of the college body that they are not to be tampered with.

Another meeting is to be held in the auditorium of Jesup Hall this afternoon at 1.10 for the chiefs and district chiefs only.

Close Games in New League

Four teams in each league played in the opening games of the intramural basketball series on Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium. Of the six games played, one was extended for three minutes overtime and three others ended with scores of but one or two points margin. The halves of two games were played alternately in order that no time would be lost for intermissions. The results of the games were as follows: League A, Sigma Phi 12—Commons 10, Delta Kappa Epsilon 2, Delta Psi 0 (forfeited); League B, Alpha Zeta Alpha 9—Kappa Alpha 6, Phi Delta Theta 7—Chi Psi 6; League C, Alpha Delta Phi 21—Cosmo 9, Phi Sigma Kappa 10—Theta Delta Chi 5.

Results of Saturday's Games

Following is the result of the more important college basketball games played in the East Saturday:

Lehigh 54; Cornell 22
West Point 29; Wesleyan 24
Union 23; Rochester 21

Registration Notice

Registration for the second semester will begin in Hopkins Hall tomorrow morning, and will last from January 21 to Saturday, January 25 inclusive. All classes must register within this time.

EXPERT TO LECTURE ON PANAMA TOMORROW

UNDER AUSPICES OF G. G. C.

A. W. Wyndham, Civil Engineer, to Show Slides of Work Done on Isthmus

Mr. A. W. Wyndham, civil engineer, will deliver a lecture tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the auditorium of Jesup Hall upon, "The Panama Canal". Mr. Wyndham's lecture will be under the auspices of the Good Government Club and will be open to all who care to attend.

Drawing his facts from personal observation and not from the inadequate reports of tourists or questionable official interviews, Mr. Wyndham speaks from the standpoint of an expert. His acquaintance with the conditions in Panama began in 1878, three years before the French commenced operations, when he assisted in the first engineering survey of the proposed canal. In 1883, he was employed by the French under Ferdinand de Lesseps in the Construction Department. He was on the ground in 1889 watching the dying struggle of the French Company. Again in 1905 and 1906 he was in the Canal district as a correspondent, also working for the United States Commission in the Construction Department. By means of this broad experience he has been enabled to analyze with rare insight the problems and difficulties that have arisen in connection with this great enterprise, and in his lecture he will discuss several of the questions that are at present testing the resourcefulness of the United States government.

To insure a more accurate and realistic presentation of his subject Mr. Wyndham uses 150 colored stereopticon views and a complete set of sketches made by himself for his own exclusive use. These views not only illustrate the technical construction of the Canal itself but also show several of the marvelous scenic effects to be found in the little Central American country.

Mr. Wyndham treats briefly in his lecture the history of the Canal from its inception to the present time, the following points among others being touched upon in the course of the talk: The Weize Concession; The French Work from commencement to failure; United States' Deal with Columbia; The back down; Uncle Sam secures a perpetual lease; The Work of the U. S. Engineers commences; The Construction, showing progress up-to-date, including Great Dams, Locks, Lakes, Spillways, Sea Level Canals, Bridges, the Culbra Cut, Fortifications, How the Suez Canal is Fortified, Comparison, Toll, Land Slides explained, Populations, Elevations, Rise and Fall of Oceans, Modern Improvements, Country, Climate, Advantages to Trade and Commerce.

In conclusion Mr. Wyndham will show, "Why this strategical position will prove a colossal gold mine, change the world's commerce and eventually become the elucidative key to world powers for imperial supremacy."

RELAY TRIALS HELD

Twenty-five Men Compete for Class Team Positions

Twenty-five men entered the trials for the class relay teams last Saturday afternoon. Considering the poor condition of the board track due to the continuous rain, the time made by many of the contestants was excellent. Inasmuch as only three freshmen reported, further trials will be held this week to decide the final make-up of the 1916 team. The men who were selected as a result of last Saturday's competition are: 1913—Boynton, Dewey, L. L. Lewis, Lyman, Rand; 1914—French, Jones, Lester, Moffat, Rising; 1915—Driscoll, Gregor, Hubbell, Long, Wrigley; 1916—Brazier, Hyde, Overton. Of the five sophomores named, Long and Wrigley were tied for fourth position. The interclass relay races are scheduled to be held on the board track at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, the seniors running against the juniors, and the sophomores meeting the freshmen. The members of the two winning teams will as usual be awarded their numerals.

VARSITY MEETS STRONG UNION FIVE WEDNESDAY

Play of Visitors in Games to Date Marked by Speed and Aggression

In the second basketball game of the season and the third between the two institutions, Williams will oppose the strong Union five Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. In 1907 the Purple had no difficulty in defeating the weak team of their opponents by the score of 60-8, but last year, in a closely contested and exciting game, Union won by the score of 25-19 through superior team work and the poor guarding of the Williams five.

From the squad of 20 which reported for practice December 2, Coach Dawson of Princeton has developed a strong defensive and offensive team around the veterans, J. Beaver, D. Beaver, and Houghton. In the first game of the season, Rochester defeated the Garnet by the exceedingly close score of 26-25, but in the return game Saturday at Rochester the Schenectady five, after being five points behind at the end of the first half, braced and won out in the second period by the score of 23-21. Credit for this victory belongs chiefly to the clever shooting of Houghton on free throws. The Union guard scored nine goals from the foul line. Houghton and Woods were the individual stars in the game last Friday night which the Garnet won from Colgate 28-20 in a fast and hard fought contest. The former guarded his man closely and shot goals from foul with consistent accuracy while the latter was a large factor in the Schenectady team's scoring.

Practice for the Williams team will be held daily at 4.30 o'clock in the gym. The line-up for Wednesday's game will probably be the same as that which started in the contest against Rhode Island State Saturday. Following is the probable line-up of the two teams: Williams: Freeman, r f, Hodge, l f, Victor, c, Hay, r g, Page, l g; Union: J. Beaver, r f, D. Beaver, l f, Woods, c, Dewey, r g, Houghton, l g.

Schedule of Organ Recitals

In addition to the organ recital by Mr. T. Tertius Noble in Grace Hall on Thursday evening, Mr. Salter has arranged dates for the three other recitals included in the subscription series. On February 27, Mr. Edward Kraft of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland will play. The last two recitals by Charles Heinroth of Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, and Mr. Clarence Eddy, concert organist of Chicago, respectively will probably be given in Grace Hall on the nights of April 10 and May 1.

OPENING RECITAL IN SUBSCRIPTION SERIES

T. TERTIUS NOBLE TO PLAY

Organist of York Minster, England to Give Program in Grace Hall Thursday

Much has been written and spoken about T. Tertius Noble, the talented organist of York Minster, England, who is to give the first recital of the special subscription series on Thursday evening, January 23, at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall. Among the distinguished musicians who maintain the ideals and traditions of the liturgic of the great English cathedrals, Mr. Noble is the first to appear in America as a concert organist. His career has been long and successful and today he is considered among the foremost of England's recitalists.

Born in Bath in 1867, Mr. Noble made his first appearance before the public, as a pianist, when he was but 11 years of age. After winning a scholarship to the Royal College of Music, London, where he studied under such men as Sir Walter Parrett, Sir Villiers Stanford, and Sir Frederick Bridge, he became a pupil of Josef Rheinberger of Munich. From 1890 to 1892 when he went to the Ely Cathedral, Mr. Noble was assistant to Sir Villiers Stanford, organist at Trinity College, Cambridge, and played in the famous Tudor Chapel.

Five years later in 1897, Mr. Noble became organist and choirmaster of York Minster, and he has held that position ever since. His success in the latter instance has been no less marked than as an organist, and a writer in the Churchman in speaking of a service by the Minster choir says: "They acquitted themselves beautifully. I had to admit that I knew of no choir in America that could equal it." Other achievements of Mr. Noble include his founding in 1898 of the York Symphony, of which he is still leader; his reviving of the York Festivals, the last of which had been held in 1832; his playing in over a thousand concerts throughout all parts of England; and his musical compositions which include an opera "Killibergs", a festival cantata "Gloria Domini" and "Pageant Music" for the York Festivals.

On his tour through this country Mr. Noble has received nothing but praise. The Springfield Republican says in regard to his concert at Mount Holyoke last Tuesday: "His playing on Tuesday evening quickly revealed him as a musician of sterling merits. He made no effort at brilliance, but his performance had a solidity and mastery that diffused tranquil enjoyment."

As announced in Saturday's Record, while the recital is free to members of the college community, as in the case of the Thompson Course entertainments, 50 cents will be charged to all outsiders. A limited number of tickets, which will entitle the holder to reserved seats, are to be placed on sale at the music rooms of Cluett and Sons in both North Adams and Pittsfield. The same price will be charged for all reserved seats.

The series of concerts of which this is to be the first has been made possible by subscription taken up among the students and outsiders but of the $200 which is to be collected from among the undergraduates only $70 has been paid in as yet. It is requested that all men settle with the men in charge of the subscription list at the different fraternity and eating houses before Wednesday evening.

On account of this recital, and in all other cases when there will be special concerts during the week, Mr. Sumner Salter will not give his customary recital on Wednesday afternoon in the Chapel.

Last June's examination schedule, the list of Graves Prize Essay subjects for 1912, the record of absences from chapel on Oct. 10, etc., may require permanent preservation but for the peace of mind of all those not interested in historical research we would suggest that they be removed from the Hopkins Hall bulletin boards.

Basketball started forth with a rush
Saturday evening and a successful season seems almost assured. Not for many a year has such commendable work been exhibited at this early date; particularly during the first half was the scientific ability of veterans prominent. During the last two years Williams has not lived up to its traditional record in basketball and a return to the old scores is most welcome.
Wesleyan's five of three years' varsity experience is again a candidate for championship honors, but we have every confidence in Captain Freeman and the Williams team.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the acts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:

In view of a tendency noticeable among members of the freshman class to forget their place in the undergraduate body, a reminder of their position seems fitting.
Discarding a freshman cap does not at once entitle a man to the privileges of "Hi Juvenes". Undue prominence in North Adams and on the Berkshire Street Railway cars, and excessive hilarity at social gatherings in the dormitories, are certainly not the proper attributes of those who should be seen rather than heard. Whether or not any addition to the freshman rules and restrictions be advisable, some means of education to replace the abolished hazing seems advantageous.

Professor Legouis is one of the foremost of

Annual Meeting on Feb. 8

The annual meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held at the Hotel Lenox in Boston, Sat-at the meeting. Routine business will be transacted including the election of officers for the ensuing year. The date and place of the annual track meet of the association for 1913 are to be decided at this meeting.

In all probability the meet will be held at Springfield May 23 and 24, as previously announced in the Record. A few minor changes in the constitution affecting the order of events in the meet will be considered at this meeting among which the most important is the question of whether or not the hammer-throw will be cut out entirely from the list of events.

ceived with a reserve of ten days to draw on.

of the more important papers delivered at meetings of the various scientific associations during the Christmas holidays.

Fifth Tea on Thursday

The fifth freshman tea under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association will be held on Thursday afternoon from 4.30 to 6 o'clock in the Common Room, Currier Hall. Several of the faculty ladies ginning on February 13 they will be held weekly until the Easter vacation.

ADDRESS BY MISSIONARY

Inter-relation of Foreign and Home Missions Discussed

Experiences of a lifetime in foreign and home missions, the lessons they teach, and the responsibility laid upon us, were described by Mrs. B. W. Labaree, City Missionary in Hartford, Conn., at the regular W. C. A. meeting yesterday evening. Through these points the close interrelation of the foreign and home mission work was made clear.

We have refused to send the gospel abroad and now have to deal with a greater influx of immigrants than we can handle. Foreign missions are needed partly because we would otherwise have to change our interpretation of the Bible to read that Christ was sent to save America only, but chiefly because in these very missions lies the solution of the problem of how to deal with the increasing hordes of immigrants. The chief lesson we have to learn is that this influx ceases to be a menace and becomes a blessing in proportion to the effect of the mission work in the foreign lands. Our responsibility lies chiefly in making our country a truly Christian land as it has been pictured by the missionaries, and not a pitfall of temptation to the ignorant man just beginning to see light. Mrs. Labaree closed her talk by quoting a poem, "Scum 'o the Earth," by her brother, Robert H. Schaufler, in which the whole gist of her speech was summed up.

Varsity Weakens In Fast Second Half

Union Wins By 15-11 Score

Close Guarding Prevents Many Tallies—Teamwork Gains Victory for Visitors

Union defeated Williams last evening 15 to 11 in the Lasell Gymnasium in the second basketball game of the season. Although the varsity five played a consistent and aggressive game, the superior team play and accurate shooting of the visitors caused the home team to lose the contest by the narrow margin of two baskets. All of Union's six baskets from the floor were scored from unguarded positions beneath the basket, gained by fast floor work and accuracy in long passes. The first half was characterized by very close guarding and many attempts at scores from long ranges. Although three of Williams' five goals were made from beyond the center of the floor, the varsity players were, for the most part, unfortunate in their long shots and could succeed only in ringing the basket. The visiting defense prevented all attempts at follow-up shots and any trials to cage the ball from near at hand. Inaccuracy in shooting, the failure to follow long up shots, the frequent lack of team work were mainly responsible for the Purple's defeat.

Captain Freeman proved to be the great factor in the strength of the Williams' five in team play. The varsity however felt severely the loss of Hodge in the early part of the game, although Dempsey, who took his place at left forward, played an excellent game until forced to leave during the second half as a result of a wrenched ankle. Dempsey shot two of Williams' five baskets from the floor and held his opponent scoreless. His lightness, however, proved a great detriment to him in carrying out fast team play. Victor played a consistent game at center, and Page too kept his opponent from scoring.

For the visitors, Dewey put up an exceptional game on the defense and was the main cause for breaking up the Purple's play. Toward the end of the second half, he shot the two baskets which clinched the victory for his team. Captain D. Beaver was the greatest point winner for Union and scored three baskets, all from unguarded positions. Houghton caged three out of four free trials from fouls and also made a basket from the floor in the early part of the second half.

Union took the lead at the start when Houghton tallied from the foul line but Victor soon retaliated with a beautiful shot from the center of the floor. A basket by D. Beaver unguarded gave the lead to the visitors until Freeman shot a foul, tying the score. After Houghton had made a basket from foul, Dempsey tallied from a difficult angle, ending the half with the score 5 to 4 in the varsity's favor.

Caging the ball on a long shot over half the length of the floor, Dempsey increased Williams' lead at the opening of the second half. He was injured and forced to retire, however, after D. Beaver had scored from under the basket. Hodge, who replaced Dempsey, was so badly crippled by a weak ankle that, after Houghton had scored from the floor and from a free throw, he was replaced by Brown. D. Beaver made a good shot while going away from the basket, increasing Union's lead to a four point margin. At this point the varsity rallied and on a long pass from Freeman. With only a few seconds to play and the varsity but two points behind, the pace became nerve-racking; but Dewey's second un-

RELAY TEAM CHOSEN

Interclass Races to Be Held Saturday Afternoon

As a result of the trials held yesterday afternoon on the board track, the following men were chosen to compose the varsity relay team which will meet Wesleyan at the Boston Athletic Association games February 8: Dewey, L. L. Lewis, Lyman '13, Moffat, Rising '14, and Driscoll '15. Lyman '13 has been entered in the 10 yard dash and Duryea '14 in the 1000 yard handicap run in this meet. Trials will be held later for men to represent the Purple in the 440 yard run at the Annual Indoor Meet of the Second Division Naval Militia to be held February 21 at Hartford Conn.

Owing to the excellent condition of the board track, regular practice for the class relay teams has been held every day this week. The following men have been appointed captains of their respective class teams: 1913, Dewey; 1914, Rising; 1915, Driscoll; 1916, Hyde. The interclass races will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Old Campus. Wrigley has won the contested position on the sophomore team, while Hayes and Jacob have been selected to occupy the open positions on the freshman team. The seniors and sophomores appear to be slight favorites, although both races promise to be very close.

Plans of Faculty Abroad

After sailing for Europe last June Prof. Howes spent the first four months of his sabbatical year in Munich, Bavaria where he attended courses in the university and took in the famous Munich Opera. In the latter part of November he left Munich for Paris, where he stayed until the first of January. He is now travelling in Central and Southern France. Before returning in the early fall he expects to go into Italy, visiting the scenes of Hannibal's battles, reaching Rome probably in March. He plans to spend the summer in Greece.

Emeritus Prof. Rice and Prof. Weston sailed Saturday for Genoa on the Cunard liner Franconia. Prof. Rice will travel in Europe in connection with his work for the Congressional Library. Prof. Weston will visit Egypt, and will later study art in various European cities.

Shons '12 Lawrenceville Coach

Shons '12 has been engaged by the athletic committee of Lawrenceville School to coach the baseball team of that institution for the 1913 season. Coming to Williams from Lawrenceville Shons continued his reputation as a ball player and occupied center field during his four years at college. Both last year and the year before he was placed on the All-Eastern Intercollegiate baseball team by many of the leading authorities. While in college, Shons was among other things, a member of the Glee Club, leader of the college choir, president of his senior class, and college cheer leader.

Hockey Games Postponed

Again the lack of ice made necessary the postponing of the interclass hockey games which were scheduled to have been held last Tuesday evening. It is hoped that these contests may be played off on Saturday. The hockey management, however, has set no definite date, but will post an announcement on the Hopkins Hall bulletin board on the morning of the day on which the games are to be contested.

Prof. Eucken Here Feb. 5

As previously stated Prof. Eucken the noted German philosopher will deliver a lecture on "Naturalism and Idealism" in Jesup Hall on February 5. The address is to be given under the auspices of the Philosophical Union, but the meeting will be open to all who wish to attend. Prof. Eucken is this year's exchange Professor from Germany at Harvard.

ENGINEER PRAISES GOVERNMENT'S WORK

LECTURE BY A. W. WYNDHAM

Illustrated Address on Panama Canal Interesting to Large Audience in Jesup Hall

Mr. A. W. Wyndham, a civil engineer of large experience throughout the Panama Canal zone, showed to an attentive audience in Jesup Hall Tuesday evening what can be accomplished in the line of canal construction, by the combination of modern knowledge and modern machinery backed by 400,000,000 dollars of American money. Authentic facts presented in an informal and direct manner and accompanied by stereopticon views, made the description of this enterprise interesting.

At the opening of the lecture Mr. Wyndham stated briefly his views on the toll rate question. Every vessel, he believes, including those of the United States, should pay a toll of one dollar per registered ton for the privilege of passage through the Canal. The exemption of our vessels from such a tax would foster the development of the greatest trust the world has ever known, a trust that would annually rob Uncle Sam of millions upon millions of dollars. After advancing figures to support this assertion, the speaker turned to the question of fortification. He declared himself to be strongly in favor of a fortified system of defence and pointed out as an argument the absolute invulnerability of the Suez Canal.

Before introducing his hearers to the work itself, Mr. Wyndham indicated by a series of original sketches the importance of the enterprise to the commerce of England, United States and Japan. The first actual view of the Canal showed the immense Gatun dam and locks, a mass of masonry equal in volume to 56 Cheops pyramids or 600 Titanics. This great dam impounds the water into Gatun lake, the largest artificial body of water in the world. Entrance to Gatun lake is obtained through three double locks, each 110 feet wide, and each having a usable length of 1000 feet. These locks have individual lifts of 28 feet, making a total of 85 feet.

From the Gatun dam the lecturer passed to the Culebra Cut. At this point the American engineers did more work in two years and seven months than the French accomplished in nine years. Culebra cut, one of the most stupendous achievements

COLGATE ON SATURDAY

Varsity to Play Veteran Team in First Out-of-Town Game

Colgate will oppose the varsity five in the first out-of-town game of the Williams basketball season on Saturday evening at Hamilton. The Colgate team, which includes four veteran players, has practised regularly since November 20, and the prospects at the opening of the season were excellent. Victories were scored over the University of Toronto and Rochester University on January 8 and 11, respectively. The Colgate live has lost but one game, that to Union last Saturday, and it is expected that the team will show great improvement during this week's practice over the showing made in Saturday's game. The line-up for Colgate is as follows: forwards, Hammond (Capt.), Johnson, Kennedy; center, Connors; guards, Rich, Lanni, Huntington, Benzoni.

The varsity squad held regular practice on Monday and Tuesday, and the team will probably line up as it did in the game last evening. The team will leave for Hamilton at 2.03 on Saturday afternoon, and will return to Williamstown on Sunday afternoon.

Dean's Notices

Commencing with the chapel service of Thursday, January 30, all church and chapel absences taken in excess of the allowed number, which cannot be cancelled in the usual manner, will be deducted from the allowance of the SECOND SEMESTER of the college year 1912-13. This arrangement holds throughout the period of the examinations, January 30 through February 8.

Beginning with Monday, January 20, the Dean's Office will discontinue for this semester the sending of postal cards indicating that the limit of allowed absence in any exercise has been reached. Instead, the regular bulletin of absences, in Cases 7 and 8 in Hopkins Hall, will be checked up daily to indicate the exercises in which, according to the reports at that time received, the limit of allowed absence has been reached. It must be borne in mind that, because of the delay to which these reports may be subject in reaching the Dean's Office, the bulletin thus amended is not to be considered complete in this respect at any time.

Frederick C. Ferry,
Dean.

Additions to Brigade Plans

At a meeting of the fire-brigade executive committee on Tuesday the following plan was devised for fighting fires. In case of alarm the lieutenants in whose district the fire occurs shall go immediately to their stations to make sure the fire is not there, and going through their territory in this way locate the fire. Schaufler '13 will have charge of the fire house.

The brigade will answer all calls and will be excused from recitations when an alarm is sounded. At present the town fire department will take precedence at all fires. In a letter to Mr. Stetson the committee recommended the placing of fire alarms in all buildings and dormitories. Fire instructions will be printed later and circulated throughout the college.

1916 Wins First Fencing Match

In a match held last evening between the halves of the basketball game the freshman fencing team defeated the juniors with a total of 24 points to their opponents' 15. The individual scores were as follows: Reed '16 (Capt.)—6, Mackay '14 (Capt.)—4; Kepner '16—10, Hayes '14—5; Stetson '16—8, Hinkle '14—6.

Notice to Seniors

Campbell '14 will be in the managers' office in Jesup Hall each evening the remainder of this week from 7.30 to 8.00 o'clock to receive orders for cap and gowns from members of the senior class.

TALENTED ORGANIST TO RENDER RECITAL

FIRST CONCERT IN SERIES

T. Tertius Noble to Play This Evening in Grace Hall—Attractive Program Offered

As previously announced in the Record, T. Tertius Noble, the talented and distinguished organist of York Minster, England, will render the first recital of the special subscription series this evening at 8.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. While the admission will be free to all members of the college community, as in the case of the Thompson Course entertainments, 50 cents will be charged outsiders. Reserved seats will all be sold at the same price. Mr. Edward Kraft of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, will play at the next recital on February 27.

Announcement has recently been made by the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-third Street, New York City, that Mr. Noble had been engaged as organist and choirmaster at that church, to begin his duties at the completion of his present tour of the United States and Canada. Thus far the brilliant musician has been received with the greatest enthusiasm and numerous press comments declare him an organist of highest attainment and tremendous energy with a rare manipulation, which demonstrates the power and sweetness of the instrument.

Mr. Noble will render the following program:

Agitato in D minor Josef Rheinberger
This piece is the first movement of Sonata No. 11, a splendid example of the composer's genius. The introduction is of considerable length, very vigorous and agitated in style. Both subjects are developed with much skill, the first dignified, and the second, in the relative major, extremely melodious.

Elegy { T. Tertius Noble
Finale {
The first of these two charmingly contrasted pieces is founded on a very simple theme and the development is far from complex throughout, while the Finale is short and of a wild and vigorous character. It concludes abruptly in one tremendous burst of triumph.

Chorale Prelude—"Wachet auf" J. S. Bach

The theme in this beautiful melody is founded on the well-known tune to "Sleepers Wake."

Dithyramb Basil Harwood
Much of the music in this piece is very wild and passionate, but there is a lovely theme used as a second subject, finely contrasted with the impassioned and stormy music which precedes and follows it.

Lento Carl Reinecke
This is the introduction to the fifth act of the opera, "Manfred". It is very simple in character and makes a charming organ piece.

Two Pieces E. A. MacDowell
These pieces are taken from the "Woodland Sketches", which was originally written for piano solo.

Sonata in A minor Felix Borowski
This sonata, consisting of three movements, is extremely modern in feeling; much of the music may even be described as daring. The modulations are most striking yet always musical and very satisfying.

To Entertain Freshmen

At the fifth tea of the series, given for the members of the class of 1916 under the auspices of the W. C. A., several ladies connected with the faculty will preside. The reception is to begin at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon and will be held in the Common Room of Currier Hall.

Trustees to Revise Stipend

Alumni and others who do not come in contact with actual college conditions and tendencies, frequently obtain an incorrect or exaggerated opinion of the various problems which directly concern the administration, the Faculty, and the undergraduates. Whatever may be the causes for misunderstandings of this nature, it is our desire in so far as the course is consistent with our primary function as an undergraduate newspaper, to present to those absent from Williamstown such information upon pertinent subjects as will enable competent judgment.

One problem of importance which will receive consideration at the meeting of the Trustees in February is that of changing the stipend of scholarship men. This problem is of vital concern to the democracy of the college and it is cause for rejoicing that the Trustees have decided to view the change of stipend as a substantial method to check any tendency to make of Williams a college at which only the man of means could feel at ease. It is an opinion generally held by the undergraduates that of recent years it has become more and more difficult for the man in need of financial assistance to go through Williams. No doubt has been entertained as to the possibilities of remedy for this unfortunate tendency. A review of some of the facts in the case, moreover, will serve to show that the Trustees, undoubtedly possessing more complete data on the subject, will take measures to provide adequately for the situation.

Under the present system of awarding scholarships, which was adopted in 1898, stipends varying according to the standing of the recipient in curriculum work during the previous semester, are given to undergraduates who need financial assistance. During the last years, the number of men receiving what are known as
"general scholarships" under this system, has decreased considerably. Statistics of the number of men receiving aid in each of the last ten classes are as follows:
1907-49; 1908-38; 1909-31; 1910-
24; 1911-30; 1912-37; 1913-17;
1914-25; 1915-20; 1916-16. Although the statistics for the last three classes are necessarily incomplete, the figures given above indicate the general tendency.

The cost of living during the last decade has increased rapidly and it is reasonable to suppose that a proportionate increase in the scholarship payments is desirable. Many other factors have doubtless entered into the diminution in the number of scholarship men at Williams, but upon this cause we can obtain definite data and certain statistics which may prove interesting. The man who entered in 1903 paid as a minimum per semester $52.50 for his tuition, $4 for his room, and $72 for his board. The man who entered in 1912 paid $70 for his tuition, $25 for his room, and $90 for his board. The aggregate increase in these three items, amounting to $56.50, has been accompanied by an increase in the scholarship stipend of only $12.50. Next fall the tuition will again be raised. A substantial increase in scholarship payments would therefore seem to be necessary to attract to Williams more of the men of limited means without whom no college body can be complete.

So varied are the circumstances encountered in the different educational institutions of the East that a comparison of the opportunities offered for the scholarship man cannot be given without a detailed study. Were it our desire to make this subject the issue for a campaign, we should undertake and invite further discussion. Inasmuch as the matter will be dealt with by the Trustees, however, such a course seems unwarranted.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record:

Sir:
In behalf of the Williams Society for the Study of Socialism, I wish to call the attention of the student body to the lecture of Mr. Bouck White which will be given in Jesup Hall, Friday night, January 24, as announced in the Monday issue of the "Record", and as advertised by the posters placed about town. The aim of this Society is to encourage an interest in the study of Socialism in Williams, and to dispel some of the popular superstition and ignorance concerning it, which is only too prevalent in the minds of the vast majority of the men here. Sooner or later we will have to run up against it whether we like it or not, and it behooves us to take advantage of good opportunities to learn about the movement from leaders of it. The public lectures held from time to time under the auspices of this Society, are one means of bringing the student body in active touch with a world-wide and important movement;
and for this purpose, we try to secure men who are recognized authorities on this subject. But the final success of our efforts will only be obtained thru the support of the student body, and it is to you that we appeal to show your interest by attending these lectures. There is a tendency here to sneer at Socialism and condemn it—a tendency born of ignorance. This Society is not a recruiting ground for Socialists nor a propaganda organization; we merely wish to disseminate a little knowledge concerning Socialism; we have no quarrel with the opponents of this movement who know what they are talking about. We therefore urge your attendance at the meeting on Friday, where you may learn something about Socialism, and will have a chance to ask questions.

SEVEN AT AMHERST

Hockey Team to Meet Purple and White Saturday

In the second out-of-town game of the 1912-1913 hockey season Williams will meet the Amherst seven on the Pratt rink, Amherst, Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Owing to the lack of ice the varsity has been unable to hold practice during the past week. With four veteran players, Captain Wilcox, Benedict, King, and Seymour the Amherst team began practice immediately after the Christmas recess, under the direction of Coach Denesha. Unfavorable weather conditions forced the management to cancel the first three games with Trinity, S. T. S., and M. A. C.

The Williams seven will leave Williamstown on the 4.56 train Friday afternoon, spending the night at the Draper Hotel in Northampton. The probable line up of the two teams is as follows:

WILLIAMS		AMHERST
Rogers, Cole	goal	Bedford
MacNamee	point	Benedict
Michael	cover point	Smith
Gillette	rover	Seymour
de Bronkurt	center	Wilcox
Swain	left wing	King
Curtis, L. L. Lewis	right wing	Bacon
Peacock of Pittsfield will probably re- ceive

Peacock of Pittsfield will probably referee.

Debaters Chosen Tomorrow

Final trials for the varsity debating team in the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams triangular league will be held tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Thompson Biological Laboratory. Each man will be allowed to speak for ten minutes, at least three minutes of which must be spent in rebuttal. Six debaters and two alternates will be chosen.

The following schedule has been arranged for the trials:

Negative	Affirmative
Hinkle '14 7.30	Van Doren '14 7.30
Daly '13 7.40	Kepner '16 7.50
Troy '13 8.00	Day '16 8.10
Trevor '13 8.20	Pratt '13 8.30
Glock '14 8.40	Freeman '16 8.50
Keller '15 9.00
Haynes '14 9.10

Profs. Taylor, Smith and McElfresh will act as judges.

Noted Frenchman to Speak

Prof. Emile Legouis, the Hyde exchange professor at Harvard University, will lecture before an open meeting of the English Club Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Common Room, Currier Hall, on the subject, "The Teaching of English in French Universities". Prof. Legouis is regarded as the foremost English scholar in France, and has written several well-known books, among which are, "The Early Life of Wordsworth" and "Anthology of English Literature". For the past eight years he has held the position of Professor of English Literature at the Sorbonne, Paris.

Prize for Arbitration Essay

Once more, through the generosity of Chester Dewitt Pugsley of Peekskill, New York, Harvard '09, a prize of $100 has been offered for the best essay on "International Arbitration" submitted by any undergraduate male student of any college or university in the United States or Canada. The contest will close on March 15, 1913 and the award of the prize will be made at the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration in May, 1913, to which the winner will be invited.

CONCLUDING LECTURE IN CIVIL WAR SERIES

Confederate States Conquered by North Because of Industrial Starvation

Prof. T. C. Smith gave his second lecture on the general topic "Some Aspects of the Civil War" Tuesday afternoon in the Common Room. In this address he explained the reasons for the ultimate success of the North. In the first place, the Union was under the guidance of Lincoln. By his tenacity, coolness, and patience, he kept the feelings of the North steady and true. He had a great power of judging what his people would support and, in addition to this he could meet changing circumstances. Secondly, foreign powers were prevented from interfering by the work of W. H. Seward and S. F. Adams. Seward, with great skill kept the North quiet, and refused to interfere with the affairs of the empire set up in Mexico by Napoleon III. Acting thus, he gave the French no grounds for offense. Adams, at that time minister to England, carried out the difficult task of preventing the interference of England. He was singularly fitted for this work because of his personality and his ability to meet the English on their own ground. The third reason is that the South was without internal resources, strangled by the blockade. Railroad traffic was tied up and manufactures had ceased almost entirely. The South died from industrial starvation. At this time the North adopted a new method of warfare. Grant was given entire charge of the military end of the war. The administration provided the supplies and ammunition. The South, in this broken condition was continually besieged by Grant with his overwhelming forces. In the last campaign, the North exerted its full strength against the south weakened, and devoid of its resources.

Prof. Milham will give the next in the series of Faculty lectures Tuesday afternoon at the usual time on "What We See in the Heavens".

To Elect Class Managers

Four class meetings will be held within the next five days for the election of class baseball managers. In addition to this, the sophomores will elect a Prom. committee and a class debating manager, and the freshmen will choose a debating manager. The time and place of the meetings follow: 1915, this evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Jesup Hall auditorium; 1913, tomorrow evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Jesup Hall reading room; 1914, Monday evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Jesup Hall auditorium; 1916, Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall reading room. In the event of the sophomores not being able to complete their business this evening, another meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall auditorium.

of modern scientific engineering will be completed in all probability by next September.

The last views of the Canal proper showed the operations at the Pacific end: the Pedro Miguel locks, the Chagres river and the great breakwater on the coast. One of the most striking results of Uncle Sam's regime on the Isthmus is seen in the remarkable change that has occurred in sanitary and living conditions. Improvement in this respect is due for the most part to the admirable work of Colonel Geethals.

Mr. Wyndham closed his lecture with several sunset and moonlight scenes taken on the Panama coast.

SUDDEN DECEASE OF DR. E. B. PARSONS LONG IN WILLIAMS SERVICE

Death Removes Former Registrar of College After Gradual Breakdown in Health

Dr. Eben Burt Parsons, 1859, who for over twenty years acted as secretary of the Williams Faculty and registrar of the college, passed away early yesterday morning at his home in College Place. For the past few years, Dr. Parsons had been gradually failing in health, but not until ten days ago did he take to his bed. Even then, he seemed in no immediate danger until a few hours before the end came.

On March 3, 1835, Eben Burt Parsons was born in Pittsfield, Mass., where he received his early education, preparatory to entering Williams College with the class of 1859. Following his graduation from college with honors, he accepted a position as principal of the High School at Greenfield, Mass., and three years later as professor of mathematics in Cooper Institute, New York City. In 1862, he obtained the degree of M. A. from Williams. After three years of study at the Union and Auburn Theological Seminaries, Dr. Parsons was called to take the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church in Baldwinsville, N. Y., where he remained twenty-two years, refusing in the meantime an offer which was made to him to fill the chair of mathematics at Rutgers College. Maryville College honored him in 1881 with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1888, he became secretary of the Faculty and registrar of Williams College, positions which he held until 1909, when he retired from all business activities, save only his duties as secretary of the class of 1859, which he had faithfully carried on since his graduation from Williams. Dr. Parsons was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities.

The death of Dr. Parsons has removed from the college community one of its most valuable and faithful servants. In the capacity for many years as secretary of the alumni, he kept Williams graduates in close touch with the college and its affairs through frequent personal letters to men in all parts of the country. Much of his most valuable service to the college came through his wonderful co-operation with the administration. Throughout his connection with Williams, Dr. Parsons was always very popular among all members of the community, and alumni, returning to Williamstown, were ever in the habit, first of all, of paying him a visit in his home on College Place. Dr. Parsons had a remarkable memory for names and

Exchange Professor Here

Taking as his subject, "The Teaching of English in French Universities", Prof. Emile Legouis, the Hyde exchange professor at Harvard University, will lecture before an open meeting of the English Club at 8 o'clock this evening in the Common Room of Currier Hall. Besides having won the reputation of being the foremost English scholar in France, Prof. Legouis has become distinguished as an author of "The Early Life of Wordsworth" and "Anthology of English Literature". For the past eight years he has been Professor of English Literature at the Sorbonne.

CLASS-CONSCIOUSNESS DISCUSSED IN LECTURE

Mr. Bouck White Treats Three Objects of Socialist Propaganda

"Class-consciousness, that is the solidarity of the producer class against the non-producer class, is a definition of Socialism," said Mr. Bouck White, Harvard '96 in preface to a speech given last night in the Jesup Hall auditorium under the auspices of the Socialist Society. Class-consciousness is important because of the hordes of idlers which we find in the world. Tremendous riches should not be handed down from father to son.

There are three distinct benefits of class-consciousness: the amalgamation of America's polyplot host, the federation of the world whereby war shall become an impossibility, and the preventing of high-spiritedness from dying out of the human heart.

The strike at Lawrence showed how a common cause will do more in a month to knit men together than years of social work. Socialism is the greatest peace society in existence because in teaching the workingmen the foolishness of fighting against brother workingmen from another country it makes the very people who have to bear the brunt of a war strive to prevent it. As to the claim that this will start a class strife, there is but one answer. Socialism is declaring a class war against the idlers. The non-producer must be done away with.

And finally as to the charge that Socialists are inflaming the masses. "We are inflaming the masses. The masses need to be inflamed. The danger of a shop keeping age such as ours is not the boiling over of the kettle; but is lest the fire be drawn from under and the boiling stop altogether. For vices of civilization are taking the place of the vices of barbarism, and they are more to be feared."

"Cow" Competition a Feature

Although the frontispiece of the January number of The Purple Cow is mediocre, the announcement of the competition on the reverse of the page is excellent—a distinctive feature in a very readable issue. Both in idea and in treatment the discourse on Sunday evening chapel surpasses the other editorials. Of the drawings, the double page picture of the class hockey season is well conceived and "Two Darks" is very well done. A good selection of "Stolen Fruit" helps to make up for the marked lack of short jokes in the number. The reader finds "Bud" a human interest story of fair ability and "Sketches from the Front" a drawing well calculated to cause a stampede for the scene portrayed. Although this month's instalment of "Bible Stories for the Young" is admirably handled, the talent of the writer might be directed with less questionable taste to a different topic.

Troy '13 on Aldrich Bank Plan

At a meeting of the Perry Economics Club which will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in 17 Jesup Hall, Troy '13 will present a paper on the Aldrich Banking Plan.

FIVE MEETS COLGATE AT HAMILTON TONIGHT FIRST OUT-OF-TOWN GAME

Squad of Eight Men Taken on Trip—Home Team Has Good Record to Date

Williams will oppose the strong Colgate team to-day at Hamilton, N. Y., in the third basketball game of the season. Since 1901 six games have been played between the two institutions, all of which resulted in victories for the Purple. In 1911 Williams defeated the Maroon players by the score of 32 to 29 and last year they again won in a 19-12 game.

Regular practice for the Colgate team began on November 20, when about twenty men including four veterans reported to coach Huntington.

The results of the three games played to date follows:

Toronto 34; Colgate 52
Rochester 31; Colgate 37
Union 28; Colgate 22

The last game played discouraged the coach and captain. Excepting yesterday hard practice has been held every day this week. In the game against Union the Colgate players did not display the form which they had exhibited in either of the previous games and lacked good team work. Following is the line-up for the game to-day: forwards, Hammond (capt.), Johnson, Kennedy; center, Connors; guards, Rich, Lanni, Huntington and Benzoni.

The following men of the varsity squad left for Hamilton yesterday afternoon: Freeman, Brown, Narten, Page, Victor '13; Dempsey, Hay and Langford '15. Hodge will be unable to play on account of his weak ankle. The team will probably line up as it did in the Union game. On Thursday the squad held a short practice which consisted mainly in signal work and basket shooting.

Progress in League

Two games in the intramural basketball league were played yesterday afternoon. In League A Delta Upsilon defeated Zeta Psi by the close score of 12-11, and in League B Chi Psi won from Prindle's with a final score of 16 to 8.

The schedule for this afternoon is as follows: 2 p. m. League A—Connors vs. Delta Psi; League C—Cosmo vs. Delta Delta; 3 p. m. League A—Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Sigma Phi; League B—Alpha Zeta Alpha vs. Phi Delta Theta; 4 p. m. League B—Kappa Alpha vs. McCoy's; League C—Theta Delta Chi vs. Psi Omega.

Faculty Dance Postponed

The faculty dance scheduled to be held this evening at the Williams Inn has been indefinitely postponed.

1915 Elects Prom. Committee

At a meeting of the sophomore class in Jesup Hall Thursday evening, the following men were elected to the Promenade committee: Hay, Hubbell, MacNance, Porter, and N. Williams. Carver was chosen class debating manager. The Prom. committee met immediately after the class meeting and elected Williams chairman.

The class will meet Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall to elect a baseball manager.

STRONG SWIMMING TEAMS AT AMHERST AND BROWN

Williams' Tank Opponents Hold Encouraging Practices—Over 25 Men Report

The swimming teams of Amherst, Brown and Cornell, which will oppose the Williams swimmers next March, have been holding regular practices during the past few months in the gymnasium tanks of the respective colleges in preparation for coming intercollegiate meets.

More than 25 men have been reporting for practice at Amherst, including a strong nucleus of five from last year's team. This is the largest squad which Amherst has ever had, and prospects point to a very successful season, since only two men, Captain Carter and McFarland, were lost by graduation. As several candidates are showing up well in each event, the team will be well-balanced, though lacking in individual stars. The Amherst schedule includes dual meets with Harvard and Brown, and the triangular meet with Brown and Williams.

Although Brown has lost three men from among last year's swimmers the outlook for a fast team is very bright. Captain Smith and Harris in the relay, McLaughlin in the middle distance swims, and Goldberg and Gottstein in the plunge are at present the strongest men reporting from the 1912 squad. Several freshmen, who will be eligible to swim after the mid-year examinations, have been developed to fill vacancies on the relay team and in the sprints. The Brown manager has arranged six certain and three tentative dates for meets during the next two months.

Practice has been held three times a week by candidates for the Cornell swimming team. Nearly fifty men have been reporting to Coach Walker, of the 1911 team, who has instituted a series of bi-monthly meets to raise the interest of the competitors. As handicaps are given, any undergraduate may enter any event. A silver cup has been offered as a prize to the winner of the highest number of points during the entire series of meets.

Debating Teams Chosen

As a result of the final debating trials held in the Thompson Biological Laboratory last evening the following men were chosen to represent Williams in the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams debate on March 6: Daly, Pratt, Trevor '13, Hinkle '14, Keller '15, and Kepner '16. Glock and Haynes '14 were chosen alternates. Professors McElfresh, Taylor and Smith acted as judges.

Amherst Cancels Hockey Game

The varsity hockey management received word yesterday from Amherst that owing to the lack of ice the game scheduled for this afternoon with the Amherst seven on the Pratt Field Rink would be cancelled. Continued warm weather has prevented all practice by the varsity squad and the interclass games have been indefinitely postponed.

Council to Meet Monday

A meeting of the Athletic Council will be held next Monday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in 16 Jesup Hall to consider routine business.

PLEASING RECITAL BY FAMOUS ORGANIST MODERN MUSIC PLAYED

T. Tertius Noble Renders Selections with Admirable Technique and Skill

Mr. Noble, in his recital Thursday evening, gave a delightful presentation of some of the best modern music. His programme was chosen from modern writings of the finest calibre, of great intellectuality and power. He showed the best of taste and a most unusual courage. He apparently did not forsake music that was highly developed because it was also "high-brow".

Mr. Noble played this wild modern music with such force and such perfect understanding that one almost imagined that all the pieces were his own composition. He displayed a most admirable technique; he played all the different parts—enormous chords, complicated runs, and fine delicate bits, with a power and assurance that revealed the real master. It was unfortunate that some meddling had disturbed the pistons which connected large groups of stops, but Mr. Noble showed no signs of being handicapped.

The programme opened with an Agitato in D Minor from Rheinberger's Eleventh Sonata. This piece was bold and fantastic, and full of rapid and complicated runs that gave it brilliancy. But it was not rent in the modern manner, with conflicting passions; it was very self contained, and showed that Rheinberger had been a careful student of Bach. Mr. Noble's two compositions, which followed, were widely contrasted, and showed the modern spirit of music, in the mere arrangement. The Elegie was a picture of perfect peace—suggesting a calm sunny day by the ocean (perhaps too jolly an idea from an elegy!) The Finale developed first a catchy, (almost Spanish) dance melody, and worked into a big climax. After this came a Choral Prelude by Bach (based on the tune of "Sleepers' Wake.") The interweaving and answering of themes in this piece was perfect, and Mr. Noble made all this clear—he made each voice sing out its part with distinct individual expression.

The Prelude was followed by a composition of Basil Harwood's, Dithyramb. Here especially appeared the wildness and contrast of the modern music—sudden changes of mood—from heat into calmness, and then back into noisy fury. Such great extremes of passion shock us, because they are so unlike our own well regulated experiences, and when we get carried beyond our depth, we are apt to declare stoutly that the thing is "overdone." Besides these contrasts, we also endure masses of discords that become more and more entangled until we half imagine the organist's hands are playing in different keys. And then comes a glorious resolution of it all, that makes some of us feel that the pain was worth while. So arduous sometimes is the task of appreciation! This type of music was best illustrated in this Dithyramb and also in the A Minor Sonata of Borowski, with which the recital closed. The Dithyramb was especially broken and illogical; it was more than freakish and seemed to have a touch of madness in it. The Sonata had a similar style in the two allegro movements, but the andante contained a few gentle plaintive themes that made it especially attractive.

The Lento of Reinecke was light, and refreshed the audience.

The two Woodland Sketches of MacDowell that followed, were excellent pieces of description. The Indian Lodge possessed a stern dignity (although perhaps of all the Woodland Sketches it most nearly deserves MacDowell's own title of "rotten

Antidotes for Provincialism

Provincialism to a certain degree is necessarily fostered by college training, especially when that training is secured in a small institution offering a purely Arts course and located in a small New England village surrounded by the ancient Berkshires. Provincialism acquired through the pursuit of a definite course in curriculum and extra-curriculum activities is perhaps to a large extent desirable; but the fact that a more or less hard and fast routine is thereby practically forced upon the undergraduate makes it more than ever imperative that he should take advantage of every opportunity to break out of the narrow ruts of his course.

To be truly broad-minded the college man must be in sympathy with modern conditions,—not necessarily a connoisseur of 1914 six-cylinder cars nor an expert in the latest sartorial effects,—but a man cognizant of social problems with more than a national significance and of important tendencies and occurrences in the farthest corner of the earth. Two organizations in Williams College, not large in numerical strength or general popularity, suggest themselves to us as organizations of importance because they counteract, or should counteract, our provincial tendencies. One is the Socialist Club, which provided a lecture last night on the "Call of Class Consciousness to the College Man". In whatever way we regard the socialist movement, it is one worthy of thoughtful consideration and we wonder how many of the 492 undergraduates who were not present in Jesup Hall last night have any adequate conception of it or have ever attempted to gain such a conception. The other organization is the Cerele Francais. In considering such a subject as French military aviation, it is touching upon a field which should appeal to the average student; and fortunately he is welcome. We trust that this "Cerele" is not to be of merely temporary existence and that the spontaneous enthusiasm which marked its beginning will spread to a large proportion of the undergraduates. Above all we hope that it will continue its policy of aiming to stimulate the average man and of not limiting its scope by scholarship restrictions.

Lawrenceville Club Elects

At a meeting of the Lawrenceville School Club on Monday night the following officers were elected: president, Troy '13; vice president, Herriek '14; secretary, Bowne '15; treasurer, B. C. Eaton '15. Mr. Hewitt was elected to honorary membership in the club.

Dr. Parsons is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara Bigelow Parsons; one son, Dr. Payn B. Parsons '92, of New York City; and three daughters, Mrs. William R. melodies". As an encore (after hearty applause) Mr. Noble improvised. Here the wild spirit of modern music which had been up to that time confined within the structures formed by other artists, now found its freedom. Here Mr. Noble, who was himself delighted with the organ, enjoyed himself the most, and appeared at his best.

On the whole, one could not ask for a better recital of modern organ work.

Plans Made for Easter Trip

Manager Swift has made the following tentative plans for the Easter trip of the Combined Musical Clubs. The men will leave Williamstown Wednesday, March 19, and give the first concert that evening in Hudson, N. Y. at St. Mary's Hall. On the following day, the clubs will go to Poughkeepsie where they will render the second entertainment at the Columbus Institute Auditorium. The third concert will be given Friday evening at the Good Citizenship League Building of Flushing, L. I. The tour will be concluded with the entertainment Saturday night at the Hotel Plaza, New York City. A dance in the ball room will follow the concert after which the clubs will disband.

Class Relay Men Race at 3

Interclass relay work will end this afternoon with the interclass races on the board track on the Old Campus at 3.00 o'clock. The seniors will meet the juniors and the sophomores will run against the freshmen. The following teams will represent their respective classes: 1913, Dewey (captain), Boynton, L. L. Lewis, Lyman; 1914, Rising (captain), French, Jones, Moffat; 1915, Driscoll (captain), Gregor, Hubbell, Wrigley; 1916, Hyde (captain), Brazier, Hayes, Overton. Mr. Seely will act as starter, Mygatt '13 as judge at the finish, and Flanders, R. V. Lewis, and McLeod '13 as timers. Numerals will be awarded as usual to members of both winning teams.

French Lead in War Aeroplanes

Mr. Albert Cru addressed a meeting of the Cerele Francais held Thursday evening in the Common Room on the subject, "Military and Maritime Aviation". He showed the great extent to which the aeroplane has been adapted to warfare and coast defence by the French and pointed out the lead France has taken in the newest corps of the service. Figures of the number of military aeroplanes maintained by the leading nations show France first with 500, England second with 150, the United States third with 120, and Germany fourth with 60.

Kelley Senior Manager

At a meeting of the senior class in Jesup Hall last evening Frank Sampson Kelley of Chatham, N. J. was elected class baseball manager for the coming season.

The juniors will meet Monday evening at 7.15 o'clock in Jesup Hall to choose a baseball manager, while the freshmen will gather in the reading room Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock for the same purpose.

MR. NOBLE INTERVIEWED

Noted Musician Praises Grace Hall and Its Organ

Mr. T. Tertius Noble, whose organ recital in Grace Hall was enthusiastically received Thursday evening, consented to give some of his views on America and especially on Grace Hall to a Record reporter.

Mr. Noble was enthusiastic over the Grace Hall organ, which he declared to be one of the most beautiful he had put fingers on in America. Its artistic voicing he characterized as remarkable. Mr. Noble was impressed with the excellent acoustic properties of Grace Hall and with the fine art displayed throughout the construction of the interior of the building, which he believed to be one of the most beautiful halls he had ever seen. He termed the plan of having well known organists play in Grace Hall a "most excellent idea". Its educational possibilities, he felt, are large, for opportunity is given to hear men of various styles.

After six more weeks in this country, Mr. Noble will return to England for a farewell visit before becoming organist of St. Thomas' Church in New York City.

Of American music, the distinguished organist has not had much time to judge, since in the short period he has been in this country the Boston Symphony Orchestra has been the only organization of note which he has had opportunity of hearing. This he considers to be a "magnificent organization with a beautiful tone quality".

Alumnus in Pulpit Tomorrow

Dr. Willard Scott '75 of Brookline will occupy the pulpit tomorrow morning and address the regular meeting of the Christian Association in the evening. Dr. Scott received the degree of A.B. from Williams in 1875, of B.D. from Union Theological Seminary in 1878, and of D.D. from Beloit in 1892 and Williams in 1900. Ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1879, he has since then held pastorates in New York, Omaha, Chicago, Worcester and Brookline. He is recognized as one of the foremost American humorists and one of the best after-dinner speakers in the country. Dr. Scott has not preached at Williams since 1903. Previous to that time he spoke here regularly, being voted by the senior class on one occasion as the most popular speaker of the year.

Collegiate Teams on Schedule

Fencing practice is being held regularly three times a week in the basement of Williams Hall. Manager Swift has arranged for a quadrangular meet with Columbia, Springfield, Y. M. C. A. College, and Yale, subject to the ratification of the Athletic Council. The meet with Columbia will be held in New York City on April 12, but the dates of the remaining bouts are as yet indefinite. Negotiations are under way for a match with the newly formed Harvard fencing team at Cambridge.

COLGATE DEFEATED BY VARSITY, 23-19

PAGE STARS FOR PURPLE

Close Guarding and Accurate Shooting Characterize Game at Hamilton

In a game marked by extremely accurate shooting on the part of Williams, the varsity basketball five defeated Colgate 23 to 19 last Saturday evening in Hamilton, N. Y. Although Williams exhibited great ability in following the ball, the Purple team scored a majority of its baskets from over half the length of the floor. Freeman made the highest individual score of the game, with one basket from the floor and five out of nine free throws from fouls. He also aided greatly in the team-work of the varsity and held his opponent scoreless. Hay, aided by excellent passing, was able to make three baskets from the floor. His opponent shot an equal number. Page was a great factor in the strength of the varsity and prevented Captain Hammond from tallying, although the latter had made a record of nineteen baskets in the three previous games played by Colgate. Kennedy with three and Huntington with two baskets to their credit excelled for Colgate. In the first half, the varsity easily outplayed their opponents and obtained a substantial lead which the home team was unable to overcome. Poor shooting characterized the work of the Colgate players throughout the game, although the substitution of four new men in the second half considerably strengthened their line-up.

Victor started the scoring for the varsity with a basket from over half the length of the floor, but Connors and Kennedy followed with tallies for Colgate from difficult angles. Page caged a basket on a one-handed shot, and Hay scored on fast teamwork while under close guard. Lanni's basket from foul was followed by two out of three free tries by Freeman. Dempsey scored on a long shot and after a short rally by Colgate, Page made his second basket. Dempsey again tallied and Hay scored from a pass by Victor. A basket from foul by Freeman and a long shot by Kennedy ended the scoring of the first half. Williams 17, Colgate 8.

With two new guards for Colgate in the second half, the home team rallied at once. Hammond scored on a foul and Huntington made another tally from the center of the floor. Freeman scored on a foul, but two goals on long shots decreased Williams' lead to three points. After Hay had caged his third basket, Bourne replaced Kennedy, scored from under the basket and followed with a foul. Johnson replaced Hammond. A foul on Colgate resulted in one point for Williams and Freeman clinched the game by scoring from the center of the court. Johnson made the last score for the Maroon on a goal from beneath the basket.

The summary follows:

WILLIAMS	COLGATE
Freeman rf	lg Rich, Benzoni
Dempsey lf	rg Lanni, Huntington
Victor c	c Connors
Hay rg	lf Kennedy, Bourne

Score—Williams 23, Colgate 19. Baskets from floor—Hay 3, Dempsey 2, Page 2, Freeman, Victor; Kennedy 3, Huntington 2, Bourne, Connors, Johnson. Baskets from fouls—Freeman 5; Bourne, Hammond, Lanni. Fouls called—on Williams 9; on Colgate 9. Timers—Lincoln (W), Piper (C). Referee—Crawshaw. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Council Meets Today

A meeting of the Athletic Council will be held this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in 16 Jesup Hall to consider routine business.

FRENCH ABLE CRITICS OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

Prof. Legouis Delivers Scholarly Address on French University Methods

"The origin of English literary criticism in France," said Prof. Emile Legouis, Hyde exchange professor at Harvard University, in his address before an open meeting of the English Club in the Common Room Saturday evening, "is not to be sought in the distant past but in the lifetime of the present generation". From the number, size and quality of doctor's theses in the French Universities on English literature, we see that many young Frenchmen are devoting their lives to the study of English and American authors. French writers endeavor to reconcile and blend the two methods of criticism: the one, erudite and objective; the other, esthetic and subjective. Typical of their work,—differing from the rest in degree not in kind—is Auguste Angellier's Robert Burns. It passes muster with the scholar and on the other hand appeals to the mass of the people.

No ready-made plan exists of teaching English literature in France, since the masters of the subject have all taught in their own spirit. The French have no system which could be adopted by American or English Universities, for to them the works of English literature are necessarily foreign and distant. French students are expected to read English nearly as fast as French, and absolute accuracy in translation is made the touchstone of their progress. This translation tests the student's understanding of short difficult passages.

Admiration and reverence for English literature dominates the French student of English, who tends to fall in love with the matter of his study. Prof. Legouis closed his interesting and scholarly lecture by voicing the hope that French literature would be studied in English and American universities with the same interest and devotion with which English literature was regarded by French students.

Philosopher to Speak Feb. 5

Prof. Rudolf Eucken, who will address the Philosophical Union on "Naturalism and Idealism" at 8.00 o'clock, Wednesday evening, February 5, in the Jesup Hall auditorium, left Boston last Saturday accompanied by his wife and daughter on a brief tour before returning to his home in Jena, Germany. With the possible exception of Bergson, Prof. Eucken is conceded to be the most celebrated philosopher in Europe. For many years, he has been professor of philosophy at Jena University, and in 1912 he received the Alfred Nobel Prize, part of which is awarded annually by the Academy of Science at Stockholm to "the man who shall have produced in the field of literature the most distinguished work of an idealist tendency". Prof. Eucken is the first philosopher to attain this honor. During his stay in Cambridge as Exchange Professor to Harvard, he has given many lectures and informal conferences, in which he has inspired in his listeners new insight in and impetus toward philosophical thinking. Prof. Eucken's lecture will be open to the public.

"The Motives of Christianity"

Dr. Willard Scott '75 of Brookline addressed the regular Sunday evening meeting of the W. C. A. last night in Jesup Hall, taking as his subject "The Motives of Christianity". Many years ago the motive of the Christian worker was to save the souls of those in the church. About 1878, with the masterful preaching of Mr. Moody there arose the motive for the salvation of those outside the pale or organized Christianity. Young men of this generation should purpose taking their place in the great army of progress and should assist the great institutions of the twentieth century.

MR. AND MRS. MANNES IN CONCERT THURSDAY

SECOND OF THOMPSON COURSE

Violin and Piano Recital by Famous Ensemble Artists in Grace Hall

Mr. and Mrs. David Mannes, who appeared in the final entertainment of the Thompson Series last spring, will give a violin and piano recital on Thursday evening at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall. This will constitute the second number of the present season's Thompson Course. David and Mrs. Mannes have become famous through their series of sonata recitals in New York, Boston and other cities. Mr. Mannes is well known as concert-master of the Damrosch Orchestra and as Director of the Music School Settlement, an enterprise which has had phenomenal success. Mrs. Mannes, the sister of Frank and Walter Damrosch, is a pianist whose gifts have found flattering recognition. Believing that composers have expressed their most intimate thoughts through piano and violin ensemble music, Mr. and Mrs. Mannes have devoted themselves to recitals of this kind, and have constantly aimed to attain perfection in their form of presentation. The recital by these artists on April 18 last was enthusiastically received by an appreciative audience.

The program for Thursday's concert is as follows:

Sonata in F major, Op. 8	Grieg
Allegro con brio
Allegretto quasi Andantino
Allegro molto vivace
Aria for Violin alone	Bach
Menuet	Beethoven
Old Vienna Waltzes	Kreutzer
Prize Song	Wagner
Sonata in G major, Op. 78, No. 1	Brahms

EASY VICTORIES RESULT IN ANNUAL RELAY RACES

Senior Team Batters Track Record Held by 1911—Freshmen Easily Defeated

In the annual interclass relay races which were held Saturday afternoon on the board track, the senior and sophomore teams proved easy winners. The seniors displayed excellent form and their time of 3 minutes 3-5 seconds bettered by 2 1-5 seconds the record made in 1911 by the winning senior aggregation of that year composed of Campbell, Lester, Newton, and St. Denis. Lyman '13 gained an early lead over French '14 at the first corner and, when he touched Dewey, the seniors were leading by about 8 yards. Dewey '13 outran Moffat '14 and increased his team's lead. Jones, the third man for the juniors, ran in splendid form but was unable to make up any of the lost distance over his opponent, Boynton '13. Although L. L. Lewis '13 lost several yards to Rising '14 he was enabled to reach the finish first through the lead obtained early in the race by his team-mates.

The race between the sophomores and freshmen proved an easy victory for the former team. Driscoll, the first man for the sophomores, gained a lead of several yards over Hayes '16 which was maintained by his team-mates, Gregor, over Brazier. Wrigley '15 and Overton '16, the third men for their respective aggregations, ran a comparatively even race, the former having a slight advantage over his opponent at the finish. Habbell '15 increased the sophomores' lead and finished about 12 yards ahead of Hyde. The time for this race was 3 minutes 5 1-5 seconds, exactly the same as that made by the junior team last year consisting of Boynton, Flanders, Lyman, and L. L. Lewis.

Preachers for Exam. Period

Rev. Charles Augustus Barbour, D. D., will occupy the pulpit in the college chapel on Sunday morning, February 2. Dr. Barbour was graduated from Brown University in 1888 and received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the same institution in 1909. After being ordained into the Baptist ministry in 1891, he became pastor of the Lake Avenue Baptist Church of Rochester, N. Y., and remained in that position until 1909. Since then he has occupied his present position of associate-secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Barbour will address the evening meeting of the W. C. A. on the subject "The Long Walk".

On Sunday morning, February 9, Rev. Willis H. Butler of Brookline will preach in the college chapel. He was formerly pastor of the Edwards church in Northampton and has preached several times recently in the college pulpit. The regular W. C. A. meeting on this date will be omitted.

Notice to Seniors

The office is in receipt of several calls for teachers for the second semester of the present year. If any of the members of the class of 1913 are willing to undertake such work, the office will be very glad to receive their names and to recommend them for some of the vacancies that are already in sight.

Members of the same class, who desire to accept business positions at any time after February 9, are requested also to leave their names at the office. Two or three calls from business firms are already at hand.

Frederick C. Ferry
Dean

No Tea Until Feb. 13

On account of examinations the next freshman tea will not be given until Thursday, February 13. This will be the sixth of the series given for the members of the class of 1916 under the auspices of the W. C. A.

TWO MORE BASEBALL GAMES FOR 1913 TEAM

REPRESENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Chinese University of Hawaii on Weston Field—Eight Other Home Contests

Manager Heywood will submit to the Athletic Council this afternoon for ratification the 1913 baseball schedule of sixteen games, two more than were played during the seasons of 1911 and 1912. Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, which last played Williams in 1906, will replace Syracuse on the schedule. The two additional games will be played with West Point, which the Purple has not met since 1909, and with the Chinese University of Hawaii. Nine games are scheduled on Weston Field.

M. A. C. will open the season on the same date as last year. From April 26 to May 24, the varsity will not play in Williamstown, as five out of town games are scheduled in succession. Princeton and Dartmouth have changed positions on the schedule and the dates for the home and out-of-town games with the Green have been interchanged, so that the contest in Hanover will come a week earlier than that on Weston Field. The Yale game comes a week later than last year and that with Holy Cross a week earlier than in the 1912 season. Probably the severest test of the team's strength will come during the week of May 24-31 when the Purple will meet Yale at New Haven and Amherst and Holy Cross on Weston Field. As in 1912, the Vermont game in Commencement week will close the season. Seven out of the last eight games will be played in Williamstown.

The baseball team of the Chinese University of Hawaii, of Honolulu, will reach San Francisco in the latter part of March and will play games scheduled with the representative colleges and universities of the West, Middle West, and the East. On their tour in the season of 1912, they won nine of the fourteen games played including a 6 to 5 victory over the strong Georgetown nine in 15 innings. The team is composed of Chinese students, who are all American citizens.

The schedule subject to ratification by the Athletic Council follows:—

Sat., Apr. 26—M. A. C. at Williamstown
Sat., May 3—Wesleyan at Middletown
Wed., May 7—West Point at West Point

Wed., May 14—Princeton at Princeton
Sat., May 17—Dartmouth at Dartmouth

Thurs., May 22—Amherst at Amherst
Sat., May 24—Dartmouth at Williamstown

Tues., May 27—Yale at New Haven
Fri., May 30—Amherst at Williamstown
Sat., May 31—Holy Cross at Williamstown

Wed., June 4—Harvard at Cambridge
Sat., June 7—S. T. S. at Williamstown
Thurs., June 12—Cornell at Williamstown

Sat., June 14—Wesleyan at Williamstown
Sat., June 21—Chinese University at Williamstown

Mon., June 23—Vermont at Williamstown

Meeting of Verein Tomorrow

Several important matters will be brought up for consideration at the regular monthly meeting of the Deutscher Verein which will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Common Room, Currier Hall. The Committee on membership will present a list of men eligible for membership and several communications received from the Verein at Columbia University relative to the plan for the organization of the various Vereins throughout the county into a united body will be read.

Approaching the Ideal

By increasing the 1913 schedule to sixteen games, the baseball management has made marked progress towards the ideal list of opponents. The increase of two games over the 1911 and 1912 seasons and the choice of new rivals make the present schedule much more representative. West Point has an enviable record in baseball, as it has won three out of four games with the Purple, losing only the 2-1 contest in 1909, when Davis pitched his first full game for Williams. Last season the Chinese University of Hawaii demonstrated its ability by winning nine out of fourteen games on an extended tour, in which it defeated Wisconsin, George town, Seton Hall and Trinity.

To those who may complain at the succession of five out-of-town games in May,
we call attention to the fact that there are two more home games scheduled this year than last and that the team will finish practically all its trips by mid-season.
Recent years have shown, moreover, that Williams can play early season games fully as well on out-of-town diamonds. This succession of games away from home was caused by Dartmouth's Prom. arrangements, which entailed the changing of the dates of the contests in Hanover and Williamstown.

Since the game with Holy Cross could not be arranged for any day except May 31, Williams will meet one very hard week of three games, as was the case in 1912.
Last year, however, the nine played all three games on opponents' diamonds; this season, two of the three games will be played in Williamstown. With the exception of this difficult week, the schedule is admirably arranged for pitchers.

As circumstances prevented the arrangement of a satisfactory date at Ithaca, Cornell, as in 1912, will meet Williams on Weston Field. Vermont seems likely to have an exceptionally strong team and should furnish an exciting game for the Commencement crowds.

Arrangements for games with Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State, and a number of western universities were prevented by the 200-mile rule. Several attempts by Manager Hoywood to secure a game with Brown proved fruitless, since the Providence management failed to take up the offer.

From a financial standpoint, the increase to nine home games, seven of which will be played after May 20, and the arrange ment for eight Saturday games against five last year, seem to assure a successful season.

Editor of Record:

The death of Dr. Parsons has removed from the community a faithful and devoted alumnus of Williams College, and one who for many years gave untiring efforts to its welfare. In these modern days of fuller equipment and of mechanical assistance in the detail of office work it is difficult to measure the accomplishment of his labors. To that portion of his work that was largely clerical he brought infinite patience and untiring industry and in the other manifold duties of his department he rendered loyal service ungrudgingly bestowed and distinguished always by the courtesy and forgetfulness of self that were his innate characteristics. He was ever too modest to realize the amount of work that he performed. No task was irksome, if by assuming it he could render an act of kindness or further the purposes of the college whose welfare was ever in his thoughts. To him every labor, even that of the smallest detail, was an offering of love to his Alma Mater and a part of a sacred trust. Prolonged correspondence, tedious interviews with dotting out irrational parents, the assembling of information for the records of his department required industry, tact and skill and of these he possessed an inexhaustible store. Years ago before Dr. Parsons made his home in Williamstown, the writer then a freshman editor of a college periodical and in sore distress for material asked him for a few "alumni notes". A generous supply came forthwith, and from time to time afterwards, all written in that familiar hand that college generations of Williams men came to know so well. It was no small task to pen these many items amid countless demands upon his time, but of time and strength Dr. Parsons had enough when there came an opportunity for service. Unsparring of self, devoted to the best traditions of the college he loved so well, we recognize in him a conspicuous example of fidelity and loyalty.
Respected by all, loved by his friends for the simple faith and trust that made him tender, good and true, he sleeps scarce an arrow's flight from the room in Hopkins Hall which we who knew him will always associate with his sweet and gentle spirit.
In pace requiescat!

WHY You Should Smoke a MILD Tobacco

GEO. P. JAMES

Geo. P. James, District Passenger Agent of the Atlantic Coast Lines, at Washington, D. C., says:
"I'm a great admirer of Tuxedo. It's cool, pleasant to the taste, and has the happy faculty of keeping my brain 'clear for action'."

Geo. P. James

MAURICE FARKOA

Maurice Farkoa, whose fine tenor voice is heard to such advantage in the Shubert production, "The Merry Countess" says:

"Many fellow singers have complained to me that tobacco smoking hurts their voices. My answer invariably is that they don't smoke Tuxedo. I DO, and I never have any voice trouble. Tuxedo is the ideal smoke."

Maurice Farkoa

ROY NORTON

Roy Norton, well-known writer, author of "The Plunderer", etc., says:

"As a veteran expert in tobacco, I have come to the conclusion that Tuxedo beats them all."

Roy Norton

A MILD tobacco is soothing, restful, healthful. Strong tobacco irritates and may cause nervousness.

Tuxedo is the ideal tobacco. It is the mildest tobacco—yet rich and has a delicious flavor and aroma.

You can smoke Tuxedo all day long—pipeful after pipeful—without making yourself nervous. Tuxedo can't bite your tongue or irritate the delicate membranes of your mouth and throat—because in Tuxedo every unpleasant feature has been removed by the famous "Tuxedo process" of treating the tobacco leaf.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Every new, good thing is imitated. Tuxedo was born in 1904, and is the original in its field.

Since 1904 many imitations of Tuxedo have been created. Not one of them has come within gunshot of the secret process which makes Tuxedo the pleasantest, healthfullest smoke in the world.

Compare the imitators with Tuxedo: look at them, and note the lighter, milder color of Tuxedo; smell them and note the marked superiority of the odor of Tuxedo; smoke Tuxedo in comparison with them and you will feel a difference in taste so sharp that you will never again smoke anything but Tuxedo.

Test Tuxedo by smoking it for a week. At the end of the week your nerves will be steadier, your health will be better—and you will have had the most enjoyable smoke week of your life.

L. LEFAUX

L. Lefaux, Assistant Engineer of the New Orleans Fire Department, says:

"Firemen, above all others, are under an almost continuous stress and strain. I know of no better relief and relaxation for them than Tuxedo. I use it myself—constantly."

L. Lefaux

MARC WRIGHT

Marc Wright, who tied for second place in the pole vault at the Olympic Games, and holds the world's record for that event, says:

"Tuxedo is the tobacco that I smoke—Tuxedo and no other. I prefer it to all other tobaccos because it is mild and slow-burning and doesn't hurt the throat or bite the tongue. Tuxedo gets my vote."

Marc Wright

JOHN T. TAYLOR

John T. Taylor, Pittsburg Commissioner of the Amateur Athletic Union, says:

"Tuxedo has my entire approval as a mild, bracing smoke. No harmful effects from tobacco, if you choose Tuxedo."

WILLIAMS DEFEATS N.H.S. FIVE, 41-19 FREEMAN INDIVIDUAL STAR

Purple Victor Over State Team in First Basketball Game Between the Colleges

In the first basketball game between the two institutions, Williams defeated New Hampshire State College Saturday evening in the Lasell Gymnasium by the score of 41 to 19. Superior team work and greater accuracy in shooting were largely responsible for the Purple's victory, although close guarding by both fives forced the men to resort to long shots. Freeman, the individual star of the game, scored seven baskets from the floor and shot one out of two free tries from the foul line. Page and Hodge scored five baskets each while their opponents scored but one and two goals respectively. Victor repeatedly gained the tipoff and thus enabled his teammates frequently to execute signal formations. Sanborn, with three goals from the floor and one from the foul line, excelled for the visitors.

Came started the scoring for New Hampshire State with an easy basket but Victor offset the visitors' advantage by a splendid shot from the middle of the floor. After Thompson had tallied New Hampshire's second basket, Hodge eaged a difficult goal on an overhand shot from the sideline and immediately scored a second on good team work. Hay's spectacular basket from the middle of the floor was closely followed by Sanborn's first score of the game. Freeman gained a point for the Purple on a goal from foul, and Hodge increased Williams' lead on a tally from a bad angle. Thompson added two points to the Blue and White's score by shooting a difficult goal from a scrimmage under the basket. After two goals by Freeman, the result of consistent team work as well as individual ability—Sanborn scored for the visitors with a basket from the middle of the floor. Page added two points to the varsity's total by a tally from the side line on fast teamplay, Sanborn shot a difficult basket from scrimmage and the half ended with a goal by Page with Williams in the lead 19-13.

Soon after the continuance of play Victor eaged a goal from a scrimmage under the basket. Thompson added two points to the visitors' score before Page made his first goal of the period from an unguarded position near the basket. Then Freeman, failing at a goal from the foul line, scored from scrimmage. After Came had tallied again for the Blue and White, Freeman and Hodge scored in succession as a result of a display of scientific strategy by the Williams five. At this point, Narten was substituted for Hay, Linquist for Bissell, and Jeness for Came. Sanborn missed another goal from foul, and baskets were eaged by Freeman and Linquist. Page scored two successive goals from the side by the clever execution of formations. Narten received an injury to his shoulder and was replaced by Laigford. Freeman ended the scoring with a goal from the side line.

The lineup and summary:
WILLIAMS N. H. S.
Freeman lf lg Thompson
Hodge rf rg Came, Jeness Victor c c Sanborn

INTERCLASS HOCKEY

First Contests Tonight on Rink —M. I. T. Game Canceled

Two hockey games will open the interclass series this evening at 7.45 o'clock on the Weston Field Rink, when the seniors are scheduled to play the sophomores and the juniors will oppose the freshmen. The line-ups of the teams has been announced in a previous issue of the Record. The varsity game with M. I. T., scheduled to be played tomorrow in Boston, has been canceled on account of the inability of the management to obtain the use of the Boston Arena. Owing to the steady warm weather during the early part of the examination period, the hockey team was unable to hold practice until last Thursday. Although the number of men reporting was small, scrimmages were held on Friday and Saturday afternoons. A practice game will be played on the rink Thursday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

RELAY TEAM SUFFERS DEFEAT BY WESLEYAN

Red and Black Wins Close Contest in Annual B. A. A. Meet —Two Records Broken

Wesleyan reversed the outcome of the 1912 relay race with Williams when the Red and Black relay team defeated the Purple last Saturday evening by the scant margin of three yards at the twenty-fourth annual indoor track meet held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association. Wendell was the only veteran on the Wesleyan team, and Lyman the only member of the varsity who had had previous experience in relay work. The race was close and interesting, but the Purple runners never gained the lead after the last lap of the first relay, despite Rising's game attempt to pass Deetjen at the finish. Williams won the toss, and Lyman and Wendell lined up for the start with the former at the pole. The Williams runner gained the first corner before his opponent and took the lead, which he held until the last lap of their relay. On the second last corner, however, Wendell forged ahead and handed a two yard lead to Irving who outdistanced Dewey and widened the gap to 12 yards. Moffat, running against Wood of Wesleyan, struck a fast pace and succeeded in cutting the lead down five yards. In the last relay, however, Rising was unable to overtake Deetjen who beat him to the tape by three yards. The time for the event, 3 minutes and 17 seconds, was 1-5 seconds faster than that made last year. L. L. Lewis entered the 600 yard handicap race and Duryea the 1000 yard run, but neither placed.

As in former years several records were broken in the other track events of the meet. Platt Adams of the N. Y. A. C. established a new world's indoor record for three standing jumps when he covered 34 feet 9 1-2 inches, and the B. A. A. relay team consisting of Burns, Merrihew, Gram, and Halpin lowered the old record of 3 minutes 8 1-5 seconds by 1 1-5 seconds in its race against the Irish American A. C. The Hunter Mile Run was won by Abel Kiviati of the Irish American club in the fast time of 4 minutes 26 2-5 seconds and Oscar Hedlund of the B. A. A., winner of this event last year in the record time of 4 min. 23 3-5 sec., was a poor second. Norman Taber of Brown had little difficulty in winning the handicap mile event in 4 minutes 33 1-5 seconds. Of the ten college relay races the more important resulted in victories for Harvard over Cornell, Brown over Amherst, and Dartmouth over M. I. T.

"Lit" Election

As a result of the recent competition Bruce M. Smith '15 of Pittsfield was elected second assistant business manager of the Williams Literary Monthly.

INSPIRING CONCERT BY NOTED ARTISTS "POETIC INTERPRETATION"

Mr. and Mrs. Mannes Delight Audience in Grace Hall—Barrere Ensemble Postponed

Mr. and Mrs. Mannes again gladdened an appreciative audience in Williamstown, this time in Grace Hall, an environment that evolves from the listeners a more sympathetic mood and from the performers a more genial interpretation. It is the place for such sincere, serious, and refined artists, and for a public of answering quality.

There is no need to dwell upon the technical merits of a recital by these well known musicians. The points perhaps most enjoyed by the layman were the beautiful singing quality of tone and distinct enunciation of the notes in both violin and piano. Add to these delights a poetic and emotional interpretation ranging from breadth and power to the subtler refinements of gradation that vary at every moment in their reflections, and there could be none of what Bernard Shaw calls "the familiar and dreaded classical feeling." For that feeling the pseudo-classic is really responsible.

The Grieg Sonata opens with an "Allegro," buoyant, light and joyous, becoming somewhat plaintive towards the end. The "Allegretto" following has a more northern and Griegesque character of haunting weirdness. The last movement, "Allegro vivace," begins with beautiful, bird-like roulades, then passes into a wild whirl of bacchanalian vigor.

The "Aria" of Bach for violin alone was difficult to play, but the difficulties were admirably solved. It is doubly a test of mastery to play without accompaniment and give the impression of flawless execution. What accompaniment there was was given on the lower strings. The selection is of searching emotional quality.

A graceful "Menuet" by Beethoven reminded of Mozart because any old-fashioned menuet needs must. It was fitting therefore to follow it with the "Old Vienna Waltzes," also adapted to the old-fashioned elegance of that society that Motley thought the most exquisite in Europe. The delicate syncopated movement that holds one back in suspense and then lets him glide on again is a dainty bit of writing, and was very sweetly rendered.

In Walther's "Prize Song" the refined shading of expression was especially evident. This song is an exception to Maecaulay's dictum that prize poems are like prize cattle at the fair—good only for taking the prize. When played with the freshness of feeling that belongs to the role its familiarity does not lessen the pleasure.

A sonata like that of Brahms in G major raises wonder that the composer should ever have had the reputation of being coldly intellectual. That romanticist with classical convictions and discipline shows his

NEW FRESHMAN COURSES

Latin 20 and Mathematics 20 Added to Curriculum

Two new freshman courses, one to be known as Latin 20 and the other as Mathematics 20, will be included in the curriculum for the present semester. They are offered for those men who lack the required number of semester hours through the anticipation of Mathematics 2 or through the discontinuance of a specified freshman year course. Assoc. Prof. Wetmore will conduct the class in Latin 20 and Mr. Agard will have charge of Mathematics 20. Both courses will meet three hours a week and will count for graduation.

A new course in geology to be known as Geology 6 has been substituted for Geology 4 and Religion 6 will be included in the curriculum this semester. The former is a course in the regional geology of the United States and the latter is an extension of Religion 5.

DARTMOUTH TEAM NEXT BASKETBALL OPPONENT

Williams to Play Veteran Five in Hanover Tomorrow Evening —Probable Line-up

Tomorrow evening the varsity basketball team will meet the Dartmouth five at 8.30 o'clock in the Alumni Gymnasium, Hanover. In the two games played last year, the Green was victorious by the scores of 20-12 and 22-20, respectively. The latter game, which was played in the Lasell Gymnasium, was one of the most closely contested of the season, the final result not being decided until the last minute of play.

The Dartmouth squad of fifteen men contains six veterans, four of whom played against Williams last year. The five has been considerably strengthened by the recent return to college of Snow, who is now playing in the left forward position. Practice, under the direction of Coach Mullen, which was not held regularly during the examination period, was resumed last Monday, continuing each afternoon during the week. Out of four games played to date, Dartmouth has won from Princeton and Pennsylvania by the scores of 27-22 and 28-21, respectively, and has lost to Pennsylvania by a 20-17 score and to Cornell, 30-17. The line-up for tomorrow's game will be: Sisson rf, Snow or Brownell lf, Margeson c, Loudon rg, Grant lg. Mr. Hehir of Worcester will probably referee.

Varsity practice has been held daily during the past two weeks, but the members of the squad, hampered by the examinations, have reported somewhat irregularly. The following eight players will be taken on the trip: Freeman, Page, Victor '13, Deely, Dempsey, K. H. Hodge, Lefferts '15, Hay '16. The team will leave for Hanover this afternoon at 4.56, and will return to Williamstown on Wednesday, arriving at 2.08.

Three Faculty Lectures

On Tuesday afternoon, January 28, Prof. Milham continued the series of faculty lectures with an address in the Common Room on "Things as They Appear on the Face of the Sky." He spoke on the appearance of the heavens to the naked eye, the constellations in regard to the means of recognizing them, and the derivation of their names, and concluded with a description of Mercury and Venus.

Prof. Maxey delivered the faculty lecture the following Tuesday afternoon, on "Artemus Ward." After giving a brief outline of the main events of Artemus Ward's life, Prof. Maxey took up the author's humor as his main theme.

Pres. Garfield, the next speaker in the lecture series, will discuss "The Problem of Municipal Government" tomorrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock in the Common Room.

ALUMNI COUNCIL PROPOSED

Recommendation of Younger Graduates Accepted by Entire Association

One hundred and fifteen Williams alumni were present at the forty-sixth annual dinner of the Boston Alumni Association which was held last Thursday evening at the Exchange Club, Boston. Prof. Bliss Perry '81 of Harvard presided. The speakers and guests of honor were: President Harry A. Garfield '85; Congressman Samuel W. McCall, Dartmouth '74; Rev. Dr. William R. Campbell '76 and Philip M. Brown '98, instructor in international law at Harvard.

A printed communication, drawn up by a committee representing the younger alumni of Boston, was presented to every man present. This communication suggested that, in order to bring the alumni in closer touch with the college, a board or council be organized "composed of representatives from the different alumni associations throughout the country, together with the representatives of the association of class secretaries and of various alumni clubs already in existence, namely, the athletic, Gargoyle, and Christian association councils. Such a board would be in position to co-operate with the president and trustees in matters where it might be desirable to sound the sentiments of the alumni."

"It might bring to the attention of the president and the trustees any suggestions concerning the college which the alumni might deem worthy of special consideration. It might collaborate most effectively in any concerted plan for the raising of funds for the endowment of professorships or other purposes. Such a board in sum, might serve as a general medium of communication between the alumni and the college in all that may be of legitimate concern to the alumni." It is intended that this plan be submitted for consideration at the next meeting of the society of the alumni in Williamstown in June, 1913.

In his address President Garfield took for his theme, "Is Williams a Rich Man's College?" He answered this question in the negative, and emphatically denied that Williams was a college of snobs where doors are shut to poor men. "I am confident," said Dr. Garfield, when speaking of the opportunities for making money in Williamstown, "that the classes today are earning considerably more pro rata than did the classes of twenty-five years ago. Students now spend $200 to $300 a year more than at that time. The percentage of increased cost is less than the percentage of increase of cost of living."

Dr. Garfield also stated that two millions of new endowments are urgently needed. Professors' salaries are hardly living wages. Professors offered $1000 per year have remained. The public does not hear of them. It hears of those who have accepted louder calls elsewhere.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Henry LeFavour '83; vice-president, Stephen B. Davol '95; secretary, James F. Bacon '93; treasurer, Joseph A. Hall '99; executive committee, the officers and James D. Colt '84, MacGregor Jenkins '90, Irvin McD. Garfield '93, Rowney Spring '94, Edward A. Watson '97, Charles M. Davenport '01, and C. Desmond Wadsworth '09.

The Alumni Council

As an organization for effective co-operation between the graduates and the administration, the proposed alumni council should bring into a closer relationship two of the essential components of the small New England college. Indefinite though its status be at this time, a few reflections from the undergrowth viewpoint may prove interesting.

In its actual conception the council will give consideration to two objects. It will be formed primarily for purposes of co-operation. It will also be organized for effective service. As a co-operative institution the council will attempt to multiply tendencies or opinions which serve to prevent a sympathetic relationship between the parties concerned. It will strive to show that the governing authorities do not operate the college in accordance with "closed corporation" principles, and that they fully realize the value of active support on the part of the graduates. It will strive to prevent the spread of erroneous conceptions which cause alumni influence and criticism to seriously embarrass a collegiate administration. As an effective organization, the council will attempt to keep the graduates constantly in touch with the fundamental concerns of their alma mater and to provide a means for the codification and presentation of alumni opinion.

To achieve success, this council must first be effectively organized. This task, referred to the executive committee of the Society of the Alumni, is not at all enviable. The present graduate clubs have no systematic relationship; their general reorganization might be desirable. To be acceptable, the council must be representative, and to be effective, it must be numerically small. The administrative work of a representative council might be delegated to an executive committee, or a general alumni secretary might be employed as is proposed at Dartmouth. A plan for co-operation with the Alumni Review which now effectively exercises some of the functions which will come under the jurisdiction of the council must certainly be provided.

Organization, however, no matter how perfect, will be worthless unless the spirit of cooperation is incorporated and maintained with the council. The college must feel its responsibility. It must as far as possible take the alumni into its confidence, it must be willing to explain policies, it must be willing to answer criticism and to welcome suggestions. A statement by the Trustees at this time as to their opinion of the council project would seem to be most appropriate. The Alumni must not expect the power of the initiative, the referendum, protest and recall but they must be led to believe that the administration of the college has sincere respect for alumni opinions. All importance to the success of the whole project will be the personnel of the men who actively operate the machinery of the council. They must be thoroughly alive to the duties and privileges of their position and they must be entirely in sympathy with the objects of the organizations. The Alumni Council is not a remedy but an opportunity.

Inspiring Concert by Noted Artists

wealth of feeling throughout this piece, beginning at once in the "Vivace." The "Adagio" is broad, solemn and dirge-like with effective chords. The "Allegro Moderato" is a serious meditation, becoming passionate and finally serene.

An encore, a "Canzonetta" by Ambrosio somewhat Spanish in character, closed the evening agreeably. It was the kind of entertainment whose stimulus outlasts the pleasure of the hour and acts as a tonic long after.

Concert Date Postponed

The concert which the Barrere Ensemble was scheduled to give last Thursday evening in Grace Hall has been postponed indefinitely owing to a conflicting rehearsal of the New York Symphony Orchestra. Negotiations are under way to secure another date for the entertainment.

Concert After Wesleyan Game

The combined Musical Clubs will render the fifth concert of the present season in Grace Hall next Saturday evening at 9.15 o'clock immediately after the Wesleyan basketball game. Each of the clubs has prepared several new numbers since the last entertainment. Austrian '14 will appear as reader, and Porter '15 will present a new black-face singing and dancing act. Tickets may be obtained for one dollar from the following sophomores: Brainerd, Brock, C. W. Clarke, Ferguson, Frink, Gildersleeve, Long, Morgan, and Waterbury.

Intramural League Changes

Five intramural basketball games are to be played during the next three days. Chi Psi will play McCoy's tomorrow afternoon instead of March 11 as previously announced. Following is the schedule for this week: this afternoon at 1.30, League A—Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Delta Upsilon; League C—Alpha Delta Phi vs. Theta Delta Chi; tomorrow afternoon, League B—Chi Psi vs. McCoy's; Alpha Zeta Alpha vs. Prindle's, and Wednesday at 4.30, League A—Sigma Phi vs. Zeta Psi.

Three Classes Hold Elections

The juniors, sophomores and freshmen held class meetings shortly before the mid-year examination period. 1914 elected Robert Rollin Jewett of Aberdeen, S. D., class baseball manager; 1915 chose Kneeland Ball Wilkes of Buffalo, N. Y., class baseball manager and Russell Bare Garver of Roaring Spring, Pa., class debating manager; and 1916 elected Henry Needham Flynt of Monson baseball manager and Norman Brown of Portland, Me., secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal from college of McQuillen.

New York Alumni Dinner

Williams alumni of New York City will hold their annual dinner at Delmonico's next Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The speakers will be: President Harry A. Garfield '85; William A. Prendergast, Comptroller of the City of New York; Ex-Congressman James T. McCleary; Prof. Bliss Perry '81 of Harvard; and Prof. Maxey '87.

Changes in Debating Team

At the meeting of the debating team held last Monday night Daly '13 was elected captain for the Dartmouth-Brown-Williams debate. Glock '14 has taken the place of Trevor '13 who has completed his course, and Van Doren '14 has succeeded to Glock's former position as alternate.

PROF. EUCKEN SPEAKS ON "REALISM AND IDEALISM"

Noted Philosopher of University of Jena Predicts Advent of a New Idealism

Prof. Rudolf Eucken of the University of Jena delivered a scholarly and interesting lecture on "Realism and Idealism in the Nineteenth Century" before a well attended and enthusiastic open meeting of the Philosophical Union held in the Common Room last Wednesday evening.

In the beginning of the nineteenth century, said Prof. Eucken, the Germans were regarded as a people of poets and thinkers, intent on an all-embracing inner light.
The victories of Napoleon and the political collapse of Germany, however, aroused them and turned their thoughts to their more immediate surroundings. Natural science took the lead, modern industry sprang into existence, and work, thus remodeled, presented new and grave problems.

Emphasis is now laid on raising the human community to a higher level.
The individual no longer appears to be an isolated being; he is now inseparable from his environment. Realism, which acts in its own way on every province of life, tends to acknowledge no other world than the visible one. As far as realism recognizes religion, it is the religion of the humanitarian. The nineteenth century has completely altered the character of work, since modern science is a structure outside of and above the individual, and since labor now becomes a superior power which men must serve if they are to achieve success. With the spread of knowledge and culture, life becomes richer, and the relations of man to man grow more human.

One may doubt whether realism has not distinct inner limitations. The aim of all modern labor is achievement and success.
Man is only valued by what he contributes—what he himself is, is considered of little importance. From a technical viewpoint, our time is far in advance of all former times; but it falls short of many periods as regards inner light. Our inability to see life as a whole, prevents us from producing masterpieces in Art and Literature. Man has lost the mastery over his work; he is in danger of stunting his inner growth and of becoming a soulless mechanism of civilization.

Knowledge of this great danger must arouse man to fight for the possession of his own soul. The end of the nineteenth century witnessed a reaction against realism, a stronger impulse to religion. We must combine culture of the soul with our work in the world. The progress of mankind has forced upon us a great problem—we must seek and develop a new form of idealism.

Prof. Eucken was also in the Common Room for an hour and a half Friday morning and answered several questions which were asked him on philosophical subjects.

Deutscher Verein Bund Planned

The Deutscher Verein of Columbia University has asked the cooperation of Williams in a plan to combine the Vereins of the various colleges of the East into an Intercollegiate Deutscher Verein Bund.
At the last meeting of the local Verein, de Lagerberg '13 was appointed to represent Williams at a gathering of the delegates from the different collegiate Vereins to be held in New York sometime during the Easter vacation for the purpose of definitely organizing the proposed Deutscher Verein Bund.

Fifteen men whose names had been previously proposed were elected to membership at the same meeting. The next meeting of the Verein will probably take place about February 24, at which the elections of new eligible men will take place.

"Tuxedo is my choice. I smoke it in preference to all other tobaccos, because it's a mild, cool smoke, and can't hurt my wind."

J. I. Wendell

THE history of Tuxedo tobacco is unique in many respects. The now famous "Tuxedo process"—by which all the bite and sting is removed from the best old Burley tobacco—was discovered by Dr. R. A. Patterson, a physician of Richmond, Virginia, the founder of the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company.

Many of Dr. Patterson's friends, because their mouths and throats were so sensitive, were compelled to deny themselves the comfort and satisfaction of pipe smoking. Like all other men, the Doctor realized that complete smoke delight was possible only with a pipe. So he put his scientific mind to work on the problem.

He originated the now famous "Tuxedo process" of treating the mildest, sweetest, most thoroughly aged Burley tobacco—and the result was

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo grew rapidly in public favor without advertising; without any push of any kind, its natural growth reached the stupendous total of fifty or sixty million packages a year. Not until the past few months has it been possible to keep up with the demand for Tuxedo. Now increased facilities make it possible for every man to smoke this best of tobaccos.

Famous Americans in every walk of life smoke and endorse Tuxedo. Our world-famous athletes—the men who triumphed for America at the Olympic Games in Stockholm—are among the thousands who declare that Tuxedo is not only extremely enjoyable, but beneficial.

Tuxedo has many imitators, but no successful one—because no one has yet discovered the "Tuxedo process" that makes Tuxedo the most enjoyable pipe-smoke in the world.

CONCERT FRIDAY

Mendelssohn Choir to Present Artistic Program

In the first concert of the fifth season, the Mendelssohn Choir, under the direction of Mr. Sumner Salter, will present in Grace Hall Friday evening at 8.15 o'clock "The Swan and the Skylark", a cantata by A. Goring Thomas, and a Choral Fantasia from "Lohengrin" by Richard Wagner, arranged by Percy Fletcher. Both selections are works composed for solo voices, chorus, orchestra, and organ. In the former the demands made upon the tenor and soprano are such that only singers of the highest quality can successfully meet them and the artists engaged for these parts on Friday evening, Mr. William Wheeler and Miss Marie Stoddart, are both of this class. Arthur Turner, baritone, of Springfield, is a musician of broad culture, being an accomplished organist, composer, and director as well as an artistic singer. Mrs. Anyel Baker, contralto, of Bennington, is an artist of less wide reputation but possesses qualities of voice and personality to insure her success as a soloist. The chorus of sixty voices under the direction of Mr. Salter will be accompanied by an orchestra of nineteen players and Boynton '13 as organist.

Tickets at 50 cents each, including reserved seats, may be obtained at Severance's Drug Store, Williamstown, Cluett's Music Store, North Adams, and Cole's Drug Store, Bennington.

Baseball Insignia Awarded

At the fourth meeting for the college year 1912-1913, on January 26, the Athletic Council awarded baseball "W"s to the following men: Ayres, Bartlett, Davis, Otis, Shons, Trumbull '12, Heywood, R. V. Lewis '13, Ainslie, Higginbotham '14, Brown, Swain and Toolan '15. Linder '12, M. H. Smith '13, and K. H. Hodge '15 received "W" seconds. The following men, members of the senior and sophomore relay teams, were granted numerals: Dewey, Boynton, L. L. Lewis, and Lyman '13, Driscoll, Gregor, Hubbell, and Wrigley '15. In addition to this the Council voted that Williams send a relay team to compete at the Hartford Meet on February 22. The 1913 baseball schedule, which appeared in a previous issue of the Record, was approved, subject to further ratification by the Faculty Committee on athletics. The Council also decided that, after the first game, no baseball practice be held before 4 o'clock, because of the two additional games on the schedule. The Council ratified the following football games for the 1913 schedule, subject to further approval by the Faculty Committee on athletics: R. P. I., Sept. 27; Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, Oct. 4; Wesleyan, Nov. 8; Amherst, Nov. 15.

ALUMNI NOTES

'05.—Max Eastman, assistant professor in the philosophy department at Columbia University, will address a meeting of the Equal Suffrage League at Springfield on February 19.

'11.—S. M. Emery died in his home in Albany on February 4 as the result of injuries sustained from a fall while riding horseback at Lake George early in the fall. Sarcoma of the bone set in, causing a long and painful illness. Since graduation he has been associated with his father, John W. Emery, in the retail shoe business. The funeral was held on Friday.

WILLIAMS DEFEATED IN ROUGH CONTEST GREEN WINS BY 18-16 SCORE

Exciting Game at Hanover Featured by Close Guarding—Many Fouls Called

In an exciting game marked by fast and rough playing the strong Dartmouth basketball team defeated Williams in Alumni Gymnasium, Hanover, by the close score of 18 to 16. Although the varsity put up a strong and aggressive game, and exhibited flashes of brilliant team work, the superior accuracy of the home team in shooting fouls caused the Purple to lose by the narrow margin of one basket. Out of nine chances at goal from foul Sisson succeeded in euging six while the varsity was able to score but two out of seven. The game was characterized by very close guarding and many attempts were made by both teams to score on long shots. Frequent interruption of play caused by the referee calling fouls for dribbling, blocking and tripping, marred the contest which was otherwise fast and keenly fought throughout. After the first eight minutes of play neither team was able to gain more than a two point advantage until the final whistle blew, and during the game the lead changed ten different times.

The team play of the Purple was greatly hindered by the loss of Captain Freeman after the first few minutes of play although Lefferts, who took his place at right forward, played an excellent game until he was relieved by Freeman near the close of the contest. Hodge played his usual strong game at left forward. Victor put up a consistent game at center, holding Margeson, who is generally considered the best center in the Intercollegiate League, to one basket. Hay led the Purple in scoring while Page's opponent, Sisson, did not shoot a goal from the floor. Bickford and Captain Sisson excelled for Dartmouth.

Victor started the scoring for the Purple with an easy tally from under the basket on a pass from Freeman, who followed with a goal from the foul line. Page added two points to the Varsity's score on a shot from an angle before Captain Freeman received an injury to his knee and was replaced by Lefferts. After Victor and Sisson had each failed at goals from foul, Bickford caged two baskets in quick succession on short shots which were the result of good team work by the Dartmouth five. Sisson gave the Green a one point lead with two goals from the foul line but Hay regained the Varsity's advantage by retaliating with a spectacular basket from the middle of the floor. The half ended with a long shot by Loudon from the side with the Green leading 8 to 7.

On the first play of the second period, Victor gained the tipoff and after a brilliant display of team work by the entire Williams five Lefferts caged a goal from under the basket, putting the Purple in the lead 9 to 8. Snow tallied on a long shot from the side of the court and Victor missed a goal from foul. Hay again threw a remarkable basket from the middle of the floor but Sisson tied the score with a tally from the foul line. Victor failed at a throw from foul and from the scrimmage which ensued under the basket. Margeson accidentally caged a goal for the Purple. Sisson added a point to the Green's score on a free throw before Margeson regained the lead for Dartmouth with a long shot from a difficult angle. After baskets by Hodge and Snow, the former evened the score with a goal from the foul line. With two minutes to play, Freeman reentered the game taking Lefferts' place. Sisson ended the game with two goals from foul winning the contest for the Green by the close score of 18 to 16.

CLASS HOCKEY TEAMS OPEN WINTER SERIES

Juniors Defeated by Freshmen on Weston Field Rink—1915 Held to No Score by 1913

In the first interclass hockey game of the season, played last Monday evening on the Weston Field rink, the freshmen defeated the juniors 3 to 0 and the seniors held the sophomores to a 0 to 0 tie. All four teams lacked consistency in their playing and depended rather on rough scrimmage work.

Although the junior-freshmen sevens appeared rather evenly matched, the underclassmen succeeded in tallying three goals and held their opponents scoreless. Leake shot the first from scrimmage after six minutes of play; and Payson scored the other two in the second half, the first from scrimmage directly in front of the goal, after a pretty display of team work, and the second on an open shot from the side after a dash nearly the length of the rink.

In the second game of the evening the sophomores clearly outplayed the senior seven but inability to follow the puck and ineffectual shooting prevented them from scoring. The seniors braced in the first of the two extra periods played and several times forced the puck dangerously close to the sophomore goal. During the second extra period, however, the advantage turned again slightly in favor of the underclassmen. The work of Hubbell for the seniors, Moody for the juniors, Conklin and King for the sophomores and Cutler and Payson for the freshmen, featured the contests.

The teams lined up as follows: 1913, Wooster g, Winslow p, Hubbell cp, Dickinson r, Gill c, Phillips, Jones lw, Heywood rw; 1914, Davis, Rockwood g, Hummewell p, F. S. Smith cp, Moody r, Garfield c, C. P. Brown, Bartram lw, Hoadley rw; 1915, Hamerslag g, Van Slyck p, Conklin cp, King r, Cannon c, Hubbell lw, Remer rw; 1916, Stickney g, Payson p, Coleman cp, Cutler r, Hurd, Sabin c, Leake lw, E. T. Clarke, Jacob rw.

Referee—Michael '13. Goals—Payson 2, Leake. Goal umpires—Fowler '13, DuBois '15. Timer—C. W. Lester '14. Time of periods—12 minutes.

Reserved seats for the Wesleyan basketball game Saturday night will be on sale today and tomorrow from 7.30 to 8.30 o'clock in the managers' office, Jesup Hall.

MENDELSSOHN CHOIR TOMORROW EVENING FIRST CONCERT OF SEASON

Noted Singers Insure Artistic Presentation of Difficult Thomas and Wagner Music

Under the direction of Mr. Sumner Salter the Mendelssohn Choir will give its first concert of the season tomorrow evening at 8.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. The music to be presented is a cantata, "The Swan and the Skylark" by A. Goring Thomas and a Choral Fantasia from "Lohengrin" by Richard Wagner, arranged by Percy Fletcher, both of which pieces are selections adapted for solo voices, choruses, orchestra and organ. The former is considered to be one of the most beautiful compositions of its kind ever written. As examples of the remarkable lyric gift of the author the solo portions are especially noteworthy, but the demands made upon the tenor and soprano particularly are so great that only singers of the first quality can meet them. Mr. William Wheeler and Miss Marie Stoddart, the two artists who have been engaged for these parts for tomorrow evening's concert both measure up to the required standard. Mr. Wheeler's pronounced success at the Worcester Festival in Horatio Parker's "Horo Novissima" last October placed him at once in the front rank of American tenors. Miss Stoddart has for a number of years enjoyed an established reputation as the result of her successful appearances with the most prominent symphony orchestras and choral organizations of the country. Her singing at the performances of the "Creation" by the Mendelssohn Choir two years ago was the most delightful feature of the occasion, and was perhaps the most artistic exhibition of vocalization ever heard in Williamstown. Mr. Arthur H. Turner, of Springfield, who has been secured as baritone is a musician of broad culture and of no mean ability. He is an organist, a composer, and a director, as well as an artistic singer. His voice has a rich and beautiful quality and is of wide range and full volume. The contralto, Mrs. Amyel Baker, of Bennington, is not so well known but possesses pleasing qualities of voice and personality and her success artistically is assured.

Wagner's "Lohengrin" Fantasia, the second of the selections, contains many of the more beautiful and significant portions of the opera, including solos for soprano, tenor and baritone; among others may be mentioned Elsa's balcony scene, a portion of the duet with Ortrud, the bridal chorus, introduction to the Third Act and the Finale of the First Act. Mr. Salter will have under his direction a chorus of sixty voices, accompanied by an orchestra of nineteen players and Boynton '13 at the organ.

HOCKEY WITH AMHERST

Inexperienced but Fast Seven Williams' Next Opponent

Hockey practice has been held regularly for the past few days on the Weston Field Rink at 4.30 o'clock. On Monday and Wednesday the work consisted of two halves of fast scrimmage between the varsity and the scrubs in which the varsity was victorious on both days 9-5 and 2-1, respectively. No regular game was played Tuesday afternoon but several periods of scrimmage were held. The teamwork of the varsity has shown a marked improvement. The passing is also good, but there is a tendency toward inaccurate shooting and failure to take advantage of long shots.

HARD GAME PROMISED WITH WESLEYAN FIVE

Varsity to Meet New England Champions in Sixth Game of Season Saturday

Williams will meet the Wesleyan basketball team at 7.30 o'clock Saturday evening in Lasell Gymnasium in what promises to be the hardest fought game on the schedule. New England champions for the past two years, the veteran visiting five has gone through the season to date with victories over Yale, Rhode Island State, N. Y. U., and New Hampshire State, and only one defeat, which was inflicted by the Army at West Point, when the Wesleyan men were in poor condition and Eaton was out of the game with blood poisoning in his knee. Of the 26 games played with Wesleyan in former years, Williams has won 19. Four of the seven victories of the Red and Black over the varsity were won by the championship fives of 1911 and 1912. Last year Williams sustained two defeats by the scores of 31-4 and 21-14. The Wesleyan squad at present numbers fifteen men, including Crane, Davidson, Eaton, Hayward and Parkinson (last year's team entire), and Petigrue, Allison and Trevithick of the first substitutes of last year.

Wesleyan's line-up will be: Davidson lf, Eaton rf, Parkinson (capt.) c, Hayward lg, Petigrue, Crane rg.

Owing to the late return of the Williams' basketball squad from Dartmouth, the regular varsity practice was omitted yesterday afternoon.

Watch Presented to Coach Daly

In accordance with the sentiment expressed in a college meeting held on November 22, a present has been secured for Fred Daly, coach of the 1911 and 1912 football teams, and last Saturday was sent to him in Cambridge, Ohio, his present place of residence. The committee in charge of the selection, composed of R. V. Lewis, Michael '13 and Campbell '14, purchased a 12 size, 19 jewel Hamilton watch in a gold-filled case from A. D. Bastien of Williamstown. On the inside of the case is the following inscription: "Presented to Fred Daly by the students of Williams College in appreciation of his loyal services as coach of the two teams that defeated Amherst 1911-12." The cost of the gift was covered by popular subscription.

Cornell Meet Cancelled

Due to the fact that the Cornell management was unable to fill its dates for an eastern trip, the swimming meet scheduled to be held in Williamstown on March 1 has been called off. A meet was arranged with Union in order to fill the open date but this has likewise been cancelled and at present the swimming management has no plans to announce.

Freshman Teas Resumed

The regular freshman tea will be held this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Common Room. All undergraduates are invited to attend.

GENERAL EXCELLENCE MARKS CURRENT "LIT."

GOOD TASTE IN EXPRESSION

Literary Articles Show Imagination—Historical Accounts Evince Precision

The reviewer has read the January Lit. through "Chat" and "Shards" and feels like congratulating the editors and contributors upon an unusually good number. There are many marks of excellence—of work and care in the more historical articles, and of imagination and inventiveness in the more literary ones, with a sense of good taste in expression throughout.

"On 'The Williams Motto'" treats an old theme but from a new point of view. The writer relates the Williams type of man to the words and spirit of the Williams motto. The spirit of the founders should still prevail; we might even say that a college possess character in proportion as these first ideals have dominated its growth. The special virtue of the article in question is that it discovers the continuance in the present of the ancient ideals and thereby helps unify Williams life for the future. We wish that the writer might follow his observations further to other colleges and see if there is a certain relationship between what is loosely called the spirit of this or that college and its motto. It may be possible in this way to really contribute to a definition that is much needed. The idea is not so fantastic as it appears at first thought.

"The Swan Song of Literature" has some very timely things to say concerning a second-hand reading of literature—through the medium of books of explanation and interpretation. This will have sympathetic readers. The paragraph: "For the age of criticism we have little sympathy" etc. will excite the spirited challenge of all lovers of truth. The writer, we think, should have been more discriminating. He should have recognized the part of the critic which almost all the great men of letters have played, and in the second place should have acknowledged our great debt to those men who are inspired with "the idea of a disinterested endeavor to learn and propagate the best in the world", and who, though not creative authors themselves, can pronounce this or that good or bad with authority. It may be quite necessary to sound the alarm against an excessive use of mere explainers, but the art of pure criticism should never be held less than one of the highest expressions of scholarship and culture.

"Bravado" and "To Cleopatra" give the impression of quick, easy improvisation. It is a pleasure to feel the free rhythm of the graceful lines. "Bravado" is on a larger canvas—a general picture comprehensive of something wider than the New Year's eve of the "gilded, mirrored" room. It was indeed daring to use so much poppy red but well worth the venture.

In "Solitude" the intimate and bleable last line stands in bold relief against the rather heavy verse which precedes. Whether this is art conscious of itself or not we need not discuss. A striking contrast of thought is the effective result.

We regret that we see so little in "The Baker's Blight". His life seems somewhat remote and outlandish. It must be that we don't know Reading and that if we did the relations of "pretzels" and "snicker" and "silver loving cup" would all be clear.

The writer of "In a Library" has given us an amusing little scene upon an unusual stage. We venture to predict that it would lend itself well to acting. There is nimble dialogue with a seasoning of

An Important Anniversary

One hundred years ago today Williams College was instrumental in the establishment of a great American enterprise in India. This was not Standard Oil, the International Harvester Trust, nor any other commercial venture. The alumnus of Williams who was personally interested in this movement was not intent upon creating a "career" for himself in the modern sense of that term. Neither did he choose an easy road upon which permanently to journey. He set forth that day to accomplish a man's job and many Williams men have thought his task worthy of their emulation.

He man to whom we refer was Gordon Hall of the class of 1808. On February 13, 1813 he landed in Bombay, in company with another collegian and inaugurated the American foreign missionary movement in India. Williams in those days was intimately connected with the missionary movement, and most of her sons are proud of that traditional relationship. During the intervening century, ninety-two Williams men have gone out as Christian missionaries and twenty-four are still active in that service. For about the first eighty years of this century, almost every class sent some representative into this service and several classes sent as many as four. Since 1890, only one graduate has entered the foreign missionary service, according to statistics compiled through the Williams Christian Association. Undoubtedly the intense materialism, which in the latter part of the nineteenth century has dominated the minds of men accounts for this falling off in our contribution to the missionary force. Prof. Eucken in his recent lecture here spoke of the present-day reaction against this materialism and the awakening of man's inner and spiritual nature. Let us hope that such an awakening will again place Williams in the proud position which she has formerly held in the field of foreign missions.

Games in League Resumed

Since the mid-year examination period, five games have been played in the intramural basketball series with the following results: League A—Delta Kappa Epsilon 13, Delta Upsilon 9; Zeta Psi 18, Sigma Phi 10; League B—Alpha Zeta Alpha 27, Prindle's 8; League C—Alpha Delta Phi 18, Theta Delta Chi 6; Phi Sigma Kappa 10, Psi Omega 6.

No games are scheduled until next week on account of the mid-winter houseparties. On Wednesday, February 19, two games will be held in the gymnasium at 4.30 o'clock. In League A, Delta Upsilon will meet Sigma Phi; in League C, Alpha Delta Phi is to oppose Psi Omega.

gentle satire.
"I Take a Hand at the Lit." is at first a biographical sketch—suggestive somewhat of an introductory page of Mark Twain—of a Mr. Mason up to the date of his graduation from High School; and in the end a farcical picture of his serious responsibilities as a college editor. To the Williams undergraduate the story of Mr. Mason's fortunes must excite quite often a merry laugh. Even the casual reader must pronounce the farce well stuffed.

"Home Rule for Ireland" is a clear statement of the present condition of this question. There are no digressions, no declamations—on the whole an extremely readable article.

"Songs of Williams" is a painstaking account of the development of the body of Williams Songs, requiring, we should say, no little investigation. The reviewer regrets that the time at his disposal will not let him really review this article—verify the historical data, see what has been done before on the same subject, etc. He can only say that the article reads as though it were true history written by a careful student.

25 Baseball Candidates Report

Following the first call for baseball candidates, about 25 men reported to Captain Lewis at a short meeting held in Jesup Hall last evening. The anti-season work in the cage, which is to begin next Monday for the battery men, was explained. Coach Coakley will arrive in town either a week from Monday or Tuesday and the squad will probably be divided, part coming before 4 o'clock and part after. In order to aid in the forming of these divisions all candidates handed in copies of their schedules. It is requested that any men who were not at the meeting and who desire to try out for the team should hand their schedules to either Manager Heywood or Captain Lewis before February 22.

MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS

Dr. Garfield Discusses Various Forms of City Government

Dr. Garfield continued the series of faculty lectures at the Common Room on Tuesday afternoon, taking as his subject "The Problem of Municipal Government." After outlining the history of municipal government since the disclosures of the "Tweed Ring" in New York, he took up the advantages of the various forms of municipal government.

Before the discovery of the scandals of the "Tweed Ring" in 1871 the public was very indifferent to municipal conditions. The seventeen years following Dr. Garfield characterized as the period of awakening, and from 1888 to the present time the period of action. In the former the state interfered in municipal affairs with the result that "home rule" was impossible, but for the last twenty years electoral reforms have been instituted, and the responsibility of city government has been transferred to the people, where it rightly belongs. Of the various forms of municipal government Dr. Garfield favored the federal plan for large cities, and showed the great advantages of the new form of commission government, adopted recently at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Prof. Clarke will deliver the next lecture of the series on "Big Trees of California and their Ancestors", illustrating his talk with stereopticon views. The lecture will be given in the Biological Laboratory at 4.30 Tuesday afternoon.

Warmest January on Record

The summary of the meteorological observations during January at the Williams College station shows that the month was the warmest in forty years. With a mean temperature of 33.8 degrees, which is 12 degrees above the normal, January has broken all records for warmth. The previous record was 29.6 held by 1906. The total snow fall was only 1.3 inches, which is the smallest on record and far below the normal, which is 14. Two thunderstorms were reported during the month.

The highest temperature was 58 on January 21, and the lowest temperature, ten degrees, occurred on both January 9 and 13. The latter is an unusual minimum, as the mercury generally falls to zero or below several times during each winter month.

The total precipitation (including rain and melted snow) was 2.99 inches which is extremely close to the normal. There were 8 clear days, 11 partly cloudy days and 12 cloudy days in the month. A measurable quantity of precipitation fell on 14 days.

TEAM WEAKENED FOR GAME WITH WESLEYAN

FREEMAN NOT IN LINE-UP

But One Defeat for Visiting Five to Date—Contest to Start Promptly at 7.30

With the champion Wesleyan basketball team as its opponents, Williams, decidedly weakened by the loss of Capt. Freeman, will line up tonight in the Lasell Gymnasium in what is likely to prove the most decisive contest on the schedule. In order to allow the Musical Clubs to begin their concert in Grace Hall promptly at 9.15 o'clock the game will start at 7.30 o'clock sharp. The injury to Capt. Freeman's knee received in the Dartmouth contest will not allow him to start the game and his place will be taken by either Dempsey or Lefferts. The Red and Black, who have won the New England Intercollegiate Championship for the past two years, went through their thirteen games last season without a defeat, and again this year are making a splendid showing.

A squad of about thirty men answered Capt. Parkinson's call for candidates at Wesleyan. Practice commenced immediately after the Thanksgiving recess and since then has been held regularly five nights a week. To date five out of the six games played have resulted in victories.

The scores follow:

Wesleyan 29, Yale 17
Wesleyan 54, R. I. State College 23
Wesleyan 28, N. Y. U. 19
Wesleyan 25, Army 29
Wesleyan 55, N. H. State College 22
Wesleyan 40, Syracuse 27

The West Point game was played with the men in poor condition, and Eaton could not even take part in the contest because of blood poisoning in his knee. Last Tuesday against Syracuse, the Red and Black, although ahead at the end of the first period, lost their lead for a time in the second half and did not gain the advantage until well on towards the end of the game. The teamwork and shooting, however, was excellent. Hayward at left guard scored 14 points, four baskets from the floor and six goals from the foul-line. The squad now numbers about fifteen men, including Crane, Davidson, Eaton, Hayward and Parkinson (last year's entire team) and Allison, Petigree and Trevithick, first substitutes last season.

This will be the twenty-seventh game played between the two institutions. Of this number Williams has won 19 and Wesleyan 7. Four of the Red and Black's victories over the varsity have been won by the championship 1911 and 1912 teams by the scores of 43-11, 19-12 and 31-4, 21-14 respectively. The teams will probably line up as follows:

WILLIAMS	WESLEYAN
Dempsey or Lefferts	Eaton
Hodge	Davidson
Victor	Parkinson
Hay	Petigree
Page	Hayward
Holier	Worcester

Ensemble to Play on March 29

New York audiences have accorded hearty applause at frequent concerts during the winter to the Barrere Ensemble and instrumental orchestra of ten pieces, which will give a program of Chamber music in Grace Hall at 8.15 o'clock, Saturday evening, March 29, in the Thompson Entertainment Course. The orchestra, which was at first scheduled to appear in Williamstown on February 6, consists of two flutes, two clarinets, two oboes, two French horns and two bassoons. Arrangements are pending for one or two entertainments in the course besides those previously announced.

TRUSTEES MEET

Board Discusses Plans to Raise $3,000,000 for College

(By special wire to the Record)

New York, N. Y., February 14.—At the regular winter meeting of the trustees of Williams College, which was held this afternoon in the Hotel Manhattan, eleven of the fourteen members of the Board were present. Chief among the matters under discussion was the movement for raising $1,000,000 for the present needs of Williams and $2,000,000 more to place the college upon a proper financial footing. After attending to many routine matters the Trustees voted to increase the present scholarship stipends each by the sum of $25.00. Dr. Hamilton W. Mabie, Hon. J. B. Dunbar, Mr. B. W. Warren, and Dr. Henry Lefavour were unable to attend the meeting.

G. G. C. Meets Monday

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock the Good Government Club will hold an important meeting in the Jesup Hall reading room for the discussion of the work to be done by the club in connection with the Child Welfare Exhibit in North Adams, March 13-16. The members of the club will secure data on the conditions in the factories, workmen's homes, moving picture shows, and pool rooms. Other routine business will be transacted.

Eight Candidates Retained

The following eight freshmen have been retained for further work in the competition for places on the editorial board of the Record: Angevene, Conway, Griffin, Haight, H. E. Jones, Jr., Kennedy, King, Wood. These men are authorized to secure news for publication. At the end of the competition on March 12, at least one man will be elected to the board.

APPRECIATIVE AND BALANCED RENDITION

CHORAL EXPRESSION CLEAR

Mr. Wheeler's Interpretation and Miss Stoddard's Technic Delight Audience

When the higher forms of art begin, the possibility ceases of getting on with mere passive reception of impressions. People who occupy themselves but little with music, therefore find pleasure only in its simpler forms. Yet in the Mendelssohn Choir's concert in Grace Hall last evening, even the most uninitiated could take pleasure.

Mr. William Wheeler's tenor solo, "Summer! I depart—" in the beautiful cantata, "The Swan and the Skylark" by A. Goring Thomas, which formed the first part of the program, was the most pleasing bit of individual work of the evening. His appreciation, expression and emotional appeal were of a high order. Over-loud accompaniment detracted much from the alto solo by Miss Anna E. Blythe of North Adams, who took the place vacated on account of illness, by Mrs. Amyel Baker. Miss Marie Stoddard, the soprano, gave a most artistic exhibition of vocalization, yet her singing appeared a tour de force, a display of skill rather than of feeling. Her voice, however, was natural, clear in tone, and of wide range. Mr. Arthur H. Turner infused in his rendition of the bass solo, "Now let the lordly tilt begin", in the second part of the program, the Choral Fantasia from "Lohengrin", a martial quality which did not fail to quicken the pulse of his hearers.

This martial strain was especially marked in the spirited chorus, "Forward they go with lance and shield". The work of the Chorus was highly creditable to both singers and conductor. The tone was well-balanced and clear, and the phrasing good. The organ was used to fill in the orchestra for the harp, French horn and trumpet.

Prize Open for Seniors

Members of the Senior class should be interested in the following statement concerning the Canby prize quoted from the college catalogue:

"A prize of fifty dollars, established by W. Marriot Canby, Jr., of the class of 1891, may be awarded at Commencement to that member of the Senior class who shall have attained the highest average standing in scholarship during his course, and who shall have fulfilled the requirements of eligibility.

Any member of the Senior class who has been in college since the beginning of his Junior year, and who, at any time during his college course, has represented the college in any recognized intercollegiate athletic contest, shall be eligible."

CHURCHMEN AT BROWN

Episcopalians to Hold Annual Conference Feb. 21-23

All professors and students in New England colleges who are members of the Protestant Episcopal Church are invited to attend the eleventh annual conference for churchmen to be held during the coming week-end at Brown University, Providence, R. I. The program, comprising many interesting exercises, addresses, and receptions, will extend from Friday through Sunday, February 21-23. The Rt. Rev. James de Wolf Perry, Jr., Bishop of Rhode Island, will preside.

As those attending will be guests of the University and the committee in charge, no expenses outside of carfare will be entailed. Attendance in no way commits the delegates, and the discussions, largely carried on by the students, are entirely free and informal. Besides being enjoyable and profitable this conference has come to be an important annual event in the college life of the New England States.

Anyone desiring further particulars, may obtain a full program by applying to Mr. Robert H. Gardiner, 11 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass.

WILLIAMS TO OPPOSE AMHERST ON ICE TODAY

Hockey Team Meets Purple and White on Weston Field Rink This Afternoon

Williams will oppose Amherst in the fourth game of the 1912-1913 hockey season on Weston Field rink this afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. The warm weather of last month prevented the holding of the first contest scheduled for January 25 but both teams have taken advantage of the recent cold snap and have held long hard practices. Of the two games played last winter, Williams won the first but lost the second by a large margin.

Four veterans, Captain Wilcox, Benedict, King, and Seymour are all that remain at present on the Amherst squad from last year's team. In the first game of the season, last Saturday afternoon, the Purple and White decisively defeated R. I. on the Pratt Field rink by the score of 5 to 0. Although the play was at first ragged, the Amherst forwards improved as the game progressed and showed remarkable team play and accuracy of shooting in the second half. The first out-of-town game of the year was scheduled to be played with the West Point seven yesterday afternoon.

At Williamstown the varsity has held regular practice during the past week and the daily scrimmages with the scrubs have resulted in a marked improvement in the playing of the team. The probable lineup of the two teams is as follows:

WILLIAMS	AMHERST
Rogers	goal
MacNance	point
Conklin, Swain	cover point
Gillette	rover
H. H. Cutler	center
C. F. Cutler	left wing
Swain, Curtis	right wing

Cercle Makes Active Plans

At a meeting of the Cercle Francais in the Sigma Phi House on Thursday evening, several of the members gave a reading of "Le Mariage Force". Refreshments were served and the next meeting was announced for Thursday evening at 8.00 o'clock at the Zeta Psi House. Monsieur Louis Delmarre, Prof. of French at C. C. N. Y., and General Secretary of the "Alliance Francaise of the United States and Canada", will deliver an address before the local society on March 1 concerning "Les Humoristes Francais". The meeting will be open to the public.

FIVE FRATERNITIES HOLD HOUSEPARTIES

MANY FESTIVITIES PLANNED

Visitors to Attend Wesleyan Basketball Game and Musical Clubs Concert

Three fraternities, Delta Psi, Phi Delta Theta, and Delta Delta, and Dr. and Mrs. Garfield welcomed the arrival of their houseparty guests in Williamstown yesterday afternoon and entertained with house dances in the evening. This morning the guests of the Sigma Phi and Kappa Alpha fraternities arrived and, after luncheon at the various houses, the majority of the visitors will attend the Amherst hockey game. In the evening the guests will witness the basketball contest with Wesleyan in the gymnasium and later hear the concert by the Combined Musical Clubs in Grace Hall. Sunday afternoon will be devoted to tobogganing and sleighing and in the evening the Phi Delta Theta houseparty will take dinner at Mrs. Steele's in South Williamstown, and the Delta Delta guests will be entertained at the Idlewild Inn.

Most of the visitors will leave town Monday morning but the Sigma Phi and Kappa Alpha guests will stay over for house dances that evening, departing Tuesday.

Ave Alma Virgo

Joy reigns supreme. Again the hands of the accurate astronomical chronometers point approximately to the time when femininity invades our winter habitation.
Our frenzy for sartorial embellishment and motley neckwear has brought smiles to the visage and shekels to the coffers of Spring Street's European tourist. The proprietors of our livery stables ply profitably the curry-comb, for the sleigh bells tinkle on the remotest highway of the Berkshires.

We greet you, most welcome guests, with open arms. Your advent is a pleasure which we shall not attempt to describe. But think of the moral uplift
The barbarous attire of the savage of Williamstown has caused many a grave head to shake with disapproval. Our flapping overshoes, our companionable corduroys, our time-saving jerseys, have brought tears to the eyes of scholarly visitors.
Under their criticism we remain as nonchalant as the Esquimaux, mixing iced drinks in a temperature of forty degrees below zero. Yet on your approach—away with the apparel of the aborigine.
If the learned gentlemen desire to lift us permanently to a civilized state, we venture a suggestion. Why don't you stay forever?

"Tech" Plays Here Tuesday

The M. I. T. hockey game which the management was previously forced to cancel on account of the inability to obtain the use of the Boston Arena, will be played Tuesday afternoon on the Weston Field rink at 4 o'clock. This will be the fifth game played between the two institutions.
Williams has won but one of these contests and the last two years the varsity has been decisively defeated. Superior team work and better speed on the ice account for the 6-1 defeat last year. Hur-butt ex-'13 who has starred for M. I. T.
during the last two seasons will play at rover on Tuesday.

Technology has twice defeated the Pilgrim Athletic Association of Boston; as well as the Syracuse and West Point teams. Defeats have been administered by Harvard, Boston Athletic Association and the Syracuse hockey club.

New Men on Relay Team

During the past week varsity relay practice has been held regularly in preparation for the race with Amherst at Hartford on February 21. The squad worked outdoors most of the week, but the slippery condition of the track drove them indoors on Tuesday. Lyman has found the 440 too long and has withdrawn, and the injuries sustained by Dewey at the B. A. A. meet will force him to discontinue running for the present.
To fill the places of these men, Boynton
'13 and Brodie '15 have been taken on the training table.

Trustee Preaches Tomorrow

Rev. Harry Pinero Dewey D.D. '83, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Minneapolis, Minn., will speak at the regular morning service in the Thompson Chapel tomorrow. Dr. Dewey received the degree of B. D. from the Andover Theological Seminary in 1887 and that of D.D. from Dartmouth in 1898.
He has held pastorates in Concord, N. H., and Brooklyn, N. Y., and has for several years been an occasional preacher at various universities, colleges and schools.
Dr. Dewey has been a trustee of Williams since 1902, is a trustee of the Andover Theological Seminary, and Carleton College, a director of the National Congregational Home Mission Society, and a president of the Congregational Club of the Twin Cities. He will address the evening meeting of the W. C. A.

The regular vesper service will be omitted tomorrow evening and the communion service of the College Church for the winter term will be held at 5.30 o'clock.
Dr. Dewey will officiate at this service.

1916 SEVEN LEADS IN INTERCLASS LEAGUE

Victories for Seniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen in Close Contests

As a result of three games played in the interclass hockey league Thursday and Friday, 1916 is leading with two victories and no defeats. In the two games contested Thursday evening, the freshmen defeated the seniors by the score of 2 to 1, and 1914 lost to 1915, 1 to 0. Yesterday afternoon, the seniors shut out the sophomores with a 2-0 score.

Although the game between 1913 and 1916 on Thursday was well contested, the freshmen slightly out-played their upper-class opponents. L. L. Lewis scored first for the seniors, after which Coleman shot a long goal tying the score. Toward the end of the half, Leake tallied the winning point. Neither team scored during the second period. The line-ups follow: 1913—Dearborn g, Winslow p, Hubbell cp, Banks r, Phillips c, L. L. Lewis lw, Gill rw; 1916—Stickney g, Payson p, Reynolds cp, Coleman r, Hurd c, Leake lw, E. T. Clarke rw.

The second game also resulted in a close score, and during the first half neither team was able to score. Early in the second half, Hubbell '15 won the game with the only tally scored by either team. The teams lined up as follows: 1914—Davis g, Hunnewell p, F. S. Smith cp, Moody r, Garfield cp, C. P. Brown, Levi and MacGruer lw, Headley rw; 1915—Hammer-schlag g, Eells p, Van Slyck cp, King r, Hubbell c, Reiner lw, Michler rw.

1913, by superior team work, defeated 1915 yesterday afternoon by the score of two goals to one. Two extra periods were necessary to decide the games as the score at the end of two regular halves was 0-0. In the final period, L. L. Lewis and Banks '13 each scored, thus giving the victory to the seniors. The line-ups: 1913—Dearborn g, Winslow p, Wooster cp, Banks, r Heywood c, L. L. Lewis lw, Phillips rw; 1915—Hammer-schlag g, Garfield p, Van Slyck, Brainerd cp, King r, Hubbell c, Reiner lw, Michler rw.

WILLIAMS LOSES IN LAST MINUTE OF PLAY

WESLEYAN VICTOR, 15-13

Brilliant Work of Eaton Decides Exciting Contest—Purple
Twice in Lead

Williams lost the hardest and fastest basketball game of the present season Saturday night in the Lasell Gymnasium when Wesleyan barely nosed out a victor by a single basket, the final score standing 15-13. Both teams fought to the full extent of their power and ability, and until the final whistle the outcome was uncertain. Shortly after the game started, the score was tied at 3-3, but the greatest excitement was caused in the last period during which Williams gained a 13-11 lead, only to lose it through Eaton's brilliant playing within two minutes of the finish.

The game was replete with spectacular plays ending in tries which missed the goal by the narrowest margin. Especially was this true of long shots by the Purple which outnumbered those of the visitors and many of which rimmed the basket. Although the play at times became rough, the game on the whole, proved a splendid exhibition of basketball. Despite the loss of Captain Freeman the varsity showed itself fully equal to the Wesleyan quintet in the remarkably close guarding and the frequent intercepting of passes that characterized the contest. In making the best of opportunities by unusual ability in dodging and by quick, accurate shooting, the champions excelled, but Williams displayed steady teamwork backed by persistent spirit throughout the entire time.

For the varsity, Lefferts and Page starred, each securing two baskets. The former outplayed his opponent who failed to score from the floor and who was successful in but one out of five free tries. Page played an excellent all-around game, and, besides steadily guarding his man, was a strong factor in the varsity's teamwork. Much credit is also due acting captain Victor inasmuch as he held Captain Parkinson to two baskets and made three points on fouls from the four called. Eaton contributed most to Wesleyan's success by his accurate throws and consistent passing, and Parkinson also proved an exceptionally strong player.

In the first minute of play, Parkinson scored from the floor under close guard. After a goal from the foul line by Hayward, Lefferts started the Purple's scoring by a quick shot after a dash down the court and Victor's tally from foul tied the score. Clean baskets by Parkinson, Davidson and Eaton, preceding Hodge's goal, brought the score to 9-5 at the conclusion of the half.

As the second period progressed the play grew faster and faster until nerve-racking pace was reached. Victor's goal from foul and a beautiful throw from the center of the floor by Page decreased the visitor's lead to one point. Following free tries by Davidson and Victor, Lefferts caged his second basket and gave Williams an 11-10 advantage. Another foul and Page's tally made the score stand 13-11 in the Purple's favor. With but two minutes to play, Eaton successively shot two quick goals, thereby saving the game for his team.

The line-up and summary:

EXCELLENT CONCERT

Musical Clubs Well Received
by Houseparty Guests

The third home concert of the present season given in Grace Hall Saturday evening after the basketball game, before an audience composed chiefly of houseparty guests proved successful in every respect. Several numbers on the program were presented for the first time at any concert but, in spite of this fact, the clubs acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. The work of the banjo club is deserving of special mention, the medley early winning favor with the audience and the "Watch Hill March" being equally as good. After singing "Rose of Kenmare" by Bulard, Garfield '14 was obliged to render two encores before the audience was satisfied. With a larger personnel, the Glee Club was able to present its new numbers in a more effective and finished manner. The new mandolin medley, including a "cello obligato" by Gregor '15, arranged by Vorys '14 and played by the mandolin club gave evidence of careful practice and was a popular number on the program. In the other numbers, the club did excellent work. Austrian '14 and Porter '15 in monologues are always good, and contributed in a great degree to making the concert a success.

HOCKEY TEAM TO PLAY THREE GAMES THIS WEEK

M. I. T. Seven here Tomorrow—
Syracuse and West Point
Games Close Season

Williams is scheduled to play the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in hockey tomorrow afternoon at 4.00 o'clock on the Weston Field rink. In the game last year at the Boston Arena, the veteran M. I. T. seven proved too strong for the Purple, and won easily by a 6 to 1 score. Of the four games which have been played between the two institutions, Williams has won but one, in 1909, and the last two have been decisive victories for Technology.

M. I. T. has a veteran team, Foote, who is one of the fastest men on their forward line, being the only new player. Ranney at goal has played consistently throughout the season, and has made many phenomenal stops. Hurlbutt '13, who has played a brilliant game for Tech. during the past two seasons, is also a member of this year's team. Technology has won from West Point and Syracuse, and twice from the Pilgrim A. A. of Boston, Harvard, Boston A. A. and the Syracuse Arena have defeated the M. I. T. seven. The line-up follows: goal, Ranney (Capt.); point, Eichorn; cover-point, Stucklen; left-wing, Foote; right-wing, Fletcher; center, MacLeod; rover, Hurlbutt. Rogers and MacRae are substitutes.

The varsity will meet Syracuse University Thursday evening in the first hockey game played between the two institutions. The squad will leave here early Thursday morning, and reach Syracuse in time for the game which will start at 8 o'clock in the Syracuse Arena. On Wednesday, February 5, the Orange team was decisively beaten by the M. I. T. in an 8-0 game, but the following Saturday Trinity was easily defeated by the score of 12-0. During the game the Syracuse goal was only twice in danger and the team exhibited the most consistent work shown this season. Saturday afternoon the team met the Loudon Field Club at Lake George, and this evening they will oppose Dartmouth at Hanover.

The following will be the probable line-up against the Purple: Meyers, Milligan g, Ayling p, Long cp, Johnson r, Collins c, Simmous lw, and Sutcliffe rw.

The team will leave for West Point the following morning, and will play the Army at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

STRING QUARTET IN CONCERT THURSDAY

THIRD RECITAL IN COURSE

Favorable Newspaper Criticism and Variety in Selections Augur Excellent Recital

With a program embodying representative selections from Mozart, Godard, and Grieg, the American String Quartet will present on Thursday evening at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall, the third of the series of recitals arranged for in the Thompson Entertainment Course. Since the concert in Williamstown last year the personnel of the quartet has undergone one change; Miss Adeline Packard has replaced Miss Edith Jewell as violin. The remainder of the quartet is composed of Miss Gertrude Marshall, first violin, Miss Evelyn Street, second violin, and Mrs. Susan Lord Brandegee, violoncello.

The players are well fitted for their task, are well trained in ensemble, and individually each member has proved herself a finished artist. The New York Review has characterized one of their concerts as follows: "The ladies play with noble feeling and beautiful tone, the sonority of viola and cello being particularly noticeable. They appear to be equal technically to all demands, their ensemble is free, the tone round and fresh, and the artistic temperament is there."

The program follows:

Quartette in G Major      Mozart
Allegro vivace assai
Mennetto
Adagio Cantabili
Presto
Duet for two violins with piano accompaniment      Godard
(a) Campagne
(b) Abandon
(c) Minuit ("Midnight")
(d) Serenade
Quartette
Un poco Andante—Allegro molto ed agitato      Grieg Romanze
Intermezzo
Presto al Saltarello Quartet

COLGATE WEDNESDAY

Team to Meet Hamilton Five in First Return Game of Year

In the first return game of the season the Williams basketball team will oppose the Colgate five Wednesday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. The former game played Saturday January 25 at Hamilton N. Y. resulted in a 23-19 victory for the Purple, the favorable outcome being due mainly to the shooting ability of the winning five. Since the Williams game Colgate has won from R. P. I. and Syracuse and lost to West Point and Union. The close guarding and superior team work manifested by the Colgate five in all four games presages a hard fight for the Purple Wednesday night. Against the undefeated West Point five, "the same team work" which won from R. P. I. was again in evidence and required the strongest efforts of the Army to win out in the last few minutes of play.

It is still doubtful whether Captain Freeman will begin the game for Williams though it is probable that he will play during part of the contest. With this exception the line up of the two teams will be the same as that in the first contest.

SLIGHT CHANGES MADE IN FOOTBALL RULES

Committee Removes Restriction on Short Punts—Penalties Set for Minor Offenses

Two sessions of the football rules committee, representing thirteen colleges, were held in New York City on Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Martinique. The more important changes made in the rules are summarized below.

The restriction requiring a player to be five yards behind the line of scrimmage on a kick was removed. This means a slight strengthening of the attack by giving a team the added weapon of the short punt, or quarterback kick from close to the line. The penalty for not reporting to the referee when a substitute goes on the field was reduced from fifteen to five yards. The penalty for illegal return to the game was fixed at disqualification of the player and half the distance to the goal line.

According to the old rules a man who left the game could return only at the beginning of a new period, but the rule was amended so that a player can now return once, at the beginning of any subsequent period or at any time during the fourth period. It is now provided that if a team fails to report on time to the referee, he is authorized to put the ball in play by giving it to the team on the gridiron. The purpose is to prevent one team purposely delaying a return to the field while the players of the opposing eleven are getting chilled.

It was decided that the rules with the slight changes be published by June 1, which is a decided improvement, as more time will be given for becoming acquainted with the code. Details regarding the wording of the rules are left entirely to the members of the codifying committee. Williams S. Langford, who ranks as the best referee on the gridiron, was appointed a member at large of the rules committee.

Class Hockey Games Tonight

Two games in the interclass hockey series will be played this evening on the Weston Field rink at 7.45 o'clock. 1913 will oppose the juniors and 1915 will play the freshmen. Tomorrow evening, weather permitting, two more contests are scheduled: the seniors will play the sophomores, and the juniors will play the freshmen. On Thursday evening, the games arranged are: 1913 vs. 1916; and 1914 vs. 1915. The teams will probably line up as in previous contests.

EXTRA PERIOD FAILS TO BREAK TIE SCORE

Purple and White Always on Defence—Slow Contest on Slush-Covered Rink

Despite an extra period of three minutes the Amherst-Williams hockey game, played on the Weston Field rink on Saturday afternoon, ended with the tie score, 0-0. The sudden change in the weather had caused the rink to be covered with a thick layer of slush which became worse as the game progressed. Scientific hockey, accurate passing, shooting and general team work were out of the question; and the contest took the form of "shinny". The game was called to enable the visitors to catch an afternoon train for Amherst.

Throughout both regular halves as well as the extra period, the puck was almost continually in Amherst's territory. Kimball, the Purple and White goal tender had to parry shot after shot, and nineteen times during the game he had occasion to save his team from defeat. Rogers at goal for Williams had to defend his cage but three times. For Amherst, King, and for the Purple, Swain did the best playing of the afternoon, the latter missing goals on two occasions by the narrowest of margins.

In the first half H. H. Cutler drove the puck into the Amherst cage after about eight minutes of play but the score did not count as the referee's whistle had blown for offside play. The teams resorted to long passes from one end of the rink to the other and many scrimmages took place in which three and four men fought for the puck. Scrapers and shovels used during the intermission in attempt to clear the ice, gained nothing for a few minutes after play had been resumed the slush was as thick as ever. The second half saw many Purple substitutes enter the game in a vain attempt to score.

The line-up and summary:

WILLIAMS	AMHERST
Rogers goal	Kimball
MacNance point	Smith
Conklin cover point	Benedict
Gillette, Hunce- well rover	Seymour, Hardy
H. H. Cutler center	Wileox (capt.)
C. F. Cutler,
Moody, Curtis left wing	King
Curtis, Swain,
Moody, C. F.
Cutler right wing	Bacon

Score Amherst 0, Williams 0. Referee—Peacock of Pittsfield. Goal Umpires—MacGruer (W); Hardy and Seymour (A). Penalties—Curtis, King (one minute). Timekeepers—Mr. Seeley; Johnson (A). Time of periods—20 minutes. Time of extra period—3 minutes.

Gift Presented "Doc" Barrett

Last Saturday evening, Trainer Barrett was the recipient of a silver cigarette case, the gift of the undergraduates, purchased through A. D. Bastien of Williamstown. The initials C. E. B. are engraved on the outside of the case, and inside is inscribed the following: "Presented to 'Doc' Barrett by the students of Williams College in appreciation of his continued services and fidelity to Williams, which has helped so many teams to success".

Battery Men Start Practice

Battery candidates for the varsity baseball team will begin practice this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in the cage, under the direction of Captain Lewis. Until the arrival of Coach Coakley, the work is to consist chiefly in light passing in the cage. All candidates are requested to hand in their recitation schedules immediately to Manager Heywood or Captain Lewis.

A Moderate Increase

Any action taken by the Board of Trustees, enabling a man of limited means to enter Williams and feel at ease amongst his fellows during his course, must be viewed with general satisfaction by the undergraduate body as a step towards removing the impression formed in many outside circles where exaggerated statements have been made, that at Williams democracy at times gives way to aristocracy. The decrease in the number of requests for scholarship aid during the past few years has been one of the factors in providing material for adverse comment upon the social atmosphere of the college. One of the chief reasons in the smaller number of applications, however, apparently, is the fact that while general expenses have been increasing, the stipend in general scholarships has remained practically the same. Hence, any additional aid to the student depended upon his proficiency in the curriculum work, a higher grade of scholarship securing a correspondingly higher stipend.

Realizing the advisability of maintaining the ratio between scholarship aid and general expenses which prevailed before the time of the "higher cost of living" question, the Trustees at their meeting in New York last Friday voted to raise each scholarship stipend for the year by the amount of $25.00, the increased amount to apply to all grades of scholarships. As the tuition will be raised at the beginning of the next college year, the Board decided to make this additional amount available at that time. The increase was decided upon after deliberation as to the proper amount necessary to again secure a just relation between the assistance which should be offered to a deserving student and the legitimate expenses which must be incurred, should he decide upon Williams as his college.

It is unfortunate, however, that the additional amount must cover the entire year instead of a semester. Inasmuch as the increase in tuition next year will amount to $10.00, the difference between this amount and what is afforded through the raise in scholarship stipends will not be as great as may at first seem and, in fact, does not cover the aggregate increase in the items of board and room which have increased to the amount of $39.00 in the past nine years.

COLGATE DEFEATED IN RAGGED CONTEST

WILLIAMS TEAM OFF COLOR

Visitors Obtain 10-2 Lead but Purple Ends First Half Ahead and Wins 24-22

Williams won from Colgate in the Linsell Gymnasium last evening by the score of 24 to 22 in a game closely contested throughout but notably lacking in team play and accurate shooting. With the exception of a few short periods of spectacular passing and shooting, both teams guarded loosely and failed in many unguarded attempts for the basket. Victor and Hodge played the best game for the Purple with four and three baskets from the floor, respectively, and for Colgate Benzene and Hammond starred, the latter shooting two goals from the floor and six out of nine free tries from fouls. At the end of twelve minutes from the start of the game, the visitors held a lead of 8 points which was quickly reversed by four baskets in quick succession, two scored by Hodge, and one each by Leferts, and Victor, the latter of which also scored a goal from foul. Throughout the second half, Williams maintained its lead by at least a 2-point margin. Colgate rallied during the last two minutes of play, scoring two baskets which reduced the Purple's advantage to a single basket. Captain Freeman who had been prevented from playing for a week by an injury sustained in the Dartmouth game, entered the game at the opening of the second half.

Hodge started the scoring after a minute of play with a basket from the middle of the floor. After several wild attempts to score by both teams a goal from a foul followed by baskets in quick succession by Huntington and Benzene gave Colgate a three-point lead. Hammond threw a basket and a free goal from foul, after from under the basket. The Purple now took a brace and two overhand shots by Hodge, a free goal from foul by Victor, and baskets by Victor and Leferts, respectively, gave the home team a margin of one-point. Victor scored again from a scrimmage just before the half ended.

Both teams started the second half with many poor attempts to shoot. Hammond scored a point on a free throw, and after Victor's goal from under the basket, he shot another basket from foul for Colgate. Listless team play and inaccurate shooting resulted in several minutes of no scoring. Hay finally scored after a dribble, thus giving the home five a margin of five points. Hammond again scored from a foul and Benzene gained two points more from under the basket. At this point Johnson replaced Kennedy in the left forward position for Colgate. Freeman and Hammond each tallied from a free throw. Baskets by Page and Victor gave Williams an advantage of six points. After Hammond's successful shot from beneath the basket, a similar shot by Freeman completed the scoring for Williams. Colgate made a desperate rally and decreased the Purple's lead when Connors and Huntington each scored a basket in the last minute of play.

The summary is as follows:

WILLIAMS	COLGATE
Leferts, Freeman	lg Benzene
Hodge	rg Huntington
Victor	e Connors
Hay	lf Kennedy, Johnson

Score—Williams 24; Colgate 22. Baskets from floor—Victor 4, Hodge 3, Freeman, Hay, Leferts, Page; Benzene 3, Hammond 2, Huntington 2, Connors. Baskets from fouls—Freeman, Victor; Hammond 6. Fouls called—on Williams 9; on Colgate 5. Timer—Gibson (Wms). Referee—Behr of Worcester. Time of halves—20 minutes.

THIRDTOMPSON CONCERT

Recital by String Quartet in Grace Hall Tonight

The American String Quartet of Boston will give the third recital in the Thompson course at 8.00 o'clock this evening in Grace Hall. Characterized as "a feminine edition of the Ponzaleys", the four ladies composing the quartet have received excellent press comments in papers all over the country. The Montreal Gazette says: "Throughout they showed a pure tone, and a clear idea of what the broad outlines of the music meant, apart from their own particular part which made the ensemble something to be remembered. Each member of the company proved herself a finished artist, the work of the cello and viola being especially notable for breadth of tone and carefully consonant harmony with the other strings." The personnel of the quartet is as follows: Miss Gertrude Marshall, first violin, Miss Evelyn Street, second violin, Miss Adeline Packard, viola, Mrs. Susan Lord Brandegee, violoncello.

1914 AND 1915 VICTORS IN CLOSE HOCKEY GAMES

Evenly Matched Teams Give Interesting Exhibition on Weston Field Rink

Victories for the juniors and sophomores resulted from the interclass hockey games played on Tuesday evening, the score of both contests being 2 to 1. In the contest between the upperclasses Headley scored twice for 1914 after serimmages in front of the net. During the final period Dewey caged the puck after a pass from Banks who had carried it down the rink unassisted. The work of Rockwood and Moody was particularly good. The line-up follows: 1913; Wooster, g, Winslow, p, Hubbell, e p, Banks, r, Dewey, e, Heywood, r w, Phillips, l w; 1914; Rockwood, g, Davis, p, Turner, Garfield, e p, Hunnewell, r, Shields, e, Headley, r w, Moody, l w.

The underclass game was more scientific and Hubbell for the sophomores and Reynolds for the freshmen starred. The former scored both of his teams goals, one on a pass from Michler and the other unassisted. Clarke counted for 1916 after a serimmage in front of the cage. The line-up follows: 1915; Hammerschlag, g, Eells, p, Michler, e p, King, r, Hubbell, e, Van Slyck, r w, Cannon, l w; 1916; Stiekney, g, Hurd, Payson, p, Reynolds, e p, Sabine, r, E. T. Clarke, Hurd, e, Leake, l w, Jacobs, r w, Rogers '14 refereed both games.

On Thursday evening at 7.45, 1913 will meet 1915 and 1914 will oppose 1916. The following Monday the teams will pair off as follows: 1913 vs 1916 and 1914 vs 1915.

Rochester Minister in Pulpit

Rev. William Rivers Taylor, D.D., pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church of Rochester will occupy the pulpit of the college chapel next Sunday morning. Dr. Taylor graduated in 1876 from Rutgers College, where he received the A. M. degree three years later. His theological training was gained at the New Brunswick (N. J.) Theological Seminary, and the degree of D.D. was granted him by the University of Rochester in 1890. After his ordination in 1879, Dr. Taylor entered his first pastorate in Franklin Park, N. J. Four years' ministry at the First Church in Philadelphia came to an end in 1888 when he accepted a call to the Brick Presbyterian Church in Rochester, where he has remained. He is a trustee of the Reynolds Library of Rochester and a director of the Auburn Theological Seminary, besides holding many other positions of note.

Dr. Taylor will address the regular meeting of the Williams Christian Association Sunday evening on the subject, "The Challenge of the Church".

AMHERST EVEN MATCH FOR WILLIAMS FOUR

TWO CHANGES IN VARSITY

Relay Team Faces Hard Race in State Armory, Hartford, at 7.30 Tomorrow

Comparative times show Williams to be evenly matched with Amherst for the one-mile relay race to be held in Hartford, Conn. at 7.30 tomorrow evening in the twelfth annual indoor athletic meet of the second division Naval Militia, Connecticut National Guard. In the B. A. A. meet on February 8, the varsity lost to Wesleyan by a narrow margin in 3 minutes 17 seconds; and Brown defeated Amherst by twenty yards in 3 minutes, 15 1-5 seconds. A full handicapped race of the defeated teams. The same team which lost to Brown—Cobb, Connolly, Moore and Wadams—will probably oppose the Purple. For Williams, Dewey and Lyman '13 will be replaced by Boynton '13 and Brodie '15. Brodie ran on the 1912 varsity relay team, on which Boynton was a substitute. The meet will be held at the State Armory, Broad Street and Capitol Avenue.

Amherst, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Fordham, Holy Cross, M. A. C., M. I. T., Pennsylvania, Trinity, Wesleyan and Yale are expected to send teams to the meet. Lyman '13, who will run in the intercollegiate and open 75-yard dashes, is, besides the relay team, the only Williams entry. The squad, composed of Boynton, Lyman '13, Moffat, Rising '14, and Brodie '15, Coach Seeley, Trainer Boulger, Manager Mygala and Assistant Manager McCook, will leave Williamstown at 11.21 tomorrow morning, lunch at the Greenfield station and reach Hartford at 4.45, where they will stay at the Hotel Garde. They will return Saturday morning.

MEMORIAL TO ARMSTRONG

Schoolmates Honor Founder of Hampton Institute

A portrait bas-relief in memory of General Samuel Chapman Armstrong '62 has been placed in the corridor of Pauahi Hall, Oahu College, Honolulu, Hawaii. The memorial, which is the work of an English artist A. Bertram Pegram, is a replica of one in marble at Hampton Institute. For the most part the contributions were from schoolmates of General Armstrong at Pmahan or their descendants.

At the dedicatory exercises Judge Sanford B. Dole '67 presided and Dr. N. B. Emerson '65 delivered an address on "Armstrong in College and in the Civil War". The latter read a message of greeting from Williams by Dr. Franklin Carter '62 of which the following is a part:

"Williams College, supremely honoring General Armstrong, sends to Oahu College the loving greetings and hearty congratulations that Oahu College had her share in the training of this great soldier, missionary statesman, teacher, and now sets his name in enduring bronze upon her walls".

MANY INVESTIGATIONS

CARRIED ON BY G.G.C.

Committee Reports Heard and Plans for Trip Announced at Meeting Monday

Thirty undergraduates attended the meeting of the Good Government Club in the Jesup Hall reading room Monday evening. Announcement was made by president MacLeod '13 that the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Civic League will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 9 and 10 in New York. After being entertained as the guests of Columbia University the delegates will attend a banquet at the City Club Wednesday evening, at which many prominent public men will speak. Upon arriving in Washington the following morning, a special tour of inspection will be made of the federal buildings and the delegates will meet a number of well known men including President-elect Wilson.

VanDoren '11 reported on the work of the railroad management committee. At present the committee is timing the B and M trains, and the results of the investigation are either to be published in the papers or protest will be made to the railroad authorities if the lateness of trains proves frequent.

Two new committees have been formed to aid in connection with the child welfare exhibit to be held in North Adams about the middle of March. Pratt '13 explained the good results of such exhibitions in other cities, and said that any information gained is sure to be used in the exhibition.

Johnson '14 has been appointed chairman of the committee on theaters. Investigation will be made in regard to the number of children attending the moving picture shows. The methods employed in the various theaters is also to be taken up.

The pool room committee is under the charge of Stevens '14. The members of the committee will examine the pool room conditions, to find out if they are morally detrimental to the character of children.

Dean Ferry and Mr. Green Away

Dean Ferry has been in New York since Tuesday attending the annual meeting of the National Conference Committee on standards of colleges and secondary schools which have been held at the rooms of the Carnegie Foundation. He will return to Williamstown tomorrow.

Recorder Green has gone to Boston to attend the funeral to-day of Mrs. Green's father, Hon. Frederick Hammond of that city.

HOCKEY TEAM WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME

M. I. T. SEVEN DEFEATED 4-3

Contest Featured by Williams Defence and Brilliant Forward Line of Visitors

In one of the fastest games played on the Weston Field rink in the past two years, Williams defeated the strong M. I. T. hockey team Tuesday afternoon by the close score of 4-3. From the outset, the Purple exhibited a scientific knowledge of the game, and showed an immense improvement over the ragged work which has characterized the previous contests this season. The fact that every member of the Williams team will return to college in the fall augurs well for next year's seven. The good condition of the ice made fast and accurate play possible and the forward lines repeatedly rushed the puck the length of the rink. In this department of the game, the M. I. T. seven was particularly efficient and many times gained possession of the puck and by clever dodging and passing took it almost to the Purple's goal before being blocked by the Williams defence. The teams appeared evenly matched from the start and although the visitors' passing was slightly superior to the passing of the varsity, the strong defence exhibited by the Purple more than offset this advantage. During the first period and the early part of the second, Williams was in the lead by two or three points but M. I. T. increased its pace toward the end of the game and shot successively two goals with eight minutes to play.

H. Cutler was the greatest individual factor in the Purple's scoring and team play. He repeatedly carried the puck through the visitors' forward line by clever dodging and tallied two of the four goals gained by the varsity. The entire Williams defence played excellent hockey. Rogers at goal averted many hard shots from the sticks of the M. I. T. forward line, making in all nineteen stops during the game. The work of Macnabee and Conklin was strong throughout the contest and they broke up the fast offence of the visitors time and again. The M. I. T. forward line exhibited a brilliant and versatile attack and the work of Eichorn at point was excellent. Hurlburt ex-'13 was the individual star for the visitors.

Immediately after the beginning of play, H. Cutler dodged his way through the Tech forward line and scored a minute later from a serimmage in front of the cage. Curtis added a point on a short shot which narrowly passed the goal tender after H. Cutler had shot a second goal on splendid team work by the Williams seven. Shortly before the end of the period, Hurlburt secured first score for his team on a difficult shot from the sideline. The second half opened with a rush and both teams were playing at top speed. Following C. Cutler's short tally, Fletcher made the most spectacular score of the game, shooting the puck through the entire Purple defence. MacLeod added a point to the visitors' score, caging a goal from the side, and time was called.

The line-up and summary follows:

WILLIAMS	M. I. T.
Rogers	goal
Macnabee	point
Conklin	cover point
H. Cutler	rover
C. Cutler	center
Swain	left wing
Curtis, Moody,

King right wing Fletcher
Score—Williams 4, M. I. T. 3. Goals—H. Cutler 2, Curtis, C. Cutler; Fletcher, MacLeod, Hurlburt. Referee—Peacock of Pittsfield. Goal umpires—Michler '15 and Reynolds '16. Timekeeper—Crawford '15. Time of periods—20 minutes.

Follow Chicago

Two alumni associations have recently manifested practical interest in the problems of the college and in its welfare. The Chicago association not long ago established a scholarship of substantial proportions for the benefit of an undergraduate from that section of the country. The Boston association has within the past few weeks made a definite proposal to bring the college and the alumni into more intimate relationship. This second proposition if successfully evolved should do much to encourage other associations to follow the example of Chicago.

Appropriations by the alumni for the benefit of the college are largely proportioned to the intimacy of acquaintance which they hold with college conditions and problems. The Trustees have made a moderate increase in the general scholarship stipend but Williams is in need of more special scholarships such as that given by Chicago. This is the time for alumni gatherings in various sections of the country and it would be encouraging to see other associations follow the example of Chicago by displaying practical interest in the college.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:-

Two questions have recently arisen as to interpretation of the Constitution of the Honor System: first with regard to comparing answers, and second with regard to aid in interpreting questions in an examination.

The Committee takes this means of serving notice that in a test or examination any comparison of answers before the papers have been handed in, and any aid given to or received from a fellow student in interpreting the meaning of a question must be construed as a violation of the Honor System, and will be so acted upon by the Committee.

For the Committee

Secretary

Seventh Tea Today

The seventh of the series of freshman teas, held under the auspices of the W. C. A., will be given this afternoon from 4.30 to 6 o'clock in the Common Room, Currier Hall. As usual the ladies of the faculty will be in charge.

Busy Times for Musical Clubs

From now until the Easter vacation will be a busy period for the Musical Clubs. On February 28, a quartet is to sing before the annual meeting of the Connecticut Valley Alumni Association at Springfield. One week later, Friday March 7, the combined clubs will give a performance in Bennington at the Baptist Church. The most important trip of the year, however, will come during the first four days of the Easter vacation when the clubs will play in the following places: Wednesday evening, March 19,—Columbus Institute Hall, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Thursday evening, March 20,—either Montclair or Summit, N. J.; Friday evening, March 21,—Good Citizenship League Building, Flushing, L. I.; Saturday evening, March 22,—Plaza Hotel, New York City. These arrangements are somewhat different from the original plans which were announced in the Record, since the concert in Poughkeepsie has been changed from Thursday to Wednesday and the concert in Albany has been supplanted by one in either Montclair or Summit.

I. C. A. A. A. Saturday

At the annual meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America to be held Saturday, February 22, at 2 P. M. at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, considerable business of general interest will be transacted. In spite of the criticism which has been advanced recently concerning the advisability of discontinuing the hammer throw, the Executive Committee of the Association is of the opinion that this event should be retained even if it is necessary to change the hammer itself or the methods by which it is thrown. The meeting is to decide definitely as to whether or not the event shall be retained. In addition to other business of minor importance, steps will be taken to provide for improving the present American system of relay racing. Manager Mygatt of the track team will represent Williams at the meeting.

Baseball Practice Light

Practice for the battery candidates of the baseball squad began last Monday and will be continued at 4 o'clock daily except on Saturdays when it will commence at 2 o'clock. The practice has been in charge of Higginbotham '14 and Brown '15, and has consisted only in light passing and fielding. On next Tuesday the entire team will commence work under Coach Conkley who will arrive in Williamstown Monday night. All candidates who have not handed in their schedules to Manager Heywood or Captain Lewis are requested to do so immediately. The following men have reported to date: pitchers—Bowen, M. H. Smith '13; Garfield '14; Bowen, Garfield, Herrington, Leonard, T. R. Williams, Wood '15; Garfield, Hyde, Newell, Statler '16; catchers—G. W. Smith '14; Andrews, Debevoise '15.

Prof. Clarke Lectures on Trees

In continuing the series of faculty lectures on Tuesday afternoon, Prof. Clarke gave an illustrated talk on "The Big Trees of California and their Ancestors." Many of the pictures were taken by the lecturer himself on a trip to California last summer.

The Big Trees or "Sequoias" of California are found on the western slopes of the Sierras for about 250 miles. Some of the largest of them are 325 feet in height and over 4000 years old.

The isolation of the big trees may be accounted for by the passage of the ice sheet many millions of years ago. Before its passage they flourished all over the northern world, but afterwards climatic conditions were only found favorable in the region mentioned above.

Hart '13 Goes to Athens

The Williams College Greek Fellowship was awarded Monday afternoon to Charles Randall Hart 1913 of Buffalo, N. Y. This fellowship, amounting to $800.00 is given annually by the college to a member of the graduating class who has distinguished himself especially in the fields of Latin and Greek classics and enables him to pursue his studies at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece.

THREE DAY HOCKEY TRIP ENDS SEASON

STRONG TEAMS TO BE MET

Varsity to Play Syracuse, West Point and Loudon Field Club in Final Games

Leaving here on the 9.45 train this morning, the varsity hockey team started on a three day trip to wind up its season. At 8 o'clock this evening, Williams will face the Syracuse University skaters in the Syracuse Arena. The Orange has met defeat only twice this winter at the hands of M. I. T. and Dartmouth by the score of 8-0 and 3-2, respectively. In the game at Hanover on Monday, Syracuse showed strong defensive play and came near holding the Green to a tie score. Last Saturday the Syracuse players scored a decisive 12-0 victory over the Loudon Field Club at Lake George for which Johnson and Long were chiefly responsible. Steady team-work as well as individual brilliancy and fast skating account for the Orange's success. In spite of the shut-out by Tech, the game tonight should prove a hard one for the varsity. Following is the Syracuse line-up for this evening: Milligan, Meyers g, Ayling p, Long cp, Johnson r, Collins e, Simmons (Capt.) lw, Sutcliffe rw.

Tomorrow morning the team will go to West Point and is scheduled to play the Army seven at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At the beginning of the season, a squad of twenty men was picked from the thirty reporting for hockey practice. Of these Harris, Viner, Royce and Rose-year played on the first team for the last two years, and Krapf and Strong acted as substitutes in 1912. Eight of the seventeen games scheduled for the present season had to be canceled because of weather conditions, and those played resulted as follows:

West Point 0; M. I. T. 5
West Point 27; N. Y. M. A. 0
West Point 1; Amherst 0
West Point 5; Trinity 3

The Army was scheduled to meet N. Y. U. yesterday and Norwich University today. The probable line-up for the Williams game will be: Strong g, Krapf p, Brundred cp, Roseyear r, Harris e, Royce lw, Viner (capt.) rw.

After spending Friday night at West Point or in Albany, the team will journey to Lake George where they will play the Loudon Field Club at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, in the final game of the season. The men will return to Williamstown on Sunday. Composed entirely of ex-college players, the Loudon Field Club is considered one of the strongest aggregations in the State. Although losing to Syracuse, the Field Club easily defeated the Lake George Team 5-0. A. Wheeler and T. Wheeler are the strongest players for Loudon whose line-up follows: Taylor g, Brooks p, Callan, Dugan cp, T. Wheeler r, A. Wheeler e, Taylor lw, Lawyer rw.

Besides Asst. Manager C. W. Lester, the following players were taken on the trip: Curtis, Moody, Rogers '14, C. H. Cutler, H. C. Cole, MacNamee, Swain '15, Conklin, H. H. Cutler '16.

League Games Progressing

In League C of the intramural basketball series, Alpha Delta Phi defeated Psi Omega 12-8 yesterday afternoon. Sigma Phi defaulted to Delta Upsilon in League A. No more contests will be played until a week from today.

REVIEWER SUPPORTS "SANCTUM'S" STAND LET CLUBS DROP POLITICS

"Diversified, Intelligent and Interesting" February "Lit." Shows Trace of Hurry

The February number of the Literary Monthly offers a few words on a variety of topics. I say "a few words" because the impression I get from most of the articles is that their authors were in a hurry to be off to some meeting or basketball game, and sat on the edge of their chairs as they wrote, with an apology at the last for keeping their pencils busy so long. Other critics before me have noticed this same characteristic of present-day Lit. articles, just as other Williamstown folks have observed that the college man who comes to dinner rarely stays later than half past seven—everybody is in a hurry nowadays.

But though the words be few, they are well-chosen, and the program of contents is diversified, intelligent and interesting. The Literary Monthly is keeping up the tradition of letters in Williams College, and its editor like his predecessor of 1912, has ideas of his own, as he shows in the little discourse "On Class Clubs" which opens the number. I agree with him when he says, "A chief value of all college organizations is their tendency to mix men who otherwise might take no interest in one another"; and also when he urges the class clubs "to work for friendship and not for distinction". There is certainly politics enough in undergraduate life, and when one notes that nine men out of ten who belong to a certain club in junior year turn up in Gargoyle the year after, one wonders whether it is friendship or distinction that dictates the former's choice.

"An Apology for Noah Webster" is clever and amusing and gives its author a creditable introduction to readers of the magazine. There never is much imagination in a dictionary-maker, to be sure—his facts are too absorbing!

Mr. Toll's Windmill to Man (a rather awkward title) deserves a page to itself. This writer of verse loves the close-packed and thought-full line, and few Lit. contributors of recent years have said as much in their verse as he. I should like to have him read—if he has not done so before—the Lyrics of Father Tabb, close-packed too, and full not only of thought but of feeling.

Mr. Trevor continues his good work as historian, coming this time to a brief mention of Williams Holidays—Chip Day, Gravel Day, and Mountain Day of course. It is a pity he has not been able to lengthen the sketches of this series by the inclusion of more material, such as should be easily accessible. Prof. A. L. Perry's Williams-town and Williams College (a work that may often be read with profit), or the published reminiscences of Judge Keyes Danforth of the class of 1846, would have proved themselves abundant sources of information.

The Moving Finger runs to seven pages—the longest article in the number—and its author runs to epigrams even more than his hero, Mr. Lucius Birch of the eloquent argumentative turn. After all, matters doubtless come out for the best, and Mr. Birch, consoled with the new decree of Fate, could quote with approval such an expression of common experience as "But oh! Since then (twixt you and me) I've met a girl that I like better; and now, when'er I meet Marie I thank the Lord I didn't get her".

Mr. Brackett's unrhymed verse "The Sanctuary" shows again the artistic feeling and effective choice of words that have marked his work in previous issues of the Literary Monthly. A stormy night and evening chapel might have suggested the

GREEN HERE THURSDAY

Return Game with Dartmouth—Practice Omitted Saturday

In a return game, the eighth of the present season, Williams will oppose Dartmouth at basketball in the Lasell Gymnasium at 7.15 o'clock Thursday evening, February 27. Since defeating the varsity at Hanover 18 to 16 on February 11, the Green has played three games only one of which resulted in a victory. The scores follow:

Dartmouth 20; Columbia 9
Dartmouth 12; Princeton 22
Dartmouth 9; Wesleyan 32
Dartmouth 21; Columbia 29

Light basketball practice followed the Colgate game on Friday afternoon. After preliminary work in shooting baskets, the varsity, composed of Lefferts rf., Dompsey lf., Victor c, Narten lg, Langford rf, lined up against the scrubs in a fifteen minute scrimmage. Although the team work of the varsity did not show up very well at the start, in the last few minutes of play it easily overcame the defense of the scrubs and shot baskets in quick succession. The contest ended with the score 20-4 in favor of the varsity. On account of the holiday no practice was held on Saturday afternoon.

DR. GARFIELD ADDRESSES PENNSYLVANIA ALUMNI

Discusses Plans of Trustees Favoring Students in Unusual Circumstances

The Annual meeting and banquet of the Pennsylvania Alumni Association was held Thursday evening at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia. Felton Bent '95, president of the association, acted as toastmaster. Following is a list of the officers elected for the coming year: president, Felton Bent '95; vice-presidents, Marriot Canby '91 and Rev. W. B. Greene '92; secretary and treasurer Randall Williams '00.

Dr. Garfield, who was present as guest of honor, gave an interesting talk in an informal way on the conditions at Williams and the plans of the authorities for further development of the usefulness of the college. In reference to athletics, he showed that since the schedule of contests had been limited and the distance the teams were allowed to travel had been fixed at not over 200 miles, there had been a marked improvement in the standing of the college with similar institutions in this respect.

Dr. Garfield spoke of the plans of the Trustees for giving special facilities to students who came to college with poor preparation and who through this, or other causes, were liable to be dropped. The proposed arrangement is that such students should be given an extra hour a week in the subjects in which they had been deficient, so that they might have an opportunity of bringing their work up to the general standard of the class. On the other hand, facilities are also to be given those men of exceptional ability, whereby they might be excused from certain work in minor subjects so that they might give this time to special work or research in the subjects in which they are majoring.

In regard to the prevalent idea that Williams was a rich man's college, Dr. Garfield said that if the term was to convey the meaning that the avenues of preferment and honor were not open to a poor boy, this belief was emphatically wrong. He added that the condition of a man's pocketbook had absolutely nothing to do with his standing in Williams College.

Seat Sale Tomorrow

Reserved seats for the Dartmouth basketball game will be on sale at the managers' office, Jesup Hall from 7.30 to 8.30 tomorrow evening.

AMHERST RELAY TEAM WINS BY SCANT FOOT

DARTMOUTH TAKES MEET

Lyman '13 Scores Williams' Only Point—Eller of Georgetown Breaks Armory Record

By the scant margin of a foot, the Williams relay team lost to Amherst on Friday evening at the annual meet of the second division, Naval Militia, Connecticut National Guard, in the State Armory, Hartford. Amherst and Williams did not enter the triangular relay race with Fordham, which had been arranged without the consent of the managements of the two former teams. In the special race which was held between the two teams the Purple and White nosed out a victory in the time of 3 minutes, 43 and 3-5 seconds. Although this was slower than the records made previously by the varsity relay team, it was very good, as the team was not accustomed to run without spikes on a flat track.

Amherst won the toss and Cole took the pole with Brodie '15 as his opponent. The two ran a very close race, but the latter, handicapped by inexperience in taking turns on a flat track, lost a bare yard to the Amherst runner. Moffat '14 ran well against Hersh and succeeded in passing him, taking a lead of three yards. Blair, who ran third for Amherst, gained the pole and was able to outdistance Boynton '13. Rising '15 set out to overtake Cobb who started with a lead of ten yards, and, fifty yards from the finish, the former had reduced the margin to within a yard. The race to the finish was neck and neck, and the advantage in holding the inner track alone gave to Cobb the slight lead at the tape, which gave to Amherst the victory.

Lyman '13, who entered the 75-yard dash, succeeded in getting into the final heat, and took fourth place, thus scoring the only point for Williams. Eller of Georgetown won the race in the fast time of 8 seconds, which was the only new record for the armory established. Dartmouth won the meet with a total of 35 points, and three teams, Georgetown, I. A. A. C. and the Second Naval Division, were tied for second at 23. In the inter-collegiate relay races, Dartmouth won from Princeton, and Wesleyan defeated Trinity.

MR. KRAFT IN CONCERT

Second Subscription Organ Recital Thursday Evening

Edwin Arthur Kraft, organist and choir-master of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, will render the second recital in the subscription series Thursday evening at 8.35 o'clock in Grace Hall. Mr. Kraft is one of the most accomplished and talented organists in this country and Europe and is a Fellow of the American Guild of Organists. During the past year, he has made a tour of the United States and Canada and was everywhere received with great enthusiasm. The press comments on his recitals were most favorable.

In 1902, Mr. Kraft went to Europe where he spent three years, dividing his time between Paris and Berlin. While studying the German classics under Franz Grunieke, he appeared frequently in recitals, winning the favorable opinions of both musicians and critics. Upon his return to America, he took a position in Wheeling, W. Va., from whence he was called to his present occupation in Cleveland in 1907.

HOCKEY TEAM LOSES LAST GAME OF SEASON

Syracuse Wins Rough Contest by 5-3 Score—Lack of Ice Prevents Other Games

In the last game of the season for both teams, the Syracuse University hockey team defeated Williams by the score of 5 to 3 in the Syracuse Arena last Thursday night. The contest was not fast owing to the poor condition of the ice, but was exciting throughout. Superior defensive work and acquaintance with the rink were chief factors in the home team's victory. Frequent penalties, for tripping and slashing, hindered the work of both sevens. Rogers, C. F. Cutler, who made all three goals, and H. H. Cutler, starred for Williams while Collins and Johnson excelled for the home team.

C. F. Cutler started the scoring with a shot from scrimmage in front of the goal. A goal by Simmons and two by Johnson in quick succession, followed. The half ended with Syracuse in the lead, 3-1.

In the first three minutes of the second half, Collins shot a goal for the home team giving Syracuse a lead of three points, which he soon after increased to four. C. F. Cutler then followed with two tallies, one shot at an angle, and the other from scrimmage in front of the goal which ended the scoring for both teams.

The line-up and summary follows:

WILLIAMS	SYRACUSE
Rogers goal	Milligan
Macnamee point	Long
Conklin cover point	Ayling
H. Cutler rover	Johnson
C. Cutler center	Collins
Curtis,

Moody left wing Simmons
Swain right wing Sutcliffe

Score—Syracuse 5, Williams 3. Goals—C. F. Cutler 3, Collins 2, Johnson 2, Simmons. Referee—Foster of Syracuse. Timekeeper—Van Tuyl. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The games scheduled with the Army for Friday afternoon and with the Loudon Field Club for Saturday evening were canceled because of lack of ice.

First Informal Smoker Friday

Members of the senior class will meet at St. Anthony Hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock for the first of the series of informal senior smokers. No definite program has as yet been arranged.

"Dr. Johnson" to Be Considered

Asst. Prof. Rees will give the next lecture in the faculty series tomorrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock in the Common Room. He has selected for his subject, "Dr. Samuel Johnson".

ARTISTIC PLAYING BY STRING QUARTET

PROGRAM IS WELL RECEIVED

Clear Intonation, Technic, and Balanced Musical Feeling Mark Work of Artists

The return of the American String Quartet for the third concert in the Thompson Course in Grace Hall on Thursday evening was anticipated with much pleasure by all who heard them last season and the full measure in which those anticipations were realized, together with the manifestations of delight on the part of those who heard the Quartet for the first time, amply justified their re-engagement for this year's course.

The program presented was a symmetrical combination of the Classic and Romantic—the Mozart quartet in G major and the Grieg quartet in G minor—with a group of four modern French tone-pictures for two violins and piano as an appetizing filling in the musical sandwich.

It is of no special concern that the printed program gave the Mozart quartet as in the key of B flat major, that of No. 4, instead of in G major, No. 1, as played, for in each the order and character of the movements is quite the same. This can hardly be said however, of the misrepresentation of the first of the duettini, —a "Souvenir de Campagne", which somehow became metamorphosed in print into "Champagne" and so was placed in a somewhat wrong perspective, especially as it was followed by "Abandon" and "Minuit" (Midnight). The piece is a lovely pastoral with the quiet, fragrant atmosphere of a Touraine landscape, neither dry nor yet particularly sparkling.

These four pieces by Godard constituted the novel feature of the program and were much enjoyed for their intrinsic merit as well as for the opportunity they afforded Miss Marshall and Miss Street to disclose more of their artistic quality as soloists. The exquisite tone which characterizes the playing of the quartet in general was here displayed with great charm, supported by a subdued background supplied by Miss Packard at the piano. In "Minuit", for the two violins alone, the midnight hour was sounded by the cello off the stage, in place of the piano, with impressive effect. The "Serenade", in brisk Bolero movement formed a captivating climax to the series and on a second recall was repeated.

The playing of the Quartet throughout was highly finished and artistic in all the minute details that constitute perfection in ensemble playing. There are no blemishes of ragged attacks or finishes, roughness of intonation or tone-quality in their playing. Moreover while feminine grace, refinement and delicacy always abound there are no weak sentimental exaggerations but always an expression of sound, well-balanced musical feeling. The new viola has yet to acquire some of the vigor and rhythmical force of her predecessor and violin associates, and a similar need of vitality and assertiveness on the part of the cello may be mentioned as desirable for the full support and balance of the animated and brilliant leadership of Miss Marshall. This was noticeable more especially in the slow movements of both quartets where the individuality of each part is more pronounced.

The rendering of the Menuetto of Mozart was quite ideal in every respect: in fact Mozart in general may be said to furnish the requirements which these artists are preeminently fitted to fulfill. Small odds however need be asked in their favor in considering the more masculine demands of the Grieg quartet; all of which may be summed up by saying that their playing of it was a wonderfully fine and inspiring performance.

Why the Van Vechtens?

Ability in public speaking is an asset of much value to any man who expects to make the most of his opportunities in the world,—whether he enter a profession or engage in business. Distinction in this direction comes usually as the result of training and experience, not from inherent skill.

Oratory, however, does not appeal strongly to the present generation of red-blooded American youth. Anything which requires "grinding" is abhorred, and debaters together with prize contest winners are considered among the sordid class of those who burn the classic midnight oil. Our viewpoint may be different in years to come, but thus it stands today.
We want immediate results. We would like to acquire ability as public speakers but the preliminary toil looms up as an impossible barrier,—and we never make the attempt. One form of declamation,— extemporaneous speaking,—is not open to this prevalent objection and yet it is fully as valuable as others which appear more distasteful.

In this department of public speaking the college is enabled to offer special opportunity through the Van Vechten contest. The field of oratorical training has been neglected at Williams of late and we are particularly thankful for the permanence of this contest. It has not been as popular in the past as its advantages might have predicted, but this has perhaps been due to inadvertence and misapprehension on the part of former senior classes.
Each contest in the series including preparation, occupies only about an hour;
each one is held during the late winter and early spring when unwelcome weather is furnished in abundance; and all offer training of a novel but invaluable character. It is unnecessary to say that the contest as a whole merits the serious consideration of every member of the senior class.

Verein Gives Play Tomorrow

Six newly elected members of the Deutscher Verein, Cowell, Crum, Stevens
'14, Booth, Parsons and L. W. Williams
'15 will read "Der Prozess", a comedy by Benedix, at a meeting of the Society tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Common Room, Currier Hall. All members are requested to be present. Refreshments will be served. The new members are to rehearse the play this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Common Room under the direction of Mr. Hewitt. Following is the list of the men elected to the Verein at the last meeting: Duryea '13; J. U.
Anderson, Cowell, Crum, Longyear, Stevens, and Walker '14; Booth, Frink, Golding, Goldman, Gregor, Parsons, L. W.
Williams, and Wharton '15.

theme.
"Dollar Diplomacy" by Mr. Lawson is a brief study of a subject of current interest, following out the designs of the 1913
Lit. board to keep up with the world's doings. The author would evidently reverse some of our National policies, were he called to the office of Secretary of State.
Chat points us a dreadful picture of the horrors of Justice on Spring Street. For his consolation I take pleasure in referring him to a note in the Pittsfield paper, recently published, wherein it is confidently affirmed that in the space of several years only one Williams student has been haled before our local police-court—and he for hunting without a license!

And so we come to the "Sign of the Shears", an appreciative and discriminating review of the Lit's exchanges, and to the forty pages of advertisements, which,
following the thirty pages of literary matter, bear witness to the continuing matterial prosperity of the magazine.

Alumni of Many Cities Active

President Garfield was among the speakers at the annual dinner of the Philadelphia, Alumni Association of Williams last Thursday evening in Philadelphia and on Friday he also spoke at the reunion banquet of the class of 1885 also in Philadelphia.

On Friday evening, the Williams Alumni Association of the Connecticut Valley will hold its twelfth annual banquet at the Nayasset Club of Springfield. The principal speakers are to be: Pres. Garfield, Rev. Willard Scott '75 of Brookline, and
Hon. Michael E. Driscoll '77 of Syracuse.
The committee in charge is composed of
Dr. John Birnie '01 and W. H. Brown '03.
The alumni of Chicago plan to hold their annual banquet on the same evening at the University Club of Chicago. Dean Ferry will attend the dinner, and it is expected that many other alumni from other places will be present. On March 1, Dean Ferry expects to represent the college at the reunion of the Alumni Association of Detroit, and he is also planning to attend the banquet of the alumni of Western New York to be held in Buffalo.

Reprint of Old Williams Laws

At the Williams Alumni banquet held at Delmonico's February 14, each person present was given as a souvenir of the occasion a miniature facsimile reprint of "The Laws of Williams College," a pamphlet originally issued in 1805 and printed in Stockbridge by H. Willard. The facsimile contains forty-six pages and is reproduced one-third the size of the original.
There are extant only a few copies of the 1805 "Laws", a book which does not appear in several of the well-known libraries of America. The College library contains the volume, as do also the Boston Athenaeum and the Berkshire Athenaeum at Pittsfield. The laws set forth in the pamphlet include a number of quaint and unusual regulations. Provision for the making of the facsimile was made through Mr. Lowe, the Librarian. The printing is the work of Jones and Leigh Mfg. Co., New York.

and April 11, "Experience Among the Mormons in Utah" by C. L. Hedden '12.

the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, will be in Williamstown until Wednesday to interview any students interested in mission work.

Derwin, a talented banjo player who has his headquarters in Waterbury, Conn. will appear in Grace Hall on Thursday, April 17. On April 24, Mr. Seumas MacManus will recite Irish stories and tales. ## "The Challenge of the Church"

Rev. W. R. Taylor, D.D. of Rochester, N. Y., addressed the regular meeting of the W. C. A. last evening, taking as his subject "The Challenge of the Church." After showing how large a number of men are lost to the church through college, he discussed Dr. Washington Gladden's statement that religion organizes the church and the church then spreads religion. In closing, he showed the social need for the church and appealed to college men to become active workers in it.

There Is a Great Difference in Tobaccos

Tuxedo is the Mildest, Sweetest, Most Pleasant Smoke in the World, Because—

First—No one but the makers of Tuxedo is willing to spend the money necessary to buy the mildest, choicest, most thoroughly aged, selected Burley tobacco.

Second—No one but the makers of Tuxedo knows how to treat this Burley tobacco so that every bit of pleasantness and goodness remains in the tobacco and every bit of unpleasantness and harshness is taken out.

Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have been born, and are clamoring for your patronage.

No imitation is ever as good as the original. No amount of advertising, no amount of bluster and bluff, can ever make an imitation tobacco as good as Tuxedo.

Until someone discovers the secrets of the Tuxedo process, Tuxedo will remain without a rival. Those secrets are so carefully guarded that it is practically impossible for them to be discovered.

The greatest men in America—business men, professional men, lawyers, doctors, ministers, actors, sportsmen, athletes, engineers and men in every walk of life, smoke Tuxedo and recommend it as the most enjoyable, most pleasant and most healthful smoke.

If you are not a pipe smoker, you are denying yourself the greatest smoking pleasure known to man. One week of Tuxedo will give you more enjoyment than cigars—and at the end of the week your nerves will be better and your general health will have improved. Try Tuxedo this week!

RETURN GAME WITH DARTMOUTH TONIGHT

PURPLE IN GOOD CONDITION

Visiting Five Has Poor Record Since Defeat of Varsity at Hanover—Contest at 7.30

Williams will encounter the strong Dartmouth basketball team this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. In the two games played last year, the Green was victorious by the scores of 20-12 and 22-20 respectively. The Hanover five also won the previous contest this season by the close score of 18-16. The Purple was handicapped in this game by the strange floor and the loss of Capt. Freeman after the first few minutes of play on account of an injury to his knee. Both teams played fast and aggressive basketball and frequent penalties were called for dribbling, blocking, and tripping.

Since the last contest with Williams, the Green has played five games, four of which resulted in victories for their opponents. On Feb. 15, Columbia was defeated by the score of 20-9. Dartmouth showed the best form of the season and the Blue and White was able to tally but one basket from the floor. Snow starred for the Green, caging four goals. On the following Tuesday, Princeton triumphed over the Hanover team 22-12, scoring 14 points on free tries. Before the game ended, Dartmouth was forced to use practically a substitute team because of penalties inflicted for personal fouls. Wesleyan easily defeated the Green on Feb. 19 by the score of 32-9. The outcome of the game was never in doubt and no Dartmouth player secured more than one basket from the floor. Davidson of Wesleyan tallied five goals against Winship, and Hayward four against Sisson. In a return game, Columbia won from the Hanover five by the score of 29-21. At the close of the contest, the Green had but one varsity man in the lineup, four of those who started the game being withdrawn because of the personal foul rule. Dartmouth was defeated by Wesleyan Tuesday night by the score of 29 to 17.

Varsity Practice Varied

In practice this week the work of the varsity has been at times below the average. Monday afternoon, following a half hour's practice in straight shooting from the middle of the floor and under-basket dribbling shots, the regular five lined up against a scrub team. During the first fifteen minutes of play the varsity was extremely slow, and allowed their opponents a 18-10 lead but later the regulars warmed up considerably and finally won out by a 24-18 score. In an unusually hard scrimmage Tuesday afternoon, lasting with a short intermission, somewhat over an hour, the varsity nosed out a hard-fought 39-30 victory over the scrubs. The playing of the varsity was marred throughout by poor guarding and broken team work, the superior aggressiveness of the heavier team being offset by the accurate passing and guarding of the scrubs. In Tuesday's scrimmage Deely, playing right guard, scored eight baskets for the scrubs. Yesterday the team was given merely a light work out which consisted of practice in shooting and passing.

Eighth Freshman Tea

At 4.30 o'clock this afternoon, the regular freshman tea will be given in the Common Room. Several ladies of the faculty will be in charge as usual.

FIRST FENCING MATCH

Williams Trio to Meet Harvard at Cambridge Saturday

In its first official intercollegiate match, the varsity fencing team will meet the Harvard trio at 8.00 o'clock Saturday evening in the Hemenway Gymnasium, Cambridge. Harvard has lost to Annapolis by the score of 6-3 and to Pennsylvania with a like result, and has defeated Columbia by winning six bouts out of nine. The Crimson team is composed of S. F. Damon, Capt., R. van Nardroff, and T. J. Putman or J. A. Aylen, none of whom, previous to this year, had taken part in any intercollegiate meet. Williams will be represented by Swift '13, Capt., Field '13 or Mackay '14, and Reed '16. In the unofficial meet with the Springfield Training School last year, Swift '13 won each of the three bouts in which he was entered. Reed '16 held the championship of Lawrenceville School last year. The Williams fencers will leave for Cambridge on the 11.12 train Saturday morning, returning to Williamstown on Sunday.

"UNDERGRADUATES NEED MORE RED CORPUSCLES"

Competitive System of Electing Cheer Leaders Adopted at College Meeting.

"We want to infuse more red blood corpuscles into the college," said Prof. Russell, addressing the college meeting last evening in Jesup Hall. "We want men here who have distinct physical power and ability to succeed in athletics, fully as much as we want men who can achieve success in scholarship. If one-fifth or more of the college body make up their mind to back the basketball team at Wesleyan Saturday, they will do a good thing."

"If we get a hearty greeting when we come on the floor at Wesleyan," declared Victor '13, "we won't miss any shots under the basket."

Manager Dana announced that if a sufficient number of men signed up, a special train would leave Williamstown at about two o'clock Saturday afternoon and would return leaving Middletown about 10.15 p. m. Admission to the game will be fifty cents and the rates for the special train will be as follows: (The regular limited fare is $5.41.)

100 to 149 $3.91; 150 to 199 $3.65; 200 to 299 $3.13.

The college passed the following plan for the election of cheer leaders, as proposed by Bowen and Nightingale '13 and Higinbotham '14 and which was moved by Nightingale.

Article 1.
Sec. 1 The head cheer leader shall issue a call for candidates from the junior class for the position of college cheer leaders, at least one week before the first baseball game in the spring.

Sec. 2 These candidates shall lead the cheering at such games and at such times as the head cheer leader shall direct.

Sec. 3 After the first two games the head cheer leader, with the approval of the college cheer leaders shall cut the squad to not more than 12 men.

Sec. 4 In the week preceding the examination period in June, the head cheer leader, with the approval of the college cheer leaders shall again cut the squad to not more than 8 men.

Sec. 5 The candidates retained, together with any seniors who have been unable because of varsity athletics to take part in the spring competition, shall lead the cheers at the first two football games under the direction of the president of the undergraduate body.

Sec. 6 During the week following the second football game, the undergraduate body shall elect six of the candidates to act as college cheer leaders during their senior year, one ballot sufficing for the election.

WESLEYAN SATURDAY

Squad Leaves Tomorrow Afternoon for Middletown, Conn.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3.49, the varsity basketball team will leave town for its return game with Wesleyan and will spend the night at the Worthy Hotel, Springfield. Leaving Springfield Saturday afternoon, the men will go to Hartford for supper and will arrive in Middletown in time for the game.

Since the last game between the two teams on February 15, Wesleyan has played three games with the following results:

February 19—Wesleyan 32, Dartmouth 9

February 21—Wesleyan 41, Washington and Lee 14

February 25—Wesleyan 29, Dartmouth 17.

In the first game with Dartmouth, Wesleyan won easily owing partly to superior team work and accurate shooting and partly to the condition of the Green team which showed the effects of a hard game with Princeton the night before. The feature of the close contest at Hanover on Tuesday night was the playing of Winchester, a Wesleyan freshman, who was substituted at left forward in the second half.

1916 SEVEN CHAMPIONS IN INTERCLASS SERIES

Freshmen Break Tie, Defeating Sophomores 2-1 in Extra Game—Final Standings

The six interclass hockey games played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons on the Weston Field rink resulted in two victories for each of the underclass teams and one each for the seniors and juniors. By defeating the sophomore team yesterday afternoon, the freshmen tied with 1915 for first place in the interclass series. In the evening 1916 slightly outplayed 1915 in the final game by a one point margin thus winning the series.

On Monday afternoon 1915 nosed out a victory over 1913 in a closely contested game. The seniors were the first to score, when Heywood caged the puck on a long shot. After a goal by Michler the half closed with a tiescore. Early in the second half Hubbell tallied on a pass from King. Score 1915, 2; 1913, 1.

In the game between the freshmen and juniors, owing to the inability of a number of 1916 men to be present, a 6-0 victory was easily accorded to the juniors. After a goal by Garfield, Shields followed with two goals on long shots and in the second half two goals were caged by Smith and one by Moody.

On Tuesday afternoon the freshmen easily outplayed the seniors by the score of 5-0. Reynolds played the best game for the freshmen.

The first half of the 1914-1915 game resulted in a tie but in the second half the sophomores proved superior, and scored twice on shots by Conklin and Hubbell.

The underclass game yesterday resulted in a 1-0 victory for 1916. Cutler '16 scored the winning point in the first half.

The seniors defeated the juniors by the score of 3-2 in a hard fought contest.

In playing off the tie between 1915 and 1916, Coleman scored for 1916 in the first half. Leake and Conklin caged the puck during the second period.

Following are the final standings:

	WON	LOST	PERCENT
1916	5	2	.714
1915	4	3	.571
1913	2	4	.333

"Free Competition" Postponed

As sufficient notice had not been given, the meeting of the Economics Club scheduled for Monday evening was not held. Mr. Wright will read his paper on "Free Competition as a Basis of Economic Theory" at some future meeting.

EMINENT ORGANIST IN SECOND RECITAL

PROGRAM MODERN AND VARIED

Edwin Arthur Kraft of Cleveland to Play in Grace Hall Tonight at 8.35 O'Clock

Mr. Edwin Arthur Kraft, one of the best known organists of the present day, Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, and organist of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio, will give the second of the series of subscription recitals in Grace Hall tonight at 8.35 o'clock.

In 1902 Mr. Kraft studied in Europe, dividing his time between Berlin and Paris where he gained an equipment which few organists possess. In Berlin he studied the German classics under Franz Grunke and frequently appeared in recitals, winning the favorable opinion of both musicians and critics. Later he continued his work under the distinguished tuition of Alexander Guilmant and Charles M. Widor, two of the world's greatest organ authorities.

Although a young man, Mr. Kraft has acquired a clientele of unusual credit not only in Cleveland, but over the larger part of the country through his successful recital tours. He has been honored by having compositions dedicated to him by such men as Faulkes, Bonnet, Rogers, and others.

Regarding the organ as a real force in the making of good music, Mr. Kraft first creates a love of good music. To judge from his playing he believes that if entertainment is assured, the education will follow. His programs are modern and of broad range, from the composite melodies of Bach to the orchestral tone paintings of the ultra-moderns.

Enthusiastic press reports declare Mr. Kraft's work brilliant, his wonderful technique being apparent in every number. He is able to bring out the various possibilities of an organ in one recital as very few organists can. His playing is clean cut and decisive, yet possessing that unfathomable quality which indicates genuine comprehension and technique combined in one individual. Wherever heard, Mr. Kraft's work has marked him as one of the greatest technicians and to this he has added a knowledge of repertoire and a distinction in interpretation which has made him known far and wide as one of the best of organists. His command of the organ is absolute, his taste flawless, and his conceptions big. It is difficult to analyze the charm of Mr. Kraft's playing. It lies in the combination of a crystalline artistry with a personality to which intellect, emotion, and imagination have contributed to create temperament of ideal poise and sanity. Its intensity permits "self to pass in music out of sight" so that the product of his art is delivered untainted by the petty mannerisms of lesser artists.

This evening Mr. Kraft will render a program of comparatively new and modern selections. To avoid confusion all seats will be reserved. Members of the college body may obtain seats free of charge at the door. The admission will be 50 cents to outsiders.

The program follows:

Paeon (Song of Triumph)	H. Alex. Matthews
Melodie	Tschaikowsky
(Transcribed for organ by Mr. Kraft)
Scherzo—from the First Sonata	Rene L. Becker
Autumn Song—October	Tschaikowsky
(Transcribed for organ by Mr. Kraft)
Caprice—The Brook	Gaston M. Dethier
Evening Bells and Cradle Song	Will C. Macfarlane
(Dedicated to Mr. Kraft)
Fantasia Symphonique	Rosseller G. Cole

Prof. Henry S. Canby of Yale in the March number of Harper's Monthly.
The essay purports to analyze the faults of the collegian, real and fanciful; to fathom out the cause of his fundamental failings; and to suggest the direction for a remedy. It is refreshing to peruse such an article, for the author is really conversant with undergraduate life. He is not burdened with the duty of reforming the world through muck-raking attack nor with proposal for a general upheaval and re organization. His expressed preten-sions are not great, but his style is readable and whatever our belief concerning his opinions, we take pleasure in recommending the article. It would be encouraging to see more of the same type,—more in which collegiate conditions are considered in a sane, sympathetic and unprejudiced manner.

Prof. Canby is heartily in sympathy with those who are inclined to condemn
"extra-curriculum" activities in wholesale fashion and to deprecate the "social usurpation of our college". This is the subject to which we would especially refer, quoting one sentence from the article in question: "Loyalty unites itself in the subconsciousness with the desire for social honors—the Mammon of our colleges—and is an inextricable part of the motives of those whose chief ambition is to make this society or that". If the scramble for social honor alone supports undergraduate activities only a weak defense can be made for their existence. We do not believe that this represents the true situation at least at Williams, and right here we should like to state that Williams is not Yale or any other American college and that conditions in different institutions vary, sometimes to a great extent. "Extra-curriculum" activities engender in American youth that loyalty which Prof. Canby has designated as "the great and shining virtue of the undergraduate". To work for the college is an admirable aim,—it embodies that spirit of public loyalty which needs more infusion into our American political life,—it is only when carried to an extreme that these activities perform purely wasteful functions. Then too, there are a few men in college who are really interested in the activities themselves. We sincerely agree with Prof.
Canby in his suggestion that "until we prize what we have it is useless to criticize the undergraduate", and also in one of his closing remarks: "Do not minimize college life, rather help us to vitalize it".

Interesting Talk on "Johnson"

Professor Rees delivered an address on "Samuel Johnson" at the regular faculty lecture held Tuesday afternoon in the Common Room.
Although many writers and critics have labelled Samuel Johnson as too self assertive and dogmatic, he was in reality one of the broadest minded men of his day. It is true that he had an extremely bitter feeling for the Americans because they sanctioned slavery and he harbored an intense hatred toward the Scots because his friend, Boswell, was easily teased, but outside of such petty eccentricities he was very liberal in his views. One of the best proofs of this characteristic is the fact that he is never known to have lost or to have even seriously quarrelled with a friend,—and he cultivated a very wide acquaintance among all classes.
As a writer, Johnson's style is unexcelled. His sentences, even though copied from a hasty letter, are worded in a fashion which it is impossible to alter or even imitate. Reading as though delivered in conversation, they are nevertheless absolutely faultless, grammatically and logically. His criticisms, too, are to the point and are now being appreciated at the same time as his style. Having him rejected ever since their writing, these master thoughts and comments are now brought to light and are accepted as the very best obtainable.

More Intramural Games

New Members Initiated

Monday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Common Room the Deutscher Verein held an interesting and entertaining meeting, which was begun by singing several German songs. Following this the six newly elected members presented the comedy by Benedix, "Der Prozess", which was a distinct success. Before closing Prof. Wahl gave an address of welcome to the new members and urged that each man should take an active interest in the Verein and do some work to promote its efficiency.

Cercle Meeting Postponed

Inasmuch as Monsieur Louis Delmarre of the College of the City of New York will be unable to address the Cercle Francais on Saturday, the meeting of the society has been indefinitely postponed. M.
Delmarre will give his address on "Les Humoristes Francais" at a meeting to be held shortly after the Easter recess.

Hewat has a position in the woolen mills of the Strong, Hewat Co. of Briggsville.

Judd is undecided.

Mackenzie is working with the Vermont Marble Co. of Proctor, Vt.

Mears has accepted a position as assistant principal of the Turners Falls High School.

Merritt will enter the Columbia Law School.

Michael is in the employ of the Willett Engine and Truck Co. of Buffalo, N. Y.

Trevor will probably enter the Columbia Law School next fall.

Interesting "Review" Out

Reports of alumni dinners in various parts of the country monopolize the February issue of the Alumni Review, which begins volume five of this publication. Comprehensive accounts are given of the speeches at New York and Boston; and considerable space is given to the annual banquets at Troy, Cleveland, and the Twin Cities. The editorial pages are particularly interesting, as the titles of the longer commentaries may suggest: "Alumni and Alma Mater", "Dr. Parsons", "A Poetry Prize", "A Chance for Gargoyle", "E Liberalitate Again", and "Exams".

Varsity Practice at 2.30 Today

About fifty men attended the meeting for baseball candidates held last evening in Jesup Hall. Manager Heywood spoke about the taking of cuts before the season and Coach Coakley announced that all candidates are to report at the cage at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon for practice. No regular schedule of work has been arranged as yet. The work as heretofore will consist of a general working out, pitching, catching, and light fielding.

Lean Fare for Lenten Days

In spite of the full page apology offered to the reviewer for the tardiness in the appearance of the current issue of the Purple Cow, the question as to why the issue was published at all still remains unsolved. A perusal of the contents reveals little that is really interesting, with the possible exception of the editorials which form a bright spot in an otherwise mediocre number. "Bible Stories for the Young" still continue to appear and other special articles prove unappetizing "fillers". A few of the jokes are good, some of those from the exchanges helping to raise the average in this department. The center page drawing "A Lenten Delicacy" suggests that the 1913 board swore off humor until Easter.

Debating Plans Completed

Plans for the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams triangular debate have practically been completed by the varsity affirmative and negative teams. Dr. Garfield has been coaching the affirmative side and Asst. Prof. Doughty the negative. The former team led by Daly '13 will leave for Hanover on March 6, debating there that night and returning to Williamstown the following afternoon. Keller '15 is in charge of the team that will meet Brown here.

Trouble In Congress

In a very stormy session last Monday evening in Jesup Hall, the "Logian" Technian Congress postponed all action upon pending bills and devoted the entire meeting to moving votes of censure upon various officers of the society.

Slow Progress in Chess Match

But little progress has so far been made in the Yale-Williams correspondence chess match. Approximately ten moves have been played and both games are only fairly under way. Yale is playing the white pieces on board one and opened with the usual pawn to king 4 move. The first few moves gave promise of a Roy Lopez opening. Variations after the third move changed matters. At present Williams seems to have a slight advantage. On board two, Williams though having the white pieces, has been forced to take the defense and Yale seems to have developed a strong attack upon the white king which has castled. A board and chess men with the list of moves so far played are in 27 Jesup Hall. Any suggestions as to plan of action should be written down upon a pad furnished for that purpose.

Ten Men Out for Var Vechters

A preliminary meeting of the candidates for the Van Vechten Extemporaneous prize speaking contest was held last Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in 6 Hopkins Hall. At this meeting it was decided that the first contest be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in 6 Hopkins Hall and the succeeding ones on the following Thursday afternoons at the same hour. Eight to ten minute speeches will be required of the candidates at all five contests. Attendance of the public is invited. The following ten men have already submitted their names and all other seniors who intend to enter must notify Prof. Perry before next Saturday: Gilchrist, MaeLeod, Nathan, Pitcher, Powell, Schaffler, Toll, Troy, Whittlesey, Williams.

Psi Omega House Ready in June

Work of the new Psi Omega house has been progressing rapidly and the house will probably be ready for occupancy at Commencement time. The carpenters have completed the shingling of the roof, and have laid the tin covering on the porches. In the interior of the house F. H. Sherman of Williamstown, who has charge of the lighting, has installed the pipes for the electric wires and the heating contractor plans to put the radiators in within the next few days. The furnace has been installed, and work on the plumbing is now under full headway. Workmen have partitioned off the floors into rooms and completed the lathing of the second and third floors. The contracts for furnishing the house have not as yet been made.

Connecticut Alumni to Banquet

The Williams Alumni Association of the Connecticut Valley will hold its twelfth annual banquet tomorrow evening at the Nayassat Club in Springfield. A quartet probably to be composed of Boynton '13, Garfield '14, West '15 and Seibert '16, will be present to sing at the occasion. Pres. Garfield '85, Rev. Wilford Scott '75, of Brookline, and Hon. Michael E. Driscoll '77 of Syracuse are among the speakers. The committee in charge consists of Dr. John Birnie '01 and W. H. Brown '03.

THE WILLIAMS RECORD

VOL. XXVI

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1913

NO. 81

PURPLE FIVE EVENS DARTMOUTH SERIES ONE POINT SUFFICIENT

Five Goals for Margeson and Four for Hodge—Long Shots Popular

By the close margin of one point, Williams won a 20-19 victory in the return basketball game with Dartmouth last Thursday evening in Lasell Gymnasium, Cambridge. This is the first intercollegiate meet in which the Williams team has participated since its organization last year. Owing to difficulty in obtaining judges for this evening, the time of the meet was changed from 8.00 to 1.15 o'clock. In the three previous matches of the season Harvard lost to Annapolis and Pennsylvania by 6-3 scores but won from Columbia by a similarly decisive margin. No member of the present Crimson team, which is composed of S. P. Damon, Capt., R. van Nardroff, and T. J. Ayley, has, previous to this year, taken part in any intercollegiate meet. Of the Williams fencers, Swift '13, Capt., Field '13 or Mackay '14, and Reed '16 Captain Swift won each of the three bouts in which he entered in the Springfield Training School meet last year and Reed '16 held the championship of Lawrenceville School during the 1911-1912 season. The Williams team left for Cambridge on the 11.21 train this morning and will return to Williamstown on the 9.19 train tomorrow night.

With the exception of Hodge's two baskets at the opening of the first half, the play lagged, but Snow's goal, tying the score, aroused the Purple team, which at intervals gave a good exhibition of team work and gained the advantage on baskets by Victor and Page and two fouls by Freeman. Sisson's two fouls ended the scoring for the half, with Williams ahead by the score of 11 to 7. In the second half, four long shots by Margeson reversed the lead before the Williams players rallied. Two baskets by Hodge, however, and one each by Page and Hay again gave Williams the advantage, and although Dartmouth twice cut this lead down to one point, the Green was unable to pass its rival.

For Williams, Hodge played an excellent game at forward, scoring four goals from the floor; and Page caged a timely basket in each half. Margeson, who was easily the star for Dartmouth, made the majority of the Green's scores. Sisson was not up to his usual standard and failed in five of his ten free chances from Williams' fouls.

Hodge began the scoring in the first two minutes of play with a goal from formation, and followed immediately after with another from the side. Freeman and Sisson then tallied on fouls. At this point Margeson scored his first basket from an unprotected position under the goal, and Snow tied the score with a shot from the same position. Freeman tallied on a foul and two baskets in quick succession by Victor and Page gave the Purple a lead of five points which Freeman increased to six on another goal from foul. Sisson ended the scoring for this half with two free shots.

Two long shots by Margeson from beyond the middle of the floor tied the score. After four minutes of play, Lefferts replaced Freeman who received a slight injury to his knee. Margeson again shot two difficult baskets in quick succession from the middle of the floor and gave the Green a lead of four points. Hodge tallied from under the basket and Page tied the score with a goal from beyond the middle of the court. Following Hay's basket from a short dribble, Winship replaced Grant, and Hodge again tallied from an unguarded position. Sisson scored on a foul and Snow gained a free shot from the middle of the floor. Victor increased the Purple's lead on a foul and Sisson ended the scoring with a free throw.

FENCERS AT CAMBRIDGE

Williams Team Meets Harvard at 4.15 o'clock Today

At 4.15 o'clock this afternoon, the Williams fencing team will oppose the Harvard trio in the Heinenway Gymnasium, Cambridge. This is the first intercollegiate meet in which the Williams team has participated since its organization last year. Owing to difficulty in obtaining judges for this evening, the time of the meet was changed from 8.00 to 1.15 o'clock. In the three previous matches of the season Harvard lost to Annapolis and Pennsylvania by 6-3 scores but won from Columbia by a similarly decisive margin. No member of the present Crimson team, which is composed of S. P. Damon, Capt., R. van Nardroff, and T. J. Ayley, has, previous to this year, taken part in any intercollegiate meet. Of the Williams fencers, Swift '13, Capt., Field '13 or Mackay '14, and Reed '16 Captain Swift won each of the three bouts in which he entered in the Springfield Training School meet last year and Reed '16 held the championship of Lawrenceville School during the 1911-1912 season. The Williams team left for Cambridge on the 11.21 train this morning and will return to Williamstown on the 9.19 train tomorrow night.

G.G.C. at Work for Exhibit

The Good Government Club has almost completed its work in the gathering of certain statistics and data for the Child Welfare exhibit to be given in Oddfellow Hall, North Adams, from March 13-16. The exhibit, which will consist of illustrations, diagrams, living exhibits, statistics, and speeches, is in the hands of the civic organizations of North Adams and the G. G. C. Members of the latter society and girls from the Normal school will act as ushers and will point out and explain the main points of interest. Under Nathan '13 the factory committee has inspected nine mills in the neighborhood, paying particular attention to the child labor question. The data concerning its findings is being written up. The committee on theaters, in charge of Johnson '14, has investigated in regard to how many children attend the moving picture shows, the moral character of the pictures and the methods employed in the various theaters. Stevens '14, chairman of the pool room committee will present a report as to the moral effect of such resorts on the character of minors.

Settlement Worker In Pulpit

Rev. H. Roswell Bates of New York City will occupy the pulpit in the college chapel tomorrow morning and will address the regular meeting of the W. C. A. tomorrow evening. Mr. Bates is a graduate of Auburn Theological Seminary and is at the present time pastor of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church of New York City. He has attained a nation wide reputation as a settlement worker and is a very popular speaker among the eastern colleges.

At the W. C. A. meeting in Jesup Hall tomorrow evening Mr. Bates will speak upon "Travelling in Korea".

Delay in Election of Captain

Owing to the illness of Manager Jones, the date for the election of the varsity hockey captain for next year has not been set. Jones has been confined to the infirmary for two weeks by a severe attack of bronchitis but it is expected that he will be discharged Tuesday or Wednesday. Upon his recovery the dates for both the varsity squad picture and the next year's captain election will be decided upon.

W.C.A. Elects Monday Night

The annual meeting of the Williams Christian Association for the election of officers will be held in the Jesup Hall auditorium at 8.00 o'clock next Monday evening. The association will ballot on the names recommended by the committee, which were published in a previous issue.

MODERN SELECTIONS IN KRAFT RECITAL PERFORMANCE DISTINCTIVE

Exquisite Shading and Smooth Execution Praised by Under- graduate Reviewer

To the lovers of formal music only, the recital given last Thursday evening by Mr. Kraft must have seemed execrably disappointing. The audience as a whole, however, thought otherwise, judging from the enthusiastic applause it gave. The performer was, unfortunately, pressed for time, and though he played two encores, one number had to be omitted. More were wanted but not forthcoming.

Mr. Kraft's performance was distinctive. As a master of technique he was able to execute very difficult runs and finger work of all kinds, without that disagreeable blurring sound that has, to a greater or less extent, been characteristic of former recitals. The execution of the Scherzo by Becker, and of the Caprice by Debussy was remarkably good. It was indeed a boon to the writer to learn that such compositions can be played with distinctness on an organ. But Mr. Kraft's ability is not confined to mere technical skill on the keys; he combined with it exquisite shading, good use of the manuals, and he seldom caused distortion of time—a fault extremely common—by pausing to arrange stops. He was complete master of the instrument, and the few mistakes he made were undoubtedly due to unfamiliarity with this particular organ.

The numbers on the program are a matter for individual opinion. Those who prefer Mozart, Bach, and other "old masters" to the descriptive, informal works of modern composers, will have much to condemn in the program. One is forced to admit, however, after hearing the various productions that have been given here, ranging from Bach to "ultra-modernism", that the tuneful tone-paintings of modern composers can be rendered with more success on the organ, than can the rigid compositions of the old. The secret lies merely in their adaptability; intricate figures require more than one man, unless he be a virtuoso, can put into them.

Among the productions played by Mr. Kraft were four that deserve special mention. The first number, Song of Triumph offered many opportunities for fine crescendos, ending in real bursts of triumph that must have thrilled even the most unimaginative listener. A model of daintiness was Becker's Scherzo, containing difficult finger work perfectly done; it was repeated as an encore. Evening Bells and Cradle Song by Will C. Macfarlane, was noticeable for an exquisite melody; and the adaptation of the echo-organ (whether Mr. Kraft's or the composer's) was skillful. Last and best, was Wagner's Ride of the Valkyries, which the performer

HARD GAME EXPECTED

Team Plays Wesleyan Five at Middletown Tonight

Tonight at 8.15 o'clock the varsity plays one of the strongest of this season's fives, the Wesleyan University basketball team, at Middletown, Conn., in the second contest this year between the two colleges. Although the New England champions for 1912 have defeated Williams in the last five games between the two institutions, the varsity put up a harder fight on February 15 and forced a closer score than any of Wesleyan's 1912-1913 opponents.

Wesleyan has played but two contests since the game with Williams. In a loosely played game with Washington and Lee in which Wesleyan came out a 14-14 victor over the Southern Champions on February 21, the Red and Black team showed exceptional ability in locating the basket. Last Tuesday evening, the Middletown five won its second game with Dartmouth 29 to 17. Crane, who has been alternating with Pettigrew at guard, played left forward in place of Davidson for the first half, and was in turn replaced by Winchester for the remainder of the time.

Captain Freeman, Natten, Page, Victor '13, Deely, Dempsey, Hodge, Lefferts '15, Garfield, Hay '16, Manager Dana, Asst. Manager E. C. Lincoln and Trainer Boulger took the trip, leaving Williamstown yesterday afternoon. The varsity's line-up will probably be the same as that in the Dartmouth game. Helmer Worcester will referee.

Lehman Meet Next Week

Manager Mygatt has announced March 5 and 8 as the dates for the fourteenth annual Lehman Cup track meet, and as usual the events will be held in the Lasell Gymnasium and on the board track. Competition in the meet is open to all undergraduates regardless of their eligibility for varsity teams, and entries may be made at the beginning of each event. The meet will commence at 4.30 p. m. on Wednesday and at 3.00 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. It is through the generosity of Mr. Herbert Lehman '99 of New York City that the awarding of cups to the two contestants scoring the highest number of points is made possible.

Results of Intramural Games

As a result of the intramural basketball games played on Thursday and yesterday afternoons, Alpha Delta Phi won first place in League A with a standing of 1,000 per cent. by defeating Phi Sigma Kappa 10-9, while the Cosmo was victorious over Theta Delta Chi 9-6. In League C the Commons tied Sigma Phi for the leading position by winning from Delta Epsilon 20-6. Prindle's advanced its standing in a 14 to 7 contest with Kappa Alpha in League B.

Today's games are scheduled as follows: 2 p. m.—League A, Commons vs. Delta Kappa Epsilon; League B, Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Delta Theta; 3 p. m.—League B, Alpha Zeta Alpha vs. Chi Psi; League A, Delta Psi vs. Sigma Phi; 4 p. m.—League C, Delta Delta vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; League B, McCoy's vs. Prindle's.

Special Train for New Yorkers

Any men desiring to return to Williamstown from New York on a special train of sleepers at the end of the Easter recess, are requested to sign their names on the notice posted in Hopkins Hall. Providing enough men sign up, the train will be run from Grand Central Station at 1.00 a. m. Thursday morning, March 27, arriving in Williamstown in time for chapel.

1913 Strengthens Friendships

Over fifty seniors attended the first of the class smokers which was held last evening at St. Anthony Hall. The gathering was entirely informal and consisted of a smoke-talk without any special form of entertainment. Refreshments of coffee and sandwiches were served.

1913 HOCKEY SEASON FAIRLY SUCCESSFUL FIVE GAMES CANCELLED

Record Includes Two Victories, One Tie, and Three Defeats —Same Team Next Year

Two victories, one tie, and three defeats give in brief, the record of the 1912-1913 hockey season. Although this is not a remarkable record, yet it is an improvement over that of the last two years and the development of a fast and aggressive forward line and a strong defence promise a successful season in 1914, inasmuch as none of this year's players will be lost by graduation. The complete schedule as finally arranged included eleven games, five of which were cancelled on account of lack of ice. Of the six played, four were contested in Williamstown and two on out-of-town rinks. General improvement in the work of the squad was noticeable as the season progressed and, after the addition of several strong players at mid-years, the team presented a fast offense and strong defense.

Seven veterans reported for the first practice last fall—de Bronkart and Michael '13, Curtis and Gillette '14, Cole, MacNamee, and Swain '15—and a large squad began work the early part of December on the board track. The innovation of an interclass hockey series was a great help to the varsity in affording ample material for practice games. As in past seasons the development of the seven was greatly hindered by the warm weather and consequent lack of ice before the Christmas recess. As a result of these conditions the games with M. A. C., Trinity, Amherst at Amherst, West Point, and Louden Field Club were cancelled.

The personnel of the team was changed considerably at mid-years by the graduation of Captain Michael and de Bronkart, and the addition of Cutler, Conklin '15, and Cutler '16 to the squad. J. S. Rogers played a consistent game at goal throughout the season. MacNamee at point and Michael and Conklin at cover point exhibited ability in breaking up their opponents' offense. de Bronkart played center until after mid-years when his place was taken by C. Cutler. H. Cutler who filled Gillette's position at rover after the injury received by the latter in the Amherst game displayed excellent form in the two remaining contests of the year. The wing positions have been held by Curtis, Swain, and Moody.

The season opened auspiciously with an easy victory over R. P. I. by the score of 7-0. Both sevens were handicapped by lack of practice and the poor condition of the ice, which considerably slowed up the team play. Flashes of brilliant individual work were encouraging features of the varsity's showing. The annual Princeton game at St. Nicholas rink on December 20 proved a disappointment to the many Williams men who witnessed the contest as the Purple was defeated by the large score of 14-1. The varsity was powerless before the attack of the splendid Orange and Black forward line and Captain Baker alone shot eight goals. Swain was the only varsity player to score. In the third game of the season Springfield Training School defeated the Purple 2-0 in a hard fought contest which was characterized by a total absence of team work. During the greater part of the game the condition of the ice was such as to render accurate play impossible. The Amherst game on Feb. 15 ended in a 0-0 tie despite an extra period of three minutes. Scientific hockey was out of the question on account of the thick layer of slush which became worse as the game progressed. Throughout both halves as well as the extra period the puck was almost continually in the Purple and White's territory. In the M. I. T.

No more interesting W. C. A. speaker is secured during the course of the year than Rev. H. Roswell Bates who has always had a special inspiration for college men. He speaks tomorrow night in Jesup Hall for the first time in two years.

Informal senior smokers proved their value last year and it is to be hoped that the custom will be continued for many years to come. 1913 enjoyed their first gathering of this nature last night and it is only to be regretted that the first smoker was not arranged for an earlier date.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:—

A great many men in college have asked what the Charities Committee of the W.
C. A. does with the old clothes and magazines which it gets each month by canvassing the dormitories and fraternity houses. Since the work started last fall there have been three barrels of old clothes and magazines shipped to the Grenfell Mission. Three barrels of magazines have been sent to the Seaman's Institute in Boston and there are now on hand some three barrels of magazines which will be shipped to the Seaman's Institute in New York as soon as the next canvas has been made. Besides this a box of old clothes has been sent to the Jerry McAuley Water Street Mission in New York.

Only those who have been north on the Labrador can realize how much magazines mean to the fishermen living on the coasts of Labrador and northern Newfoundland which are icebound seven months of the year, and where every bit of reading matter is welcomed as a means of passing the long, dark winter months.
The fishermen are generally very poor and the Mission is able to use all clothing sent to it in allaying the suffering caused by the cold winters. The Seaman's Institutes in Boston and New York put packets of magazines on all outgoing vessels and help greatly in relieving the monotony of the lives of the common sailors.

There is to be a canvass made of the dormitories on Tuesday evening and the Committee hopes that all who have old clothes and magazines which they do not want will have them ready, contributing thereby to a work which deserves the support of all Williams men.

Very truly yours,
J. K. H. Nightingale, Jr., for the Charities Committee

number of men signified their intention of going to the Wesleyan basketball game,

It is our hope that we may be favored game on February 18, the seven displayed the best form of the year and won a hard fought and exciting contest by the score of 4-3. From the outset the Purple exhibited a scientific knowledge of the game and showed an immense improvement over the previous work of the year. The season ended with a defeat at the hands of Syracuse by the score of 5-3. C. Cutler was the individual star of the contest tallying all three of the varsity's points.

Sophomores Nominate Monday

The sophomore class will meet Monday evening in Jesup Hall at 7.15 o'clock to nominate five men for the second assistant managerhip of football, and six men for the second assistant managerhips of hockey and swimming. In view of the W. C. A. election scheduled in the auditorium for 8 o'clock it is imperative that the 1915 meeting begin on time. The recommendations will be published in the Monday issue of the Record.

1916 Elects H. H. Cutler

At a meeting of the freshman class in the election Schanfler '13 spoke on the importance of making a careful selection of officers.

Potter '14 is ill at his home in Spuyten Duyvil, New York, with an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

The following men are in the infirmary: Adams and Jones '13, J. U. Anderson '14, and Hubbell '16. Campbell, Page '13, Pillsbury '14, Gildersleeve '15, Fox and Stebbins '16 have recently been discharged.

The playing off of the tie between 1913 and 1914 for third place in the interclass hockey series has been indefinitely postponed on account of lack of ice.

Any students desiring to aid in the support of Mr. Edward C. Mercer, who is doing missionary work among the colleges and Y. M. C. A's, will kindly hand in their contributions to Anderson '12. Mr. Mercer needs about five hundred dollars to complete this year's budget.

The "Gul" management is sending out circulars to the alumni for the purpose of securing subscriptions for the publication. Part of the proof for the issue has already been received and the bulk of the copy will be ready by March 10.

HARRIS IN RECITAL

Amherst Graduate to Render Musical Program Friday

George Harris, Jr., tenor soloist, will give the fourth entertainment of the Thompson Course in Grace Hall Friday evening at 8.15 o'clock. Although Mr. Harris studied originally for the opera in Paris under Jean de Reske, he is now devoting his whole time to recital work. After returning to America from his studies abroad he appeared with the Adamowski Trio and later with Mile. Lina Cavalieri, the Italian prima donna. Three years ago his recital in Williamstown in the Thompson Course was received with great appreciation. For some time he has occupied the position of tenor soloist at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City, and during the past few months he has been with the Damrosch orchestra. Press critics all over the country comment favorably on his singing and rank him among America's foremost soloists. He is a son of ex-President Harris of Amherst College, from which institution he was graduated in 1906.

Dr. Garfield Before Alumni

Friday evening the Connecticut Valley Alumni Association held its twelfth annual banquet at the Noyasset Club in Springfield. Over thirty men took part in the festivities which included an informal reception, business meeting, speeches, songs, and the dinner. Dr. J. Clarke Hubbard '87 of Holyoke, presided. President Garfield delivered the principal address, and again asserted that Williams is not a "rich man's college". He showed the college's need of an endowment fund of $2,000,000 to cover current expenses and to provide for an increase in professors' salaries, and further spoke of the aims and high standard of scholarship at Williams. Dr. George A. Wilder '77, told of his missionary experience in South Africa. After an open discussion on the policies of the college, the gathering broke up with the singing of "The Mountains."

Interesting Talk by Mr. Bates

Rev. H. Roswell Bates addressed the regular meeting of the W. C. A. last evening in Jesup Hall, taking as his subject "Travels in India". Narrating incidents from his own experiences in that land and describing the lives of the missionaries there, especially that of the former Cornell student, Harold Stokes, Dr. Bates drew a striking picture of the life of true happiness possible to those who possess the three essentials of self-forgetfulness, service, and faith. After the meeting, Dr. Bates discussed informally the life of a missionary and the extensive work being accomplished in foreign fields.

Outside Talent for Recital

Herman L. West, the organist of the First Congregational Church of Great Barrington, will give the regular weekly organ recital Wednesday afternoon in Grace Hall at 4.35 o'clock. Mr. Anthony Reese, baritone soloist, also of Great Barrington will assist in the program.

Wrapped in Red Tape

A meeting of the Logian-Technian Congress will be held this evening in 17 Jesup Hall at 7.20 p. m. Hinkle '14 will present a bill requiring three readings for all bills put before the Congress.

Litterateurs Postpone Meeting

Members of the English Club will not convene tomorrow evening owing to the illness of Prof. Maxey, who was scheduled as one of the speakers. As yet, no definite date has been selected for the meeting.

1915 Gul. Managers Chosen

Robert N. T. Golding, 1915, of New York City and Joseph H. Titus, 1915, of Pittsfield have been chosen to manage the 1915 *Gul*mensian.

FAST WESLEYAN FIVE OVERCOMES WILLIAMS

1912 CHAMPIONS INVINCIBLE

Varsity Team Puts Up Hard Fight Against Opponents but Loses, 21 to 7

In a game in which the pace never slackened until the final whistle, the Williams basketball team received its second defeat of the year at the hands of Wesleyan, last Saturday evening in the Fayerweather Gymnasium, Middletown, Conn. Although at the close of the contest Wesleyan was ahead by a comfortable lead of 14 points, the Purple team pushed their opponents to the limit at all times and forced them to resort to many long shots from the middle of the court. Both fives played hard from the start and many fouls resulted from the consequent roughness. The passing of the Williams men was good, and their teamwork was perhaps slightly superior to that of the Wesleyan quintet. Unfamiliarity with the floor, however, proved a great disadvantage and spoiled to a great extent the accuracy of the team's shots. High individual scores were prevented by close guarding on both sides, and most of the baskets were caged on long throws. Williams started the second period with several attempts which barely missed the basket and during the first part of the half kept the Red and Black five from all open tries.

The Purple team scored but three goals from the floor, one by Hay in the first half, and one each by Victor and Page in the second. Victor was able to get the tip-off over his heavier opponent and played a steady game. Page, who also played well for Williams, held Eaton, Wesleyan's star forward, scoreless, and made one basket for the varsity. Hayward of Wesleyan made the highest individual score of the game, caging two baskets and five out of eight free tries from fouls. Petigrie with three baskets to his credit held the highest score from the floor.

After several minutes of indecisive playing, Hayward opened the game by a shot from the foul line. Although Victor soon evened the score, by throwing the only successful free trial of the game for the Purple, Hayward put the Red and Black again in the lead after a foul by Hay. Petigrie added two points from an unguarded position under the basket. Hayward followed with two from the foul line and one from the middle of the floor, and Craue tallied a clean basket on another long shot. Hay then scored the only floor shot of the period for the Purple on a pretty try from the side and Petigrie caged his second goal from under the basket. After Hayward had again helped increase his team's lead by a remarkable overhand shot from scrimmage, the half closed with the score standing Wesleyan 14, Williams 3.

For the first five minutes of the second half the scoring was light owing to the close playing of both teams. A tally by Victor from under the basket emphasized the temporary advantage of the Williams five and the visitors missed several shots by close margins. Hayward, for the fifth time, caged the ball from the foul line, and Parkinson tallied on a running shot close to the basket. The Wesleyan center again scored on a similar play following Deely's substitution for Hay. Page added the last two points of the Purple's count, shooting overhand from in front of the goal and Petigrie scored his third basket from the floor on a toss from the side. A few minutes before the game closed Winchester replaced Craue and Dempsey went in for Hodge.

Financial Efficiency

To put the administration of class and college finances upon a business-like basis and to prevent the existence of "graft" in undergraduate public life,—this, in short, is the purpose of the proposed "Rules Governing Class and College Finances" which are printed in another column. These rules, of course, do not apply to athletic or other private organizations such as Cap and Bells and most of the publications.

Both these objects are desirable but because an adequate system is lacking at the present time, neither are insured. The absence of a provision for auditing the accounts of government officials would be considered very unbusinesslike in the outside world and a college is in many respects only a nation in miniature. It is almost superfluous to say that personal profit should not be gained through an office of public trust by corrupt methods, but—unfortunately this ideal situation does not exist in undergraduate life today. It is also true that certain positions require pecuniary recompense but this must be a matter of public knowledge.

In evolving the proposed system, primary consideration has been given to simplicity of construction and efficiency of machinery. Much time and labor has been spent in the preparation of the plan and it is the result of detailed consideration. Discussion of the various specific provisions may be of value.

In the first article, provision is made for the concentration of responsibility for class and college funds. This requires more of the treasurers than has been expected of them in the past but it puts the responsibility in its logical place. Sec. 3 provides for the pooling of all committee funds in case the present system of separate tax for each class affair is employed. It also permits the use of an annual budget system for all class expenditures.

An auditing committee is constituted in the second article. For the sake of efficiency it is small, and for the sake of continuity of policy and for the preservation of necessary records, it includes an alumnus in residence.

The duties of this committee are specified in detail in the third article. Appropriate dates have been selected for the auditing of college and class accounts. The senior treasurer will be a member of the freshman parade committee but as in the special cases following, he shall not be allowed to draw upon the freshman treasurer in case of a deficit, without the approval of the auditing committee. Although the receipts for the Sophomore Prom. do not come entirely from the sophomore class, this class is responsible for the management of the affair and should therefore stand by it financially. The Gul. is a class publication and is not published by a private organization,—therefore precedent has decreed it as a subject for public legislation in contradistinction with the other college publications. Its managers are entitled to some profit for their labor, if receipts can be made to exceed expenditures, but inasmuch as it is a public affair, the class should be made partially responsible. It is difficult to provide satisfactorily for the Class Day committee, as its financial duties do not end until after the class has graduated, but the dictates of custom have been followed in regard to the Senior Banquet report and it is merely to be hoped that the committee will consider it a duty to turn in their final accounts for auditing, although no compulsion is possible.

No power of enforcing the provisions of these rules is given to the auditing committee except the requirement that all illegals be published, as provided in article four. No greater power is necessary, for if public opinion will permit irregularities, it would be difficult to eradicate them.

Freshman caps have been considered separately, for this agency has been regarded in the past as a quasi-undergraduate scholarship. Profit in this case has formerly been great and it is the purpose of article five to make the profit a just compensation for the work required.

It is to be hoped that this movement for financial reform in undergraduate circles will be taken up by the various private organizations wherever reform is necessary or desirable and that the principle of just compensation for honest labor will be the ruling factor in dictating such reforms. Excessive returns in any managership post should not be tolerated and as a general rule the greater the honor which a position offers the less should be the accompanying stipend.

But all this is a matter of undergraduate concern and any attempt on the part of the college administration or Faculty to control these matters without just cause should be viewed as a usurpation of undergraduate freedom. A large part of the value of student activities lies in their independence. Power over the purse, it has been said, is power over the will. Unless an efficient system like the one proposed be adopted, this control is none too remote a possibility. Not only should the college guard its finances from control,—every undergraduate organization should render its finances so efficiently managed as to remove all ground for outside supervision and to answer definitely the question of Faculty paternalism.

DEBATE TONIGHT ON IMPORTANT QUESTION CONSTITUTION INVOLVED

Williams Teams Meet Brown in Grace Hall at 8.00 and Dartmouth at Hanover

Members of the Brown, Dartmouth, and Williams debating teams will meet tonight in the eighth annual debate of the triangular league series. Each home team will uphold the negative side of the following question: Resolved; that state constitutions should be so amended as to provide that, when an act passed under police power of the state shall have been declared unconstitutional by the courts, (a) the legislature shall after six months and within two years, submit to the people a question whether they wish the act to become law, and (b) a majority vote in the affirmative shall have the effect of establishing as law the act in question. Williams will meet Brown in Grace Hall, Dartmouth at Hanover and Dartmouth will debate Brown at Providence.

The men who will uphold the negative for Williams against Dartmouth tonight at 8 o'clock in Grace Hall are named, following in the order in which they will speak: Walter Mills Hinkle, 1914, of New York City, Charles David Kepner, 1916, of Newtonville, Mass., Daniel Schneek Keller, 1915, of Lancaster, Pa., with George Emerson Haynes, 1914, of Adams, Mass. as alternate. Keller took part last year in the debates against Dartmouth and Wesleyan. The following men will compose the Brown team which debates at Williamstown: Edward Andrew Cushman Murphy, 1913, of Mt. The outer cane limits are identical with the fire limits of Williamstown, and are shown on the accompanying map in dot-and-dash outline.

The inner cane limits, shown in heavy outline, are determined as follows: Starting from the corner of Main street and Southworth avenue the limits run north on Southworth avenue, to a point just below the High School; thence west on a road running back of the college cemetery and between the Infirmary and the college farm, to Park street; up Park street to Whitman street; northwest along Whitman street to North street; south on North street to the Greylock and thence along South street to the boundary between the Doughty estate and the Golf club property, a point about 50 yards north of the club house; then east along the hedge-fence, between the estates, back of Weston Field to Water street; north on Water street to Main street; thence west on Main street to the corner of Southworth avenue. The outside of the streets along which the limits pass will determine the actual boundaries. Thus, the line will extend along the north side of Main street, the east side of Southworth avenue, etc.

The complete rules governing the cane contest are printed in another column.

STRUGGLE FOR FLOOR

Student Body Adopts New Finance Plan—Other Rules

A worthy discussion arose in the college meeting in Jesup Hall last evening over a motion by Gilchrist '13 concerning announcement of subjects to be brought up at college meetings. After amendment by Nightingale '13, the motion was finally passed as follows:

"Any matter which is to be voted upon at a college meeting by the undergraduate body must be referred to the president of the undergraduate body at least one week previous to the college meeting at which such vote is to be taken, and if considered by him to be of sufficient importance must be given in the form of a motion to the editor-in-chief of the Record in time for its publication at least three days before the meeting.

Any matter which because of its nature cannot thus be referred to the president of the undergraduate body shall require for its consideration a two-thirds vote of the college meeting at which it is presented.

(Amendment) Upon the petition of twenty-five members of the undergraduate body, the president of the undergraduate body shall call a college meeting to consider such business as shall be brought before it."

Toll '13 read the plan for governing college and class finances, which was passed in toto after discussion of several articles. Gilchrist '13 read the revised section of Article III, Section 5 in the Rules Governing College and Class Elections, which was passed after question by F. P. Abbott '14.

Three years ago his recital in Williamstown in the Thompson Course pleased a large and appreciative audience. The Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City secured his services as tenor soloist a year ago, and during the past few months he has been connected with the Danvers orchestra.

It is imperative that serious consideration be given to all the choices which are marked on the ballots at the managership elections. Each mark not only counts in the original election, but as was decided last fall, it will also count in case of a vacancy.

Inspiration Needed

Two interesting interpretations of the purpose of the college have come to our attention and demand reiteration. The theories are old, but they are not applied by all educators, and their frequent recapitulation is highly desirable.

Prof. Henri Bergson recently expressed his views on education at the College of the City of New York, asserting as stated in the current number of the Outlook, that the most important work of the college was to train the intelligence and that perhaps the greatest products of intelligence were judgment and good sense. Prof. Bergson accompanied these remarks with a summary of his philosophy which applies with particular appropriateness in this connection. His doctrine maintains that life is and must be constant progress, and that progress in the individual is attained only by conscious and definite acts of the will.

In a recent address at Denver President Nichols of Dartmouth emphasized the idea that the purpose of the college is to teach men how to live rather than how to make a living. In analyzing this proposition he finds it to have a threefold application, according to the Dartmouth: first, to teach how to think, by the cultural studies of the curriculum;
second, to teach how to live with others,
by the social fabric of the institution;
and lastly, how to serve, by means of the vocational and technical subjects of the curriculum.

Both interpretations bring out the same point, that education is a free-will process and that it cannot be forced upon anyone. Unlimited opportunities can be offered at an educational institution, innumerable regulations of a military character may be enacted to enforce their seizure, but unless inspiration pervades the situation, no attempt to acquire the treasures will succeed.

Time Limit Extended

The time for the payment of term bills is extended until noon of Monday, March 17, on or before which date the accounts must be satisfactorily adjusted. Students who fail to make the necessary adjustment will be reported to the dean for suspension.

committees.

Following the election of president, the remaining officers were chosen as follows:
vice-president, Joseph Plumb Cochran

N. Y. U. in Final Game Saturday

In the final basketball game of the season, the varsity will line-up against the New York University five at 8.00 o'clock
Saturday evening in the Lasell Gymnasium. Following are the scores of the visitors' early season games: N. Y. U. 8, Pratt Institute 21; N. Y. U. 25, Toronto
38; N. Y. U. 18, Navy 74; N. Y. U. 4, Georgetown 23. A few days after the Georgetown defeat N. Y. U. was easily overcome by the fast Wesleyan team.
Of the squad of eight men, who have been reporting to Coach Dave, Captain
C. McLaughlin, Desimone, Dutcher, Mc-Donald and D. McLaughlin have participated in most of the contests.

The varsity held no practice on Monday, but on Tuesday defeated the scrubs in a hard 15 minute game by the score of 10-3. Hodge and Page starred for the first team, the former with three and the latter with two baskets to his credit.

Clubs at Bennington

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the Combined Musical Clubs will give a concert in the Baptist Church, Bennington. The men will leave Williamstown on a special car at 7.00 o'clock sharp and will return from Bennington after the concert, leaving there at 10.15 o'clock.

COLLEGE NOTES

In a six days' trip to New York, Flushing, Poughkeepsie, and Montclair, Manager Swift of the musical clubs recently made the final arrangements for the spring trip.

Thompson '13 has resigned from college, having completed his graduation requirements, and is now planning to travel in the south during the rest of the winter.

Because of the illness of Prof. Maxey, Mr. Hart gave the third of the series of readings on Church history at the parish house of St. John's Episcopal Church, last Monday evening.

All those willing to serve as ushers and explainers at the Child Welfare exhibit of the G. G. C. at Odd Fellows Hall, North Adams, March 13 to 16, are requested to sign their names to the lists posted on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall. Girls from the Normal School will also assist.

FIRST MEET OF SEASON

Swimming Team Meets Brown at Providence Saturday

Brown will be the opponent of the varsity swimming team in its first meet of the season Saturday evening in the Colgate-Hoyt pool, Providence. In a dual contest between Amherst and Brown last Saturday, the latter team was victorious by the score of 41 to 21. Captain Smith of Brown, who holds the record of the triangular league in the 50-yard swim, won two first places, tied for another, and scored one second. In the Amherst-Brown-Williams triangular meet last year, Brown finished first with 40 1-2 points, of which Smith tallied 11, while Amherst's score of 23 points was double that of the Purple's team. The Williams squad will leave for Providence Saturday morning, and return sometime Sunday.

Juniors Elect Tonight

A meeting of the junior class has been called for 7.15 o'clock this evening in the auditorium of Jesup Hall. The business at hand is to elect a smoker committee.

N. Y. U. GAME TONIGHT FINISHES SCHEDULE

POOR RECORD FOR VISITORS

New York Team Defeated In Many Contests—Lost to Wesleyan by 9 Points

Williams will meet the New York University basketball five tonight at 8 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium in the final game of the 1912-1913 season.

With Dutcher and C. McLaughlin, as veterans the N. Y. U. squad has been practicing steadily three times a week since the middle of November under the direction of Coach Dale. The first game of the season with the Pratt Institute resulted in a victory for the Violet by the score of 28-21. In the remaining games with Princeton, Toronto, Wesleyan, Rochester, Navy, Army, Georgetown, and Columbia, the N. Y. U. team has been successively defeated. Last night the visitors were scheduled to play Union at Schenectady. On February 3, Wesleyan outclassed the Violet 28-19. Although outplayed the N. Y. U. men took advantage of every opportunity to shoot from the floor. Wesleyan gained a lead in the beginning of the contest and maintained it throughout. In the second half Dutcher reduced this lead several points by a number of excellent shots. Inasmuch as Wesleyan is the only college which has been played by both Williams and N. Y. U., it is impossible to obtain a satisfactory estimate of the work of the two teams. The lineups of both teams are uncertain but will probably be as follows:

WILLIAMS	N. Y. U.
Lefferts rf	lg McLaughlin
Hodge lf	rg Helfont
Victor c	c Dutcher
Hay rg	lf Stewart
Page lg	rf MacDonald

In the last scrimmage of the season Thursday afternoon the varsity defeated the scrubs by the score of 6-0. Two short halves were played in which the team work of the varsity was good, but in which the passing and shooting were below the average. Besides the short scrimmage the work consisted of shooting and passing.

Dean's Notices

In accordance with the regulations attending the cane celebration, notice is hereby given that members of the two lower classes, as rated at this office, are forbidden to be absent from any required exercise from Tuesday, March 11, to Tuesday, March 18, inclusive, without permission from the Dean in advance.

Individual notices of the schedule of condition examinations to be held on the last day of the Easter recess, together with indication of the particular examination to be taken in each instance, have been sent from the Dean's Office. If any student to whom such a notice should be sent fails to receive it, he should notify the Dean at once.

Track Men Practice Monday

About two dozen men attended the meeting of track candidates in Jesup Hall last evening. Captain Dewey warned the men against ineligibility, and stated that the first practice would be held in the gymnasium at 4.30 on Monday afternoon. Attention will be given chiefly to sprinting, hurdling and jumping.

Another Competition Opens

Candidates for the position of assistant track manager are requested to notify Manager Mygatt or Assistant Manager McCook before Monday evening, March 10, at 7.30 o'clock. All men who are at present in the basketball competition will be allowed to enter the track competition after the basketball election.

CONVENTIONAL RECITAL

Mr. Harris Gives Cultured Rendition of Varied Program

As on his previous appearance in Williamstown, Mr. Harris, in his recital last evening in Grace Hall, presented a well selected program in a manner which showed careful training. His rendition improved steadily throughout the program and in the group of English songs his excellent pianissimo showed to the best advantage, particularly in the higher notes of his register. Perhaps the most artistic number was the "Narrative and Farewell from Lohengrin", for both in the recitative and dramatic "farewell" the teaching of Jean de Reske was plainly evident. Though that lack of sympathy which is often remarked in the work of those who study for the operatic stage and later desert it for the concert platform, is at times manifest in Mr. Harris's singing, the conventionality of his rendition was offset by the well sustained resonance of his tone and excellent timbre of his voice. Though his best tones were heard in the French pieces, probably the most delicate of his songs were "The Plague of Love" and "Song of the Nile," in which he executed the difficult runs with marked grace and precision. To the trained student of the intricacies of vocalization, a slight tendency to wander from the pitch might have marred some of the numbers, but to the audience as a whole the opportunity to hear Mr. Harris again was one which was greatly appreciated.

NO FOOTBALL GAME WITH CORNELL TEAM

1913 SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Vermont to Be Played for First Time in Five Years—S. T. S. at Springfield

Most noticeable among the changes in the 1913 football schedule is the absence of Cornell from the official list of games as announced below. Because of conflicting dates and a game arranged between Harvard and Cornell for November 1, the Red and White were necessarily dropped from the list of Williams opponents next fall. For the old Cornell date, a game with the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College has been arranged, which will be played in Springfield.

Another important change resulting from the abandonment of the Cornell game is the resumption of football relations with the University of Vermont. The last game with Vermont, in 1908, resulted in a no-score tie and was the sixth between the two colleges. As usual only eight games in all are to be played and the custom of alternating the home and out-of-town contests with Dartmouth, N. Y. U., Wesleyan, and Amherst is retained.

The complete schedule, as ratified by the Athletic Council and Faculty, follows: September 27—R. P. I. at Williamstown October 4—University of Vermont at Williamstown

October 11—Harvard at Cambridge
October 18—Dartmouth at Hanover
October 25—N. Y. U. at Williamstown
November 1—Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield
November 8—Wesleyan at Middletown
November 15—Amherst at Williamstown

HUGH BLACK TO PREACH

Noted Scotch Theologian Also to Address W. C. A.

Rev. Hugh Black D.D. of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will occupy the chapel pulpit tomorrow morning and will address the W. C. A. meeting in the evening. Dr. Black has preached several times in Williamstown. Although he holds a responsible position as a seminary professor he makes it a rule to devote half of his time in preaching to college students. On account of his wide experience in visiting colleges and universities throughout the country he is alive to the needs of college men. The eloquence and power of his addresses attract great crowds of listeners wherever he speaks.

Prof. Black is a native of Scotland and has only been in America seven years. He attended Glasgow University, obtaining his Bachelor's degree in 1887. At the same time he received the degree of Master of Arts. For four years he prepared for the ministry at the Free Church College in Glasgow and was ordained in 1891. He was first pastor of the Sherwood Church Paisley, Scotland and later of St. George's United Free Church. In 1906 he came to America and has since then held the chair of Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary. He was granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Yale University in 1908 and later from Princeton and Glasgow.

Dr. Black is well known as an author, his works on friendship being especially popular. Among the best known of his writings are the following: The Dream of Youth, Friendship, Culture and Restraint, Work, The Practice of Self Culture, Listening to God, Christ's Service of Love, Comfort, Happiness.

COLLEGE ELECTS C. B. HALL 1915 FOOTBALL MANAGER

E. M. Hedden and T. S. Squire Chosen to Manage Hockey and Swimming Teams

Undergraduate balloting for the second assistant managership of football gave the election to Charles Blake Hall, of Orange, N. J. on the fourth ballot. Out of the 361 votes cast, of which 181 were necessary to elect, Hall received 156 in the final count. He entered college from Andover, where he was a member of the musical club for two years and of the student council during his junior year.

CHARLES BLAKE HALL, 1915

Hall managed his class basketball team, freshman year, and has played on the mandolin club since entering college. He is a member of the sophomore auxiliary prom. committee.

As a result of the balloting for the two minor managerships, Ernest Myers Hedden, of Newark, N. J. and Thomas Stuart Squire, of Buffalo, N. Y. were chosen to (Continued on page 2, col. 2.)

WILLIAMS DEBATERS LOSE BOTH CONTESTS

BROWN LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Home Team Excels in Rebuttal in Grace Hall but Wins Only One Judge

Brown, for the second year in succession, won the championship of the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams triangular debating league. Victories over Williams in Grace Hall by the judges' vote of two to one and over Dartmouth at Providence without a dissenting vote, rewarded the Brown debaters on Thursday evening. Dartmouth won a unanimous decision over Williams at Hanover. Brown secured five of the judges' votes, Dartmouth three, and Williams one.

Each home team upheld the affirmative of the question: "Resolved: That state constitutions should be so amended as to provide that, when an act passed under police power of the state shall have been declared unconstitutional by the courts, (a) the legislature shall, after six months and within two years, submit to the people the question whether they wish the act to become law, and (b) a majority vote in the affirmative shall have the effect of establishing as law the act in question."

Emeritus Professor Hewitt, the presiding officer, introduced the following speakers to a small audience in Grace Hall: Brown—Edward Andrew Cushman Murphy, 1913, of Mt. Sinai, N. Y.; William M. Sullivan, 1913, of Fall River, John Kent Starkweather, 1913, of Denver, Col., with Rowland Hazard McLaughlin, 1915, of Chicago, Ill., as alternate; Williams—Walter Mills Hinkle, 1914, of New York City, Charles David Kepner, 1916, of Newtonville, Daniel Schmeck Keller, 1915, of Lancaster, Pa., with George Emerson Haynes, 1914, of Adams, as alternate.

Why Williams Lost Here

"Both sides had excellent form and a well-presented case. The affirmative seemed to me superior in mastery of material, in effective use of evidence and opinions, in cogency and concreteness of statement, in ready adaptation to the progress of the discussion, and in general debating spirit. I therefore decide in favor of the affirmative." (Rev. J. H. Holmes, Brooklyn, N. Y.)

"Brown was decidedly superior in form. Both sides seemed about equal in planning their argument. Both omitted to emphasize arguments that occurred to me as of prime importance to their respective sides of the case. Williams seemed to be more convincing in rebuttal and more successful in attacking the arguments of their opponents. In view of the instructions to give greater weight these considerations I vote to award the debate to Williams." (S. R. Wrightington, Esq., Lexington.)

"The debate is very close but in my judgment the affirmative has a broader control of the essential data and equal skill and cogency of argument. I vote for the affirmative." (Prof. A. B. Hart, Harvard.)

Recall vs. Amendment

Brown contended, in brief, that the courts blocked progressive action; that constitutional amendments prove too difficult of attainment, apply not to specific laws but to general legislation, and remove restrictions on the legislature; and that in theory as well as in practice the plan proposed by the affirmative was superior to the system of amendment, since the fabric of our government rests on the ability of the people to govern themselves. In form the Brown speakers were markedly superior. Their presence was good, and their delivery finished and forceful. They kept steadily to their main point: the necessity of reform legislation. Only seven men were dropped after the mid-year examinations this year. In 1910 the number was 12; in 1911, 11; and last year, 15,—yet practically the same standard has been required for continuance in college. May the class of 1916 long maintain the creditable record which it has thus initiated.

Of Necessity

Three changes in the schedule for the 1913 eleven as announced in another column, resulted from a general upheaval of football arrangements in the East. Circumstances did not favor Williams in the reorganization and the new list is therefore less attractive from the popular and financial viewpoint. The management has, however, made the best of an eleventh hour difficulty and the schedule should prove more acceptable in practice than in print.

Cornell, to secure Harvard, was forced to give up the customary date with Williams and all attempts to arrange another time for the contest in Ithaca failed. At a late hour the management was thus left with an open date in mid-season. Fortunately the Y. M. C. A. college was able to fill in this November 1 vacancy and the scene of the annual contest was shifted to Springfield for the benefit of the manager's bank account. Vermont, which held Brown last year to a 12-7 score, was then secured to play the second early-season game in Williamstown.

Since football relations were resumed with Cornell in 1909 after a lapse of seven years, the contests, three in number, have been particularly spectacular. Aside from this fact, they have been the only Williams contests played in western New York and have added something to Williams prestige in the sporting columns of the New York dailies. In spite of the fact that certain Faculty members may favor a downward revision of the 200-mile rule, we prefer to second the sentiment of the Cornell Daily Sun:

"It is to be regretted that Dartmouth and Williams do not come to Ithaca this year. Relations with these two colleges have always been cordial and Cornell men will note with real regret their enforced absence from the schedule. A resumption of those relations at the earliest opportunity is to be hoped for."

The mid-season contest at Springfield should be well-supported and add considerably to the size of the manager's exchequer, if that city continues to show the enthusiasm for college athletics which has been its wont. The Y. M. C. A. College eleven should prove a worthy opponent to judge by its exhibition against the Indians last season.

Yale, Princeton, West Point, Brown, and many other colleges desired games but more difficult contests were not advisable and other substitutions did not seem wise.

SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

Team Opposes Brown Swimmers in Pool at Providence

Williams will encounter Brown in the first swimming meet of the season this evening at 8.00 in the Colgate-Hoyt pool, Providence, R. I. At Brown a strong squad has been practicing regularly under the direction of Coach Huggins since early in the winter and as a result several crack swimmers will enter the Williams meet in first class condition. Captain Ray Smith, who is probably as clever a man as Brown has ever produced in the fancy diving events, holds Brown records for the 25 and 50-yard dashes, and his time for the 50-yard dash has yet to be surpassed by any swimmer of the triangular league. McLaughlin, a strong distance man, lowered the Triangular League record for the 220 yard swim last Saturday when he clipped off 1-5 second from his previous record of 2 min. 56 sec. Other heavy point winners for Brown are Harris and Hull, the former swimming in the relay and 25 yard dash, and the latter in the relay and the 50 yard dash. In the dual meet with Amherst at Providence last Saturday, the Brunonians secured five firsts and four seconds out of the seven events run off.

Swimming practice has been held daily in the home tank since the Christmas recess. Out of the large squad that has reported Captain Eyre has picked the following team to represent Williams at Providence: relay—Tomkins '16, Hubbell '13, Hubbell '15, and Dana '13; 25-yard dash—Dana '13, Hubbell '13, Tomkins '16; 50-yard dash—Dana '13, Tomkins '16; 100-yard swim—Eyre '13, Hubbell '15; 220-yard swim—Eyre '13, Hubbell '15; Diving—Duke '13; Plunge—Prince '14. The team left for Providence on the 11-14 train this morning and will return sometime tomorrow.

manage the hockey and swimming teams. In this election 351 votes were cast, a majority, or 176 votes, being necessary to elect. Hedden, who received 181 votes on the fifth ballot, won the election and chose the assistant managership of hockey. He entered Williams from the Barringer High School, of Newark, N. J., with the class of 1915. During his freshman year he was elected treasurer of the W. C. A. and member of the Honor System Committee, and last week was chosen to the position of Corresponding secretary of the Christian Association. On recounting the ballots, Squire, with 197 votes on the fourth ballot, won the election and will manage the swimming team. He prepared for college at the Nichols School, of Buffalo, N. Y., where he managed the school basketball team during his senior year. He is a member of the Record board.

Anderson '12 at Cambridge

Anderson '12 will represent Williams at a Conference of eastern college men on the Christian Ministry which will be held today and tomorrow at Cambridge under the auspices of the Andover, Hartford, and Union Theological Seminaries. The purpose of the conference is to present to college students definite and reliable information concerning the opportunities of the Christian ministry.

WILLIAMS REPRESENTED IN TRIANGULAR MEET

Fencing Team to Oppose Yale and S. T. S. Tonight in Springfield Gym

In the second match of the year, the Williams fencing team will participate in a triangular meet this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Springfield Training School gymnasium at Springfield. Yale, S. T. S., Williams, and Columbia were entered in the meet but the latter team was forced to withdraw on account of the intercollegiate preliminaries scheduled for today in New York City.

A large squad, including six veterans, started practice at Yale last fall under the tutelage of Coach Bittner who was for 10 years a fencing instructor in the French army. The team that will represent the Blue at Springfield, however, is composed of two freshmen and one second team man because of the varsity's engagement in the New York preliminary meet.

Practice at S. T. S. began the early part of January under the direction of Captain Brinkman who is the only veteran of the squad of seven. To date the team has taken part in three matches, only one of which resulted in a victory. The scores follow: S. T. S. 4, New Rochelle Y. M. C. A. 5; S. T. S. 0, West Side Y. M. C. A. 5; S. T. S. 5, Springfield Turnverein 4. The team to fence tonight will be composed of Captain Brinkman, Eadie, and Stokes.

The varsity has been holding daily practice in the fencing room of Williams Hall, the work consisting mainly of bouts between the various members of the squad. The composition of tonight's team will be Switt '13, Reed '16, and either Field '13 or Mackay '14.

Revised Intramural Schedule

Inasmuch as the intramural basketball game scheduled to be played between McCoy's and Prindle's last Saturday was omitted, a slight change in the order of the series has been made. The game between Delta Kappa Epsilon and Zeta Psi, previously arranged for Monday will be played on Tuesday instead, and the Prindle's-McCoy's contest has been substituted for it.

This afternoon the following teams will meet:

2 p. m. League C, Cosmo vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; League A, Commons vs. Zeta Psi; 3 p. m. League B, Kappa Alpha vs. Chi Psi; League C, Delta Delta vs. Theta Delta Chi; 4 p. m. League A, Delta Upsilon vs. Delta Psi; League B, McCoy's vs. Phi Delta Theta.

In order to finish the entire series by Easter the remaining games must be played off as follows:

Mar. 10: 4.30 p. m. League C, Cosmo vs. Psi Omega; League B, McCoy's vs. Prindle's.

Mar. 11: 4.30 p. m. League A, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Zeta Psi; League B, McCoy's vs. Chi Psi.

Mar. 12: 4.30 p. m. League A, Delta Psi vs. Zeta Psi; League C, Delta Delta vs. Psi Omega.

Mar. 17: 4.30 p. m. League B, Prindle's vs. Phi Delta Theta; winner of League A vs. winner of League C.

Mar. 18: 4.30 p. m. Winner of League B vs. winner of Leagues A and C.

"Old Heidelberg" Next Play

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon, Cap and Bells elected the following men to membership: Ames, Dauchy, Jewett, Turner '14, Dennison, and Powers '15. Parsons '13 was chosen secretary of the society to succeed Howard '14 who left college at mid-years. It was also decided to present "Old Heidelberg" for the regular play at the spring productions. Trials for the cast will be held about the middle of April.

Williams Debaters

Lose Both Contests (Continued from page 1, col. 5.)

Williams rested its case on the following points: that the police power was too vague and indefinite to be left uncontrolled, that all necessary reforms can be obtained by changing the statute law or by amending the fundamental law, that the people would be influenced by class or race prejudice and would take expediency rather than constitutionality as a test, and that the plan proposed by the affirmative would destroy all constitutional guarantees.

In rebuttal, the Williams speakers skillfully picked flaws in their opponents' presentation of legal cases under discussion, pointing out that the affirmative had disregarded the courts' reasons for declaring statutes unconstitutional. They reiterated forcefully the point that constitutional government enforced by the courts would cease to exist if the people of the state could interpret the police power and override the constitution.

Brown was the weaker in rebuttal. They maintained that the amendment system blocked necessary reforms and that the people would not be rash in their use of the power to interpret the police power.

Clean Sweep for Dartmouth

Dartmouth received the unanimous decision of the judges in the debate with Williams at Hanover. The main points set forth by the Williams team are given below.

Glock, in opening the debate, argued for the adoption of the affirmative's plan under three heads. "(a) that present social and industrial evils are left unremedied indefinitely when welfare acts are declared unconstitutional, (b) that amendments and other methods proposed do not accomplish desired reform, (c) that the affirmative plan provides an effective, practical and conservative remedy." The speaker then cited several cases showing that reform of social and industrial evils stopped with the court annulment of police-power acts, and declared that the affirmative proposal allowed the people to make necessary welfare reform laws part of the legal code.

Pratt explained that both sides agreed that the judge's decisions are final as to unconstitutionality, and offer methods of gaining the desired laws in spite of this. The present methods of changing the laws or amending the constitution are unsatisfactory. The system of specific referendum to the people makes possible the easy adoption of the desired statute laws and leaves the judges their original freedom.

After a brief summary of the arguments of the previous affirmative speakers, Daly declared that the affirmative proposal would not alter the state constitution in any way.

"We maintain," he said in closing, "the independence of the judges. Our method will prevent the adoption of the recall of judges. Our plan affords a standard sufficiently elastic to meet changing conditions and needs, and it is practical."

The teams follow:

Williams—Carl Edward Glock 1914, of Johnstown, Pa., Schuyler Pratt 1913, of Tacoma, Wash., Arthur James Daly 1913, of New York City, with Durand Halsey Van Doren 1914, of East Orange, N. J., as alternate; Dartmouth—C. B. Jordan, Jr. 1915, of Lancaster, Pa., F. P. Cranston 1914, of Denver, Col., E. C. Mabie 1915, of La Crosse, Wis., with C. E. Whitney 1915, of Port Huron, Mich., as alternate. The judges were Prof. P. B. Kennedy of New York City, Prof. John Corsa of Amherst, and J. C. Brodsky of New York City. President Ernest E. Nichols presided.

Classical Society Meets

A meeting of the Classical Society will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Common Room. Hart, Whittlesley '13 and Greene '14 will give a short Latin comedy and Mackay '14 will read several selections from Martial. Light refreshments will be served.

PURPLE OVERWHELMS N. Y. U. IN FINAL GAME

HODGE CAGES EIGHT SHOTS

Basketball Season Ends with 39-16 Victory—Varsity Exhibits Good Team-Play

A one sided, 39-16 victory over N. Y. U. in the Lasell Gymnasium closed the varsity basketball season last Saturday. The visitors were never in the lead nor was the outcome ever in doubt. Despite the early advantage secured by the Purple, the game did not slacken for New York put up a hard fight until the final whistle. The play of the Williams five was good, as the men followed up their shots better than in previous contests. The visitors' poor floor work and rugged passing, on the other hand, kept the ball almost continually in their territory and forced them to play a defensive game. At times, too, the varsity players became careless both in their passing and in their shots from under the basket, and long throws proved often unsuccessful.

Hodge, at left forward, displayed fine form, and with 16 points to his credit made the highest individual score of the game. His four baskets in succession at the opening of the second half and a beautiful one-handed shot by Victor were in a large measure responsible for the Purple's clever teamwork. At center, Victor outjumped his man, thus making possible several scores from formation, and tallied three spectacular baskets. The guards covered their men closely, but proved somewhat ragged in shooting. For N. Y. U., McDonald excelled. He showed speed and infused life into his team. C. McLaughlin also put up a good game.

Hodge started the scoring for the varsity with a shot from under the basket, which was the result of a clever formation by the Williams five. After McDonald had caged a goal from foul, Hodge repeated with a shot from an angle, and Freeman added two points to the varsity's score by following up an unsuccessful attempt from the middle of the floor. Good team work enabled Page to count on the next play. N. Y. U. braced and tallied five points on two goals from the floor by C. McLaughlin and a basket from the foul line by McDonald, before Page secured his second basket and Hodge made a startling score from the side line. Victor caged a difficult goal on a one-handed shot under close guard and McDonald gained a point on a free throw. After Freeman had made a goal from scrimmage and one from the foul line, Victor added two points to the Purple's score on a spectacular shot from the middle of the floor. Kearny's goal, following a basket by Page and a foul by McDonald, concluded the half with the score standing 21 to 10 in the Williams' favor.

After tallies by Victor and McDonald in quick succession, the former secured his third sensational basket of the game on a shot from beyond the middle of the floor. Freeman added two points before J. McLaughlin gained a goal from an unguarded position at the side. At this point, Stewart was substituted for J. McLaughlin, Dutcher for C. McLaughlin, C. McLaughlin for Helfont, and Dempsey for Freeman. Hodge secured four successive goals on clever team work and fast individual play, and Dempsey scored from a scrimmage under the basket. Narten was substituted for Hay. Tallies added by Hodge and Dutcher ended the game with Williams the victor—39 to 16.

The summary follows:
Williams N. Y. U.
Freeman, Dempsey 11; Helfont, C. McLaughlin
Hodge 16; Kearny 10

SPRINGFIELD WINS

N.E.I.C.A.A. Games Again to Be Contested on Pratt Field

Springfield was selected for the third time as the place of the New England track and field championships at a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association in Boston Saturday.

If the management is not able to reduce the expenses of the meet, especially the charge for the use of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College Field, it is very likely that a change will be made in the near future to Technology Field, Brookline. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology made a determined effort at the meeting to have the games held at Brookline but it is believed that the arrangements at Springfield will prove satisfactory.

Frank H. Bigelow of Worcester, a former Harvard track captain, who for several years managed the meet when held in Worcester, was selected to referee this year's games. Standard hurdles weighing 40 ounces were adopted as official.

UNANIMOUS VOTE GIVES CAPTAINCY TO K. H. HODGE

Star Individual Play Marks Work of Forward Who Will Lead 1914 Five

Karl Hofmann Hodge 1914 of St. Louis, Mo., was unanimously chosen captain of basketball for the 1914 season at a meeting of the team held in the locker room after the N. Y. U. game. For the past three seasons he has proved himself a star forward. His brilliant individual playing has been a dependable factor in the successes of the Williams five.

KARL HOFMANN HODGE, 1914

Hodge prepared for Williams at the Stamford Preparatory School, where he played on the baseball and football teams and for two years captained the basketball team. Entering Williams with the class of 1914, he twice won "W second" insignia in baseball and pitched on the champion sophomore nine last spring.

IOTA OF PHI GAMMA DELTA REESTABLISHED

A. Z. A. GRANTED CHARTER

22 Chapters Represented at Installation Banquet on Saturday Evening

The Alpha Zeta Alpha Society of Williams College was invested with a charter last Saturday evening as Iota Chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. This act took the form of the re-establishment of the chapter bearing the same name which was founded here in 1880 but which withdrew from the national organization in the following year. The Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity was founded at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa. in 1848. Sixteen colleges were included in its roll at the time of the opening of the Civil War. Throughout its history, this fraternity has maintained a policy of expansion, and, including the reorganized Iota Chapter, the total number is fifty-nine.

As a local society in Williams, Alpha Zeta Alpha has been in existence since 1903, and has had a total alumni membership of 111. Its entire undergraduate enrollment of twenty-six members together with twenty-two alumni members received the initiation into their new affiliation. Forty-five members of the national fraternity, representing 22 colleges, attended the installation, and among these were the following national officers: O. H. Cheney of New York City, president; Dr. Wilmer Christian of Indianapolis, treasurer; Thomas L. Pogue of Cincinnati, secretary; Harry B. Wassell of Pittsburgh, layarchon; C. C. Chambers of Madison, Wis., national field secretary.

Following the ceremonies of installation, the delegates and newly-elected members, the total numbering about one hundred, adjourned to the Commons for the initiation banquet. The many congratulatory messages received by the local chapter included telegrams from Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall and Ex-Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks.

BROTHERS GIVE CONCERT

Edouard and Gaston Dethier on Organ and Violin

An organ and violin recital by Edouard and Gaston Dethier will be the fifth entertainment of the Thompson Course next Thursday evening in Grace Hall. Fifteen years ago Gaston M. Dethier, who is a native of Belgium, was induced to come to America and to accept the position of organist at the St. Francis Xavier Church of New York City. After about ten years of service he resigned from this place and has since acted as organ teacher in the Institute of Musical Art, New York City under the direction of Frank Damrosch. Edouard Dethier, who came to America more recently than his brother, has devoted himself chiefly to private concerts throughout the East. Combined concerts by the two brothers are unusual; but with Gaston at the organ accompanied by Edouard on the violin, an excellent entertainment is assured.

SWIMMERS LOSE TO BROWN IN POOL AT PROVIDENCE

200-yard Relay Race Decided By Narrowest of Margins—Other Events Exciting

Brown easily defeated the varsity swimming team Saturday evening in the Colgate-Hoyt swimming pool at Providence, R. I. by the score of 46-16. Despite an unequal score the meet was interesting, and several events were won by inches. The 200-yard relay race was the most exciting event of the meet. Tompkins gained a lead of three yards over Harris which Hubbell '13 and Hubbell '15 slightly increased. Dana and Smith swam an even race, and although the latter gained the rail first, according to the decision of the judges, the timers found no difference on the time made by both teams. Duke gained second place in the fancy diving contest. McLaughlin defeated Eyre in the 220-yard swim by five yards, and Hubbell '15 won from his opponent by 25 yards. Hubbell '13 and Tompkins '16 were tied for second place in the 25-yard dash, Smith of Brown gaining first. Prince missed first place in the plunge for distance by the narrow margin of three inches. In the 100-yard dash Eyre gained third place.

The line up and summary follow:
200-yard relay race—won by Brown (Harris, Hull, Scherer, and Smith); Williams team (Tompkins, J. P. Hubbell, G. L. Hubbell, and Dana). Time 1 minute, 58 3-5 seconds.

Diving contest—Won by Smith (B), 124.8 points; second, Duke (W), 118.2 points; third, Brakett (B), 107.2 points.

200-yard swim—Won by McLaughlin (B); second, Eyre (W); third, G. L. Hubbell. Time, 2 minutes, 56 1-5 seconds.

25-yard dash—Won by Smith (B); second, J. P. Hubbell and Tompkins (W). Time, 12 2-5 seconds.

Plunge for distance—Won by Goldberg (B), 57 feet, 6 inches; second, Prince (W), 57 feet, 3 inches; third, Harecourt (B), 57 feet.

TWO 5-2 VICTORIES SCORED

Yale Defeats S. T. S., but Both Lose to Purple—Clean Slate for Reed '16

In the triangular fencing meet held at Springfield last Saturday evening, the Williams team administered decisive defeats to the Yale and S. T. S. trios. Both matches in which Williams participated went to the Purple by the score of five bouts to two, while the first contest of the evening between Yale and S. T. S. resulted in a five to one victory for the former. Reed of Williams, who won four bouts and lost none was the only man of the three teams to escape with a clean record, and Captain Swift, who also fenced well for Williams, captured five bouts and allowed his opponents but one. Downey and Miller performed creditably for Yale, both securing the favorable end of a three to one score. The team which represented Yale was composed of two freshmen and one second team man, owing to the engagement of the varsity in the intercollegiate preliminaries which were held Saturday in New York City. Schroeder '12 of S. T. S. acted as referee.

Following is the summary:

First round—F. Downey (Y) defeated Brinkman (S), 5 to 1; Miller (Y) defeated Stokes (S), 5 to 2; Daniels (Y) defeated Eadie (S), 5 to 4; Miller (Y) defeated Brinkman (S), 5 to 1; Stokes (S) defeated Daniels (Y), 5 to 3; Downey (Y) defeated Eadie (S), 5 to 2. Score, Yale 5, Springfield 1.

Second round—Swift (W) defeated Downey (Y), 5 to 4; Reed (W) defeated Miller (Y), 5 to 4; Mackay (W) defeated Daniels (Y), 5 to 2; Miller (Y) defeated Swift (W), 5 to 3; Reed (W) defeated Daniels (Y), 5 to 2; Downey (Y) defeated McKay (W), 5 to 2; Swift (W) defeated Daniels (Y), 5 to 1. Score, Williams 5, Yale 2.

Third round—Swift (W) defeated Brinkman (S), 5 to 2; Reed (W) defeated Stokes (S), 5 to 2; Eadie (S) defeated Field (W), 5 to 3; Swift (W) defeated Stokes (S), 5 to 3; Reed (W) defeated Stokes (S), 5 to 2; Brinkman (S) defeated McKay (W), 5 to 4; Swift (W) defeated Eadie (S), 5 to 2. Score, Williams 5, Springfield 2.

Triple Tie in League A

A shake-up in standings resulted from last Saturday's games in the intramural league. The defeat of the Commons by Zeta Psi 19-13, and the victory of Delta Upsilon over Delta Psi by the score of 12-8 resulted in a triple tie for first place in League A between the Commons, Delta Upsilon, and Sigma Phi. In League B, Phi Delta Theta beat McCoy's 28-6, and Kappa Alpha lost to Chi Psi 16-10. Phi Sigma Kappa defeated the Cosmo in League C 8-3, in a contest limited to one-half on account of the Lehman meet. Delta Delta won from Theta Delta Chi by the close score of 13-12, thereby changing places with its opponents in the standing.

The games scheduled through the week follow:

Monday: 4.30 p. m. League C, Cosmo vs. Psi Omega; League B, McCoy's vs. Prindle's.

Tuesday: 4.30 p. m. League A, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Zeta Psi; League B, McCoy's vs. Chi Psi.

Wednesday: 4.30 p. m. League A, Delta Psi vs. Zeta Psi; League C, Delta Delta vs. Psi Omega.

Where Do We Stand?

It is safe to say that the American college man of today does not worry himself to death over the spiritual welfare of his nature, as such. Realistic ideals, expressed in practical terms, appeal to him much more than abstract ideals, whose application to real life may seem vague. In Dr. Black's sermon yesterday morning he set forth in a forceful manner the highly practical nature of this connection between spiritual growth and outer well-being.
We are glad of the opportunity to emphasize this application for it is of fundamental significance. "Unconscious loss of power" results from the weakening of character, from the lowering of ideals, from an over-development of the theory of self-dependence. In college today little advertisement is given of the opportunities offered for the up-building of the spiritual life. No class prayer meetings are held by the Christian Association and Bible classes are not looked upon as groups for thoughtful meditation. This does not necessarily mean that college men have lost their spiritual natures and it may signify a highly creditable desire on their part to keep the field of character development outside the realm of extra-curriculum activities,—to free it from the possible influence of hypocrisy. At any rate, whether it be the Christian Association as an organization or the undergraduate as an individual, let us take stock occasionally, let us consider whether we are on the up or the down grade of spiritual growth,—for in this essential it is difficult to maintain a status quo.

Two Classes

Two extreme theories may be entertained as to the failure of freshmen in enricument work,—one places the blame upon the instructor for his failure to correctly diagnose the individual case concerned and apply the proper remedy; the other places the blame upon the undergraduate, for his lack of interest in the subject, for his inability to handle the task before him, or for his general attitude of blasé indifference. The remedy which was mentioned by Dr. Garfield at the Philadelphia alumni banquet and which is under consideration by the Faculty apparently aims to satisfactorily dispose of those cases which would naturally group themselves under this first theory. The plan of making a special division for those freshmen who are handicapped by poor preparation and of giving them every opportunity afforded by adequate instruction to successfully master the subject, should be of material benefit to "men of earnest purpose without unusual native powers". This plan, we believe, will accomplish little for those whose cases may be considered under the second theory. This second class needs inspiration rather than training and it is difficult to see how they can receive it in connection with those who merely need more opportunity for routine discipline.

This class is also, we believe, of considerable numerical strength, for the "intellectually one-sided man who at least loafs discriminatingly" is often taken at first sight for the "man who loafs because he chooses to loaf and who does not propose to change his occupation."

RULES INTERPRETED FOR CANE CONTEST

"I SHOULD WORRY"

Senior Committee Makes Following Explanations to Avoid Misunderstanding

In order to clear up any misunderstanding regarding the rules in operation for the coming cane contest, the senior committee, at the request of interested parties, makes the following interpretations of rules not clearly understood at present.

1. Can the canes be brought in at 5 p. m. on the day of the contest? If so can they be taken away from the freshmen before eleven o'clock? Is fighting allowed within the inner limits?

If the canes are brought in at any time between five and eleven o'clock, they must be held by the freshmen until eleven o'clock, at which time the contest is officially over. Fighting is allowed within the limits up to eleven o'clock, except in college buildings as noted in the rules.

2. Can a man who is caught outside the limits be held a prisoner when brought within these limits?

As regards holding a person prisoner when within the inner limits, the rules state that a prisoner is declared free as soon as he makes his way or is brought within the inner limits. This is interpreted to mean that a prisoner being carried through the inner limits automatically becomes free on passing therein.

3. Can the canes be brought any part of the distance otherwise than on foot?

Precedent allows the canes to be brought part of the distance in a vehicle but the committee's interpretation of the rule holds that they must be brought in, at least from the outer limits, on foot.

4. What is the rule of binding prisoners, provided guards are left with the man?

This rule is originally incorporated in accordance with faculty action and forbids binding or shackling in any case.

5. Can rule 12 forbidding fire fights previous to the cane contest be so interpreted as to forbid organized freshmen groups from treating lone sophomore pickets with unnecessary roughness?

The committee holds that inasmuch as electric flash lights of the sophomore pickets cannot be construed as fires, the mere rudeness to a picket does not constitute a fire fight and that therefore the rule can in no way be interpreted to prevent the freshmen from going as far as they like.

6. Is the freshman class allowed under the rules to bring in folding canes?

Although folding canes may be allowed, it is understood that such canes must be brought in extended to their full length, which length shall be at least 35 inches.

Conditions in Lower New York

Newton '14 delivered an interesting talk Monday in Jesup Hall on the subject, "Social Conditions in New York". He described accurately the terrible conditions in New York's tenement district, and explained that the low morals of people living in these sections were due to the crowded and unsanitary environments under which they live. With drunkards and thieves setting the example for the children, it is not strange that the young unfortunates quickly strike the downward path.

"Lit." Poems to Be Recognized

All contributions in the contest for the silver cup offered by a member of the class of 1882 for the best poem submitted in competition by any undergraduate in college must have been previously unpublished except that they may have appeared in the Williams Literary Monthly during the present academic year.

COLLEGE HALL—PAST AND PRESENT

FOUR DAY EASTER TRIP

Tickets on Sale for Vacation Concerts of Musical Clubs

Four concerts have been arranged for the Easter vacation trip of the Combined Musical Clubs. The first appearance will be on Wednesday evening, March 19, at 8.15 o'clock in the Columbus Institute, Poughkeepsie. On Thursday, the clubs will play in the Montclair Club Hall, Montclair N. J. at 8.15, and on the following evening they will appear at the same time in the Good Citizenship League Building in Flushing, N. Y. The final concert will be given Saturday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Plaza Hotel, New York City. Dates will be held after each of the concerts on the trip. Tickets for any of the four performances may be obtained from the managership candidates.

Civic League Trip, April 10-11

The dates for the trip of the Intercollegiate Civic League have been definitely settled as April 10 and 11. The luncheon and business meeting will be held at Columbia University, and dinner at the McAlpine Hotel, New York. The following men have been invited to speak: President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale University, Rev. Carl Reiland, and William McCombs. The clubs will leave for Washington Thursday night and spend Friday in that city. It is possible for any member of the G. G. C. to take this trip, using only Thursday and Friday cuts.

Council Awards Insignia

At a meeting held in Jesup Hall yesterday afternoon, the Athletic Council ratified the tennis, golf, and fencing schedules as printed in the issue of the Record for February 27, and awarded the following insignia: "aWa" to the varsity relay team—Boynton, Dewey, Lyman '13, Moffat '14, Brodie, Rising '15; "bWb" to Dana, Freeman, Narten, Page, Victor '13, E. C. Lincoln '14, Dempsey, Hodge, Lefferts '15, Hay '16; "hWt" to Jones, Michael '13, Curtis, Gillette, C. W. Lester, Moody, Rogers '14, Cutler, MacNamee, Swain '15, Conklin, Cutler '16; class numerals to the sophomore basketball team—A. H. Catheart, Deely, Dempsey, Hay, Langford, Patterson, N. Williams.

Spirited Secret Session

After searching gallery and ante-rooms for possible spies, and with doors locked and guarded, the freshman class assembled Tuesday night in Jesup Hall. Stirring speeches of sterling quality brought forth rounds of applause and, when the prospective warriors sallied forth from the opened portals in groups of twos and threes the face of every man bore that "do or die" expression which betokens success.

Hinkle Bill on Table

At the Loggia-Technian meeting Monday evening, the Hinkle Bill, requiring three readings for all bills submitted, was laid on the table because of the lack of a quorum present. The names of members who completed their courses at mid-years were ordered to be stricken from the roll.

CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT OPENS IN NORTH ADAMS

Civic Organizations Aided by G. G. C. in Gathering Data—Students to Usher

The work of collecting statistics and data for the Child Welfare exhibit, to be given in Odd Fellows Hall, North Adams, beginning today and lasting through March 19, is practically completed. The exhibit, which will consist of illustrations, diagrams, living exhibits, statistics and speeches, is in the hands of the civic organizations of North Adams and the G. G. C., and members of the latter society have offered their services as guides. Together with members of the Normal school they will point out and explain the main points of interest. Several of the G. G. C. committees have carried on active investigations and have aided in placing the screens for the exhibits.

Under Nathan '13, the factory committee has inspected almost all the mills throughout this district, paying particular attention to the child labor question. It found the conditions in all except the cotton mills to be good. In the case of the cotton workers, however, the labor is very disagreeable and the children in the factories are badly handled.

The committee on theaters, in charge of Johnson '14, has made investigations in regard to the number of children attending the moving picture shows, the moral character of the pictures, and the conditions in the theaters. They have discovered nothing harmful in the moving picture and vaudeville shows. In the theaters the ventilation, and the order maintained is unusually good.

Stevens '14, chairman of the pool room committee will present a report concerning the effect of such resorts upon the morals of minors. This report, however, will be incomplete as the committee has not finished its investigations. They will continue in their work after the exhibit.

Triangular Meet with Amherst and Brown to Close Season

The varsity swimming team will close the present season with a triangular meet against Amherst and Brown in the Pratt Natatorium, Amherst at 8.00 o'clock on Saturday evening. From comparative scores and from the result of the Amherst-Brown and the Williams-Brown meets it would seem as though the Brononians were decidedly superior, although Williams should prove a close second.

The team will leave Williamstown on the 11.14 train Saturday morning, and will return late Sunday afternoon. Eleven men including assistant manager Headley are to make the trip. The entries for the Purple are: relay—Tomkins '16, Hubbell '13, Hubbell '15 and Dana '13; 25-yard dash—Dana, Hubbell '13, Tomkins '16; 50-yard dash—Dana, Fowler '13, Tomkins '16; 100-yard swim—Eyre '13, Hubbell '15; 220-yard swim—Eyre '13, McManus '14, Hubbell '15; 440-yard swim—Eyre '13; Diving—Dake '13, Clark '16; Plunge—Prince '14.

Buy Tickets Tomorrow

Tickets for the special train, which it is hoped will be run from New York to Williamstown at the end of the Easter recess, will be on sale in the managers' office in Jesup Hall tomorrow from 1 to 2 p. m. As previously announced the train will leave the Grand Central Depot at about midnight Wednesday, March 26, and will arrive in Williamstown in time for chapel Thursday morning. The regular railroad fare of four dollars will be charged and the price for lower and upper berths is two dollars and one dollar and sixty cents, respectively. It is urged that men buy their tickets tomorrow without fail as one hundred tickets must be sold in order to secure the special train.

Competition Extended

Owing to the small number of men who have signified their intention of entering the competition for the position of assistant track manager, Manager Mygatt has extended the time for entering the competition to Monday evening. An important meeting of the competitors will be held in the Managers' office in Jesup Hall at 5.30 Monday afternoon. To date the following sophomores have entered the competition: Debevoise, Dempsey, Crane, B. P. Eaton, H. T. Pratt, and B. M. Smith.

Phil. Union Meets Tomorrow

Prof. T. C. Smith will speak at a meeting of the Philosophical Union, to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Common Room, on "The Psychology of the Williamstown Musical Audience". Whittlesey '13 will illustrate the talk by playing selections of different kinds of music, including pieces of popular music and extracts from the works of a number of the great composers.

DETHIER BROTHERS IN JOINT RECITAL CONCERT IN GRACE HALL

Organ and Violin Selections Compose Program for Thompson Course Tonight

In the fifth Thompson Course entertainment of the present season, Edouard and Gaston Dethier will render a joint organ and violin recital this evening at 8.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. The brothers are natives of Belgium and both had acquired distinct success in Europe before coming to this country.

Gaston M. Dethier the elder of the brothers, came to America fifteen years ago to take the position of organist at the St. Francis Xavier Church of New York City. He met with immediate and marked success in his new position and press comments on his work have been most favorable. Five years ago he resigned from this place and has since acted as organ teacher in the Institute of Musical Art, New York City, under the direction of Frank Damrosch. Edouard Dethier, who came to this country more recently than his brother, has become very well known among musicians of the East for the excellent quality and extreme depth of feeling expressed in his playing. His work in America has consisted chiefly of private concerts throughout the Eastern section of the country.

The program follows:

Organ solo—prelude	Gaston M. Dethier
Prelude and Allegro	Pugnani-Kreiser
Adagio, from
Violin Concerto in G minor	Max Bruch
Spanish Dance	Sarasate
Theme, Variations and Finale	Thiele
Reverie	Vicentemps
La Chasse	Cartier-Kreiser
Humoresque	Tor-Aulin
Russian Airs	Wieniowski
Scherzo	Gaston M. Dethier

Five Teams Fight It Out

Further complications in League A were brought about by the intramural basketball games played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, whereby five teams are now tied for the championship of the League with three games won and two lost, each. The results of the individual contests were: League A, Delta Kappa Epsilon 14—Zeta Psi 7, Zeta Psi 35—Delta Psi 3; League B, McCoy's 10—Prindle's 4, Chi Psi 22—McCoy's 10; League C, Psi Omega 14—Cosmo 9, Delta Delta 14—Psi Omega 0.

In order to play off the disputed positions in League A, the following schedule was arranged by lot. At 12.30 o'clock sharp this noon, the Commons were to meet Sigma Phi, and at 4.30 this afternoon Delta Upsilon will oppose Zeta Psi. The winner of the Commons-Sigma Phi contest is to play Delta Kappa Epsilon at 12.30 o'clock tomorrow noon, and the victorious five will play the final game in the league with the winner of the Delta Upsilon—Zeta Psi game at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It is imperative that all of these games be played immediately as scheduled, in order to decide the championship next week.

Senior Smoker—A Mystery

Thus far the senior smoker committee, composed of M. H. Smith (chairman), Banks, Dickinson, Heywood, and Vary, has successfully evaded all inquiries as to the nature of the entertainment to be given next Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall. The refreshments planned are to be slightly more elaborate than in the past, and each person will receive a practical souvenir of the evening's entertainment. Several of the Faculty have consented to speak between the numbers. The committee requests that each senior bring the tax of one dollar.

Vol. 28 MARCH 13, 1913 No. 89

At the meeting of the Board this afternoon in the Press Room, at least one man will be elected to the editorial staff from among the following five freshman candidates remaining in the competition:
Angevene, Griffin, Haight, Kennedy, Wood.

The 1913 Board retires from office with the publication of this issue. Hereafter, the management of the Record will be in the hands of the 1914 Board. The retiring editors will be succeeded by James Phinney Baxter, 3rd, Editor-in-Chief, and William Ozmun Wyckoff, Managing Editor. Walter E. Johnson will succeed to the Business Managership.

Trusteeship Transferred

Journalism is both fascinating and relentless. As a science it has an irresistible enchantment for the initiated. As a business, with all the severity of its demands, it is none the less alluring. College journalism gives opportunity for the study of the science and requires the management of a business. It is the fascinating nature of the subject in both abstract and concrete forms which causes each Record board to regret its day of departure. It is over freedom from inclusive responsibility and incessant demands of time and energy that all editors rejoice.

Each board benefits by the experience of its predecessors, acquires by investigation and practice some new insight into the principles which govern the science, and attempts to apply this knowledge for the good of the public service which the paper gives. Different boards with various powers of analysis, with various temperaments, and confronted by ever-changing circumstances effect improvements in different ways, some spectacular, some unperceived, but all actuated by similar motives and of equal significance.

The 1913 board has attempted to improve the administrative efficiency of its organization and thereby to permit an increase in the value of the news service.
It has attempted to lay the foundations of an organization which can be further systematized and perfected. In the process of laying these foundations the business at hand has been subordinated to the work of installing the system.

To the 1914 board is delegated the task of applying the principles of the system in the interests of more practical results, of further developing the plan of organization, and of achieving success in whatever direction its genius may guide. We have full confidence in the ability of the new board and in turning over to it the trusteeship of the Record, we turn over also the responsibility for maintaining in these columns a judicial position.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must
in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Sir:

Permit me to extend to you and to your associates of the 1913 Board, my heartiest congratulations on the success of the first volume of the tri-weekly Record.
To a recent graduate, hungry for news of Williams, the increased frequency of publication has helped to prevent Gil-christian starvation.

Publishing three times a week as you have, in a print shop twenty miles distant from your editorial rooms, you have accomplished a task nowhere equalled in the field of college journalism. You have improved an office system which was once considered perfect. You have established truer balance between work and the visible results of work.

I am

Very truly yours,

J. Ernest King, 1912

College Men as a Reserve

In order to increase the number of men who have had naval training and experience, thus enlarging the reserve available for the navy in time of emergency, the Navy Department will arrange with the authorities of educational institutions for a limited number of men to receive instructions and training on board vessels of the fleet during the summer months.

Students who have completed two years of technical or college course and recommended by proper authorities will be assigned in full commission to battleships and armored cruisers, of the fleet, not more than twenty men to a vessel, for a training period of about two months' duration. The men will not be enlisted, but will be under the charge of one of the senior line officers, and subject to the rules and regulations of the navy and the ship.

As far as possible, the training will be practical and embrace every opportunity for experience in the line of the student's educational course. Until funds have been appropriated for naval reserve purposes, all expenses incident to the training must be borne by the student. The cost of equipment amounts to about twenty-two dollars and maintenance will be forty cents a day. The authorities of educational institutions are requested to address all communications in this matter to the Bureau of Navigation.

Second Trials for Prize Orators

This afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, the eleven seniors who are competing in the Van Vechten extemporaneous prize speaking contest will deliver their orations in 6 Hopkins Hall. This is the second of the series of five trials, and as usual each candidate will be required to speak at least seven minutes. The public is invited to attend.

Self Interest vs. Competition

"Free Competition" was the subject of an interesting paper read by Mr. Wright before a meeting of the Perry Economics Club in Jesup Hall last Monday evening. The speaker repudiated the dogmatic stand taken by the orthodox school of economists, that competition is the basis and norm of economics as a science. On the contrary, the speaker claimed that the fundamental basis of human actions and economic relations is self-interest. Mr. Wright further stated his belief that many of the accepted ethical virtues such as loyalty, patriotism, etc., had their origin in the self-interest of individuals combining in groups for the benefit of their group interest. These virtues, however, have been dissociated from the grosser motive and have been made to assume an independent position. By assuming self-interest as the basis for an economic science, the different economic growths and developments in the nature of corporations, trusts, holding companies, monopolies and the like, which are considered by some economists as abnormal, can be understood in their proper relations.

A lively discussion followed the reading of this paper, in which Prof. Droppers took the stand that the above virtues were inherent in human beings and had more or less of a spontaneous origin.
